

Dry Goods,	Our Brass and Composition Castings are	worthy a trial, being noted throughout the	fastened over the wounded part of the	they are helping these bright young-	are so dense. If the foreign lady	ways demanded in classes above the	White is the Chinese hue of mourn- ing. It does not stay white long,
Ready Made Clothing.	I Country. All work personally supervi	ised. Satisfaction guaranteed. Send here. Mill Supplies, Fittings, Pipe,	foot, then the dog shoe, which is like a long mitten, without the thumb, is	sters on in the world is pay enough.	wishes to speak she can, but if we question them as to the meaning of	very lowest, and a girl who has no	ing. It does not stay white long,
Gents' Furnishings,	etc., in stock	k and to order.	drawn on the foot and goomealy factor	THE SAGACIOUS RAT.	what we have said, they reply: 'I am	money has little chance of honorable	dated a Chinese mourner looks the
Hats, Caps,	Our Marine Slip has a Capacity	'S and other Crafts built to Order city for Vessels up to 100 Tons.	ed with a piece of deerskin.	One day a well-fed and sagacious rat	unable to understand,' and laugh at	marriage, but will have to be taken	greater is the respect implied to the
Boots, Shoes, &c., &c.	Repairs effected w	vith quick dispatch.	The dogs get to be very fond of these shoes, and sometimes resort to queer	came across an object made of stout		as an "inferior wife" in a polygamous
Also a choice lot of			expedients to get them on. They will	wires, whose sole occupation seemed to	women can understand."	fashion.	ones leave their heads unshaven until they attain a remarkable degree of
GROCERIES AND PROVISION			sometimes pretend to be very footsore;	be to take care of a liberal piece of		graded, the natural affection of a
GROCERIES AND PROVISION	>		and if the night be especially cold at	cheese. Having had several years' ex- perience with men and their machina-		man of good feelings for his wife,	/
D Managan	Dainty Aila Varnie	ahas and Handwana	the camp, they will howl and whine for them in a way that is pathetic, though			and the influence of personal char-	Smallpox is almost universal. No	1
R. Flanagan	Paints, Oils, Varnis	shes and Hardware	at times very laughable. Mr. Evana'	with great care, and he was still en-	that the small feet are a result of it,	actor in some women, results in a	precautions are taken against its spread. When a child is taken ill
	1 / /		famous train of half dogs, half wolves,	gaged in this occupation when a mouse	and the natural consequence of both	duratent state of affairs practically.	with the disease he is carefully tended
ST. JOHN STREET, CHATHAM			would lie down on their backs, and, holding up their four feet, would howl	appeared and wanted to know what was	causes is the stupidity. The Chin-	filling trans shalls af affect i	until he has blossomed out, as the Chi-
	- Ready-Mixed Paints, all sha	des, including the Celebrated	for him or Henry, his native Indian	"Why, the fact is," replied the rat, "I	ese Government made an official ap- pointment of Pung Kwang Yu to give	households is well illuste ted by it	nese term has it, when he is allowed
-	Worthonand	1 Waterproof	helper, to put on their shoes. Other	have more chees here than I can pos-	discourse on Confusionism to the	present position of the Lmperor and	to go out in the street and play with missionaries have had their dogs do the same thing.	sibly eat at one meal, and as cheese quickly spoils in this climate I was	Chicago World's Fair Congress in	Dowager Empress. In nearly all	granta' hat every one must have Vnootoolog	THE BEST	EVER MADE.	same thing.	waiting for someone to come along and	1893, on religion. The mandarin re-	Chinese families the ruling power is	smallpox; the sooner the better.
	School Blackboard Paint.		ETIQUETTE AMONG CHINESE.	accept a portion."	ferred considerably to the views tak-	really in the hands of some women,	On all sides one comes across blind
	Gloss Carriage Paint, requires no	Varnishing.	According to the laws of good so-		en of the women in China under that	whose decisions with regard to do- mestic matters at any rate are	people. Blindness is mainly the
	Graining Colors, all kinds. Graining Combs, Dry Colors, all	shadaa	city in China young widows should	the mouse. "Don't mention it. Just step inside	religion, which is the State and the leading faith, though "Buddhism" and	final." And another says that it is	result of smallpox, and is so common
	Gold Leaf, Gold Bronze, Gold Pa		not remarry. Widowhood is therefore held in the highest esteem, and the	and pass the cheese out, will you ?"	"Taoism" are also forms of religion	useless to convert the men alone, as	as hardly to be regarded as an afflic-
The undermentioned advantages a		Mahogany, Rosewood, Floor Paints	older the widow, the more agreeable	The mouse no sooner nibbled at the	followed by many Chinese. Confuc-	in that case idol worship will continue	tion. No provision is made for the claimed for MacKenzie's spectacles	. Weather and Waterproof.		her position becomes. Should she	bait than there was a crash, and he found himself trapped.	Accuracy of the store the store is a	in the house just the same; and it is	blind in the shape of homes or hos- pitals. Many of them wander about
Ist-That from the peculiar construction of the Glasses they Assist and Preserve the			reach 50 years, she may, by applying to the Emperor, get a sum of money	"Ah, that's the way it works, is it ?"		no good to day the converted maspand	as travelling musicians, sometimes sight, rendering frequent changes u		Oil, Pure.	with which to buy a tablet, on which	queried the rat. "I couldn't just make		why he does not put a stop to it. All	singly, sometimes in small bands.
accessary. and—That they confer a brilliancy as		nd Colored Paints.	her virtues are named, the tablet be-	it out. Um ! I see. Spring there some-		the writers are agreed as to the in- tense poverty of the majority of the	Our travelling restaurants have distinctness of vision, with an amount	1 hbl Machine Oil Extra Good		ing placed over the door at the prin-	where. Very good idea." "But I'm caught !" exclaimed the	learn anything except from the male		been anticipated many years by the
Ease and Comfort not hitherto enjoyed is spectacle wearers.	· Ready-Mixed Metanic Rooning, a		cipal entrance to her house. Contrary to the practice that pre-	mouse, in great agitation.	head of their own family, and only	er know what it is to have a full,	Chinese purveyor of food, who carries
3rd-That the material from which th		allic Roofing, 92 per cent. Iron.	vails in other countries, the deference	"So I observe."	what he pleases; and the mandarin	satisfying meal from one year's end	his table on one end of a pole, balanc-
Lenses are ground is manufactured espe ially for optical purposes, by DR. CHARL		e, Copal, Demar, Furniture Hard Oil	shown to women in Austria increases	"And what's to be done ?"	stated that the main cause for the		ed by his stove and cooking utensils on the other. With his dough,
BARDOU's improved patent method, and Pure. Hard and Brilliant and not liable	Finish Daw Shallon Duing	se, ospen, norman, nurmane mara Oli	with age. No Austrian would ever dream of receiving a lady's extended	"Well, I leave that for you to decide. I let you in on the ground floor, and my		fy the sad position of Chinese modi-	his hashed vegetables and a little oil become scratched.	Jointers' and Machinists' Tools, a		hand without bowing to kiss it. Chil-	responsibilities cease there. Fine day.	believe in Ohristianity apart from,	are the natural love of a father for	and salt, he roasts, fries, bakes, broils
4th-That the frames in which they a		terials in Locks, Knobs, Hinges, etc.	dren, even when grown, always touch	Hope we shall have a large harvest."	and independent of, their husbands.	his shild sman if it he a dounised might	or toasts quite a surprising number set, whether in Gold, Silver or Steel, a of the finest quality and finish, and gua			the hands of their parents with their	There is a good moral to this anec- dote. Think it out.	"In China," he said, "the responsibi-	and the great respect paid by all	of dishes and their taste would be more anteed perfect in every respect.	7 F 17 111' NT '1	ing raper.	lips before venturing to raise their faces for a kiss. Girls and young mar-		lity of educating the women rests	Chinese to their ancestors, in which	Surprising than their number to an
The long evenings are here and you w want a pair of good glasses, so come the Medical Hall and be properly fitted			ried women, no matter how lofty their	OHINESE FISHERMEN.	with the head of each family; the primary object is to preserve female	the female parent has some share. A
		15 Boxes Horse Nails.	station, do not consider it beneath		modesty. If such a practice as giv-	esting account of the care that Chin-	Even the confectioner is a wander-
J. D. B. F. MACKENZIE.	10 Tons Refined Iron.		their dignity to kiss the hands of la-	In this country the fisherman is a man who uses hook or line or the net	ing religious instruction directly to	ese sons sometimes bestow on afflict-	er. He carries a bowl or jar of mixed taffy and a number of straws in a box.
Chatham, N.B., Sept. 24, 1898.	Cast Steel, Bellows, Chain, Nuts,	Bolts, Washers, Grindstones, Grind-	dies who have attained a certain age. Austria, indeed, is the paradise of old	in following his profession and folks	women and girls is allowed it will	ed mothers. In one case an old lady	the winds up a little of the liquid taffy
	-		ladies. The men are also extremely	would stare with wonder to see him	have the effect of driving away from	was operated on by the ductor for	on the and all a star wand blave it all es Wringers, Daisy Churns,		start off with a flock of birds to	the Christians all those who value	cataract in the eye. She was dread-	of the bijie of a Brandbard of allos the
.Insurance	Cart and Waggon Axles, Cow	Bells, Wire Screen Doors, Window	cach other. The Arabs show their friendliness	help in catching fish. Yet this is	filial piety, truth, probity, rectitude, and sincerity, or who have any sense	her sons actually carried her to the	shape of birds and animals.
insulation	Screens, Green Wove Wire, Barl	bed Wire Fencing, Counter Scales	when meeting by shaking hands six	may be seen in his sampan sur-	of shame!"	hospital and back home again three	The Chinese early discovered that
	Weigh Beams, Steelyards, Carpet S	Sweepers, Blasting Powder and Fuse,	on eight times : Amaka of manta and the	rounded by cormorants which have	To make Christian hearers under-	times before she finally went through	there is less friction caused by one
SCOTTISH UNION AND	and Double Barrel Breach Loading	. To arrive from Belgium 35 Single	yond this and embrace each other sev- eral times. The social etiquette of		atand the impossibility of Chinese WO-	it. Then, for three weeks, during	wheel than two, and that a one-wheel-
NATIONAL,	and Deuter Durier Deuter	o uno.	the desert, or among the Arabs, is a		men having any independent thoughts or actions, Pung Kwang further in-	which her eye was still under treat-	ed cart runs easier on a bad road than
IMPERIAL,				them to the boat. Should a cormor-	for actions, Fully it wants that the	ment, they hever both for at	a cho-macorea veraiere, and on chas ac-
	Barber's Toilet Clippers, Horse C	lippers, Lawn Shears, Accordions,	factor in life to be considered serious-		I was in was in an law and	once, one of them staying in the	count the wheelbarrow came into re-
LONDON & LANCASHIRE,		lippers, Lawn Shears, Accordions, s and Fixings.	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them	ant capture a fish too large for it	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per-	darkened room in attendance on her	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal, In LONDON & LANCASHIRE, LANCASHIRE.	Violins, Bows	s and Fixings.	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater	ant capture a fish too large for it	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per-	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly.	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal, In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to LONDON & LANCASHIRE,	Violins, Bows	s and fixings. DIS, All Kinds.	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly include as the uniform	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- ar they will bring it in	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly.	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION,	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr	s and Fixings.	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility,	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS.	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON.	Violins, Bows Farming Toc Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers.	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds. nife Heads, Mower Section Guards,	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence bit.	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS.	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan-
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION,	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention.	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the weifare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes,	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home.	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHÆNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER.	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in	s and fixings. DIS, All Kinds. nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and our line, will save measure by colling	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- icrly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHÆNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER.	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a	s and fixings. DIS, All Kinds. nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and our line, will save measure by colling	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex-	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHÆNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER.	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling.	s and fixings. DIS, All Kinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- icrly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow.
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHÆNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. MIRS. JAS. G. Miller	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling.	s and fixings. DIS, All Kinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the weifare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor.	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female nerson!"	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHÆNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER.	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling.	s and fixings. DIS, All Kinds. nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and our line, will save measure by colling	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres-	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement.	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHÆNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. MIRS. JAS. G. Miller	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling.	s and fixings. DIS, All Blinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM,	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the weifare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor.	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement.	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekia one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHÆNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. MIRS. JAS. G. Miller	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA	s and Fixings. DIS, All Blinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN.	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the weifare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else.	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo-	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin.	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekia one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ATNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHENIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA	s and Fixings. DIS, All Blinds. mife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long oord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard.	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person !" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible miserv to the "protected"	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. AETNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. C. Miller WOODD COODDS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WEDO	s and Fixings. DIS, All Blinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat if We are an event to even of the first	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- ticrly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni-	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot-	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected"	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON, MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WEDO	s and Fixings. DIS, All Blinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat if We are an event to even of the first	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the weifare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device headly unreasonable if the man must	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length.
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. AETNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. C. Miller WOODD COODDS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA	s and Fixings. DIS, All Rinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat f We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the weifare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap-	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot-	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- oredible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man-who is usually a wo-	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekia one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminently a prac-
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODDS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat ? We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each little grain does a great work	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the weifare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap-	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos-	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- oredible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man-who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekia one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. C. Miller WOODD COODDS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads,	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds. nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat f We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi-	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the weifare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing,	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man-who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON, MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills.	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat ? We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each' little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- ticrly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man-who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length! The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression,
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. C. Miller WOODD COODDS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks	Violins, Bows Farming Toc Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills.	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds. nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat 9 We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- ticrly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in-	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incease to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a mildle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man-who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminontly a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Flooring	Violins, Bows Farming Toc Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills.	s and Fixings. DIS, All Rinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat ? We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and at harvest time from it had sprung	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quiries, hardly pausing to insert re- bles.	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard.	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- oredible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man-who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to gro; if homely, a beautiful	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminontly a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer-
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHENIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. C. Miller WOODD COODDS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Flooring Matched Sheathing	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills. OCOO Printing For Saw Mills ATA OPECIALTY	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat 9 We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each' little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and at harvest time from it had sprung 1.360 grains of large, fat wheat. He planted 10 acres of this wheat and har-	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quiries, hardly pausing to insert re- bles.	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard.	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so protracted and so acute, as the foot- binding of China. Mast of us know	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man-who is usually a wo- man. In' case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to go; if homely, a beautiful girl is substituted for her, and the	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekia one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer- tain end. The European invents a
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. AETNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Sheathing Dimensioned Lumber	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO- Job Printing Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills. Our Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa Stock of General Hardwa I and the stock of General Hardwa Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills. Our Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa I and Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa I and Bills. Our Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa I and Bills. Our Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa I and Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General Hardwa I and Stock of General Hardwa Market Stock of General H	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds. nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat ? We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and at harvest time from it had sprung 1,360 grains of large, fat wheat. He planted 10 acres of this wheat and har- vested 177 sacks. each weighing 188	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- ticrly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quiries, hardly pausing to insert re- plies, and ejaculating frequently, "God be praised." Then each presses the fin- ger tips which have been honored by	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fustens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard.	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so protracted and so acute, as the foot- binding of China. Most of us know	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man—who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to go; if homely, a beautiful girl is substituted for her, and the young man goes home satisfied and	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer- tain which, when it is got going,
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. AETNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHŒNIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Flooring Matched Sheathing Dimensioned Lumber	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopee, Tags, Hand Bills. OCO Printing For Saw Mills ara opeciative WE PRINT-	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat 9 We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each' little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and at harvest time from it had sprung 1.360 grains of large, fat wheat. He planted 10 acres of this wheat and har- vested 177 sacks. each weighing 138 pounds. The single grain spoken of produced 36 stalks, so you see even a	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- icrly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quiries, hardly pausing to insert re- plies, and ejaculating frequently, "God	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard. Mrs. Millions—The clergyman spoke quite bitterly of the extravagant en- tertainments given by wealthy mem-	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- oredible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so protracted and so acute, as the foot- binding of China. Most of us know the misery of an occasional tight boot; think of the poor little girls whose	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a mildle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man—who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the mildle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to go; if homely, a beautiful girl is substituted for her, and the young man goes home satisfied and harny. The middle man in the mean-	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length! The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer- tain end. The European invents a machine which, when it is got going, accomplishes the work. The Orien-
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHENIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. C. Miller WOODD COODDS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Flooring Matched Sheathing	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing For Saw Mills Ara opecial ty WE PRINT- ON WOOD, LINEN, COTTON, OR PAPER WITH EQUAL FACILITY	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds, nife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, ONE WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat y We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and at harvest time from it had sprung 1.360 grains of large, fat wheat. He planted 10 acres of this wheat and har- vested 177 sacks, each weighing 138 pounds. The single grain spoken of produced 36 stalks, so you see even a	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quirles, hardly pausing to insert re- plies, and ejaculating frequently, "God be praised." Then each presses the fin- ger tips which have been honored by contact with those of his friend against his lips and then upon his heart, as he raises his head and re-	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard. Mrs. Millions-The clergyman spoke quite bitterly of the extravagant en- tertainments given by wealthy mem- bers of the congregation. Millions-	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person l" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so protracted and so acute, as the foot- binding of China. Most of us know the misery of an occasional tight boot; think of the poor little girls whose	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man—who is usually a wo- man. In' case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to go; if homely, a beautiful girl is substituted for her, and the young man goes home satisfied and happy, the middle man in the mean- time pocketing the money. When	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length! The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer- tain wed. The European invents a machine which, when it is got going, accomplishes the work. The Orien- tal has not yet arrived at that condi-
London & Lancashire, -Lancashire. Marchord, Norwich Union, Phœnix of London, Manchester. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Flooring Matched Sheathing Dimensioned Lumber Sawn Spruce Shingles,	Violins, Bows Farming Toc Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing For Saw Mills ara opecial ty WE PRINT- ON WOOD, LINEM, COTTON, OR PAPER WITH EQUAL PACILITY.	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds. Inife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and a our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, None WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat f We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and at harvest time from it had sprung 1.360 grains of large, fat wheat. He planted 10 acres of this wheat and har- vested 177 sacks. each weighing 1138 produced 36 stalks, so you see even a grain of what helps wonderfully.	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quiries, hardly pausing to insert re- plies, and ejaculating frequently, "God be praised." Then each presses the fin- ger tips which have been honored by contact with those of his friend against his lips and then upon his heart, as he raises his head and re- doubles his salutations. The old cus-	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard. Mrs. Millions-The clergyman spoke quite bitterly of the extravagant en- tertainments given by wealthy mem- bers of the congregation. Millions- Did he mention any names ¶ Mrs. Mil- lions, with a sigh-No; he didn't men-	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so protracted and so acute, as the foot- binding of China. Most of us know the misery of an occasional tight boot; think of the poor little girls whose feet, night and day without rest, are deliberately bound up so tightly that they shall not crow 1	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man-who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to go; if homely, a beautiful girl is substituted for her, and the young man goes home satisfied and happy, the middle man in the mean- time pocketing the money. When	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekia one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer- tain end. The European invents a machine which, when it is got going, accomplishes the work. The Orien- tal has not yet arrived at that condi- tion of intellectual development. He can do nothing more than think out
London & Lancashire, -Lancashire. Marchord, Norwich Union, Phœnix of London, Manchester. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Flooring Matched Sheathing Dimensioned Lumber Sawn Spruce Shingles,	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills. ON POOD, LINEN, COTTON, OR PAPER WITH EQUAL FACILITY. "Toome and see our Work and compare it with that of sthers.	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds. Inife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and a our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, None WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat ? We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and at harvest time from it had sprung 1.360 grains of large, fat wheat. He planted 10 acres of this wheat and har- vested 177 sacks. each weighing 1135 pounds. The single grain spoken of produced 36 stalks, so you see even a grain of wheat helps wonderfully.	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- ticrly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quiries, hardly pausing to insert re- plies, and ejaculating frequently, "God be praised." Then each presses the fin- ger tips which have been honored by contact with those of his friend against his lips and then upon his heart, as he raises his head and re- doubles his salutations. The old cus- tom of falling on one another's necks	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard. Mrs. Millions-The elergyman spoke quite bitterly of the extravagant en- tertainments given by wealthy mem- bers of the congregation. Millions- Did he mention any names f Mrs. Mil- lions, with a sigh-No; he didn't men- tion a single name.	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so protracted and so acute, as the foot- binding of China. Most of us know the misery of an occasional tight boot; think of the poor little girls whose feet, night and day without rest, are deliberately bound up so tightly that they shall not grow! Mrs. Archibald Little, who has	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man-who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to go; if homely, a beautiful girl is substituted for her, and the young man goes home satisfied and happy, the middle man in the mean- time pocketing the money. When the wedding (ay arrives, the girl is put in a closed chair and carried about for an hour or two with a great retinue	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer- tain which, when it is got going, accomplishes the work. The Orien- tal has not yet arrived at that condi- tion of intellectual development. He can do nothing more than think out a plan by which he can do the work
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. MARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHENIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Sheathing Dimensioned Lumber Sawn Spruce Shingles,	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills. ON POOD, LINEN, COTTON, OR PAPER WITH EQUAL FACILITY. "Toome and see our Work and compare it with that of sthers.	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds. Inife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and n our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, Nore WHEAT GRAIN. Done WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat? We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat. He planted 10 acres of this wheat and har- vested 177 sacks. each weighing 188 pounds. The single grain spoken of produced 36 stalks, so you see even a grain of wheat helps wonderfully. Do not carry on conversation with another in company about matters which the general company know	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quirles, hardly pausing to insert re- plies, and ejaculating frequently, "God be praised." Then each presses the fin- ger tips which have been honored by contact with those of his friend against his lips and then upon his heart, as he raises his head and re- doubles his salutations. The old cus- tom of falling on one another's necks is still in vogue between friends long separated. Inferiors saluting super-	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fustens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard. Mrs. Millions-The elergyman spoke quite bitterly of the extravagant en- tertainments given by wealthy mem- bers of the congregation. Millions- Did he mention any names f Mrs. Mil- lions, with a sigh-No; he didn't men- tion a single name. Do not intersperse your conversations with foreign words and high-sounding	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so protracted and so acute, as the foot- binding of China. Most of us know the misery of an occasional tight boot; think of the poor little girls whose feet, night and day without rest, are deliberately bound up so tightly that they shall not grow! Mrs. A rchibald Little, who has founded (a Chinese society acainst	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man—who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to go; if homely, a beautiful girl is substituted for her, and the young man goes home satisfied and happy, the middle man in the mean- time pocketing the money. When the wedding day arrives, the girl is put in a closed chair and carried about for an hour or two with a great retinue	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekia one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length! The Chinese are eminontly a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer- tain wend. The European invents a machine which, when it is got going, accomplishes the work. The Orien- tal has not yet arrived at that condi- tion of intellectual development. He can do nothing more than think out a plan' by which he can do the work himself. In order words, while the
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. MARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHENIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Sheathing Dimensioned Lumber Sawn Spruce Shingles,	Violins, Bows Farming Toc Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing Lotter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills. OCO Printing For Saw Mills Ara opeciative ON WOOD, LINEN, COTTON, OR PAPER WITH EQUAL FACILITY. Come and see our Work and compare it with that of others. Miramichi Advance Job Printing Office	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds. inife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and in our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, None WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat f We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and at harvest time from it had sprung 1.360 grains of large, fat wheat. He planted 10 acres of this wheat and har- vested 177 sacks. each weighing 138 pounds. The single grain spoken of produced 36 stalks, so you see even a grain of wheat helps wonderfully. Do not carry on conversation with another in company about matters which the general company know	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quiries, hardly pausing to insert re- plies, and is relating frequently, "God be praised." Then each presses the fin- ger tips which have been honored by contact with those of his friend against his lips and then upon his heart, as he raises his head and re- doubles his salutations. The old cus- tom of falling on one another's necks is still in vogue between friends long separated. Inferiors saluting super- lors usually kiss the hand, shoulder, top of turban or feet, or the knee or	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard. Mrs. Millions-The clergyman spoke quite bitterly of the extravagant en- tertainments given by wealthy mem- bers of the congregation. Millions- Did he mention any names f Mrs. Mil- lions, with a sigh-No; he didn't men- tion a single name. Do not intersperse your conversations with foreign words and high-sounding terms. It shows affectation and will	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person l" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- credible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so protracted and so acute, as the foot- binding of China. Most of us know the misery of an occasional tight boot; think of the poor little girls whose feet, night and day without rest, are deliberately bound up so tightly that they shall not grow! Mrs. Archibald Little, who has founded 'a Chinese society against foot-binding, to which a good many	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a mildle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man — who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the mildle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to go; if homely, a beautiful girl is substituted for her, and the young man goes home satisfied and happy, the middle man in the mean- time pocketing the money. When the wedding day arrives, the girl is put in a closed chair and carried about for an hour or two with a great retinue of beggars bearing motioes or lanterns before her until the time to take her	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekin one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length! The Chinese are eminontly a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer- tain end. The European invents a machine which, when it is got going, accomplishes the work. The Orien- tal has not yet arrived at that condi- tion of intellectual development. He can do nothing more than think out a plan'by which he can do the work himself. In order words, while the Chinese are the most practical people
London & Lancashire, -Lancashire. Marchord, Norwich Union, Phœnix of London, Manchester. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Flooring Matched Sheathing Dimensioned Lumber Sawn Spruce Shingles,	Violins, Bows Farming Too Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing For Saw Mills Ara opeciatry ON WOOD, LINEN, COTTON, ON PAPER WITH EQUAL FACILITY "Oome and see our Work and compare it with that of others, Miramichi Advance Job Printing Office	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds. inife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and in our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, None WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat f We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and at harvest time from it had sprung 1.360 grains of large, fat wheat. He planted 10 acres of this wheat and har- vested 177 sacks. each weighing 138 pounds. The single grain spoken of produced 36 stalks, so you see even a grain of wheat helps wonderfully. Do not carry on conversation with another in company about matters which the general company know	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will wait upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quiries, hardly pausing to insert re- plies, and ejaculating frequently, "God be praised." Then each presses the fin- ger tips which have been honored by contact with those of his friend against his lips and then upon his heart, as he raises his head and re- doubles his salutations. The old cus- tom of falling on one another's necks is still in vogue between friends long separated. Inferiors saluting super- lors usually kiss the hand, shoulder,	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard. Mrs. Millions-The clergyman spoke quite bitterly of the extravagant en- tertainments given by wealthy mem- bers of the congregation. Millions- Did he mention any names f Mrs. Mil- lions, with a sigh-No; he didn't men- tion a single name. Do not intersperse your conversations with foreign words and high-sounding terms. It shows affectation and will	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- oredible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so protracted and so acute, as the foot- binding of China. Most of us know the misery of an occasional tight boot; think of the poor little girls whose feet, night and day without rest, are deliberately bound up so tightly that they shall not grow! Mrs. Archibald Little, who has founded 'a Chinese society against foot-binding, to which a good many leading Chiname have given in their	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man—who is usually a wo- man. In case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to go; if homely, a beautiful girl is substituted for her, and the young man goes home satisfied and happy, the middle man in the mean- time pocketing the money. When the wedding day arrives, the girl is put in a closed chair and carried about for an hour or two with a great retinue	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekia one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer- tain which, when it is got going, accomplishes the work. The Orien- tal has not yet arrived at that condi- tion of intellectual development. He can do nothing more than think out a plan by which he can do the work himself. In order words, while the Chinese are the most practical people in the world they lack the mental
LONDON & LANCASHIRE, -LANCASHIRE. MARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHENIX OF LONDON. MANCHESTER. Mrs. Jas. G. Miller WOODD COODS WE MANUFACTURE & HAVI For Sale Laths Paling Box-Shooks Barrel Heading Matched Sheathing Dimensioned Lumber Sawn Spruce Shingles,	Violins, Bows Farming Toc Mower Sections, Heads, Kr Rivets, Oilers. Our Stock of General Hardwa too numerous to mention. All persons requiring goods in on us, as they will find our prices a his by calling. The GOGGIN HARDWA WE DO Job Printing Lotter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills. OCO Printing For Saw Mills Ara opeciative ON WOOD, LINEN, COTTON, OR PAPER WITH EQUAL FACILITY. Come and see our Work and compare it with that of others. Miramichi Advance Job Printing Office	s and Fixings. DIS, All Kinds. inife Heads, Mower Section Guards, are is complete in every branch and in our line will save money by calling away down below the lowest, prove ARE STORE, CHATHAM, None WHEAT GRAIN. Did you ever stop to think of the responsibilities of a grain of wheat f We are so used to seeing the field sown with wheat and the crop come up and ripen that we quite forget how each little grain does a great work through the summer days in multi- plying and adding to the farmer's harvest. A farmer once planted one grain of white Australian wheat, and at harvest time from it had sprung 1.360 grains of large, fat wheat. He planted 10 acres of this wheat and har- vested 177 sacks. each weighing 138 pounds. The single grain spoken of produced 36 stalks, so you see even a grain of wheat helps wonderfully. Do not carry on conversation with another in company about matters which the general company know	factor in life to be considered serious- ly if one wishes to live among them without friction. Thus, no greater insult can be offered to an Arab than a friendly inquiry as to the welfare of his wife, to us a natural civility, but to him a gross impertinence, bit- terly resented. Sons will never sit at meal with their fathers in the presence of a guest, but will walt upon both until the father, rising, allows them the opportunity of breaking bread with their visitor. A Turk always stands in the pres- ence of his mother, until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else. The Moor pays great respect to his elders, and to see two elderly, or digni- fied Moors salute is a pretty signt. With measured pace, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other, they ap- proach with a slight inclination, holding the right hands slightly ad- vanced. They press their finger tips together and begin a volley of pre- scribed salutations, greetings and in- quiries, hardly pausing to insert re- plies, and is relating frequently, "God be praised." Then each presses the fin- ger tips which have been honored by contact with those of his friend against his lips and then upon his heart, as he raises his head and re- doubles his salutations. The old cus- tom of falling on one another's necks is still in vogue between friends long separated. Inferiors saluting super- lors usually kiss the hand, shoulder, top of turban or feet, or the knee or	ant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone one of its companions will go to its assistance; and togeth- er they will bring it in. If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disc or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales, and the bottoms of ships rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement. The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about its tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bot- tom of the boat. When a turtle passes near the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Strug- gle as he will the turtle cannot loos- en the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat and take him aboard. Mrs. Millions-The clergyman spoke quite bitterly of the extravagant en- tertainments given by wealthy mem- bers of the congregation. Millions- Did he mention any names f Mrs. Mil- lions, with a sigh-No; he didn't men- tion a single name. Do not intersperse your conversations with foreign words and high-sounding terms. It shows affectation and will	formed them that "Chinese law pro- vides that in the case of a female per- son violating the law the punishment for it is inflicted upon the male head of the family. Chinese law provides that a woman burning incense to an- cestors publicly, a sacrilege for a woman, shall be punished with stripes, but the actual person beaten shall be the male head of her house; and this principle is applicable to all violations of law in which the offender is a female person!" At first sight this may seem like a "woman's privilege;" but like many other similar special provisions for wo- men, it is in practice the cause of in- oredible misery to the "protected" females. The foot-binding is a device hardly unreasonable if the man must pay the penalty of his wife's or daugh- ter's crimes, to prevent the women going about, acting, and conversing, and so learning to think, on their own account; and there has hardly been in the history of the world a practice that has caused so much agony, so protracted and so acute, as the foot- binding of China. Most of us know the misery of an occasional tight boot; think of the poor little girls whose feet, night and day without rest, are deliberately bound up so tightly that they shall not grow! Mrs. Archibald Little, who has founded 'a Chinese society against foot-binding, to which a good many leading Chiname have given in their	darkened room in attendance on her incessantly. THE LAND OF CHOP-STICKS. Some of the Peculiar Ways of the Chin- man at Home. In all the walks of life the Chinaman is always widely different, often ex- actly antithetical, to us. The diver- gence in customs is, then, of essential and vital disparities of type. Below are some everyday matters, intended to throw a little light on his life as it is in and around Pekin. When the Chinaman wishes to marry the first requisite is to secure a middle man' to transact the business. Of all untrustworthy people the worst is the middle man-who is usually a wo- man. In' case the young man desires to see the bride before marrying, he bribes the middle man to find out at what time he can stand on some street corner and see her go by in a cart. If she happens to be beautiful she is al- lowed to go; if homely, a beautiful girl is substituted for her, and the young man goes home satisfied and happy, the middle man in the mean- time pocketing the money. When the wedding day arrives, the girl is put in a closed chair and carried about for an hour or two with a great retinue of beggars bearing mottoes or lanterns before her until the time to take her to the bridegroom's home. She is	count the wheelbarrow came into re- quisition and now is universal. In Shanghai the wheelbarrow is used to carry people. The wheel is in the centre, the passenger on one side and his baggage on the other. In Shan- tung a sail is attached to the barrow to get the benefit of the wind. In Pekia one often sees a donkey or two or a mule or two, or a donkey, mule and horse hitched to a wheelbarrow. Sometimes they have four mules hitch- ed to it with two men in front at the sides to drive and help balance it, and a man behind to hold the handles and assist in balancing it. The wheel is without tire, or if it has a tire it is put on in sections a foot or more in length. The Chinese are eminently a prac- tical though in no sense scientific peo- ple. Everything that we can do, they can co, though in a very primitive style. They have an expression, "hsiang fa tzu," which, in English would mean that we will think out some method for bringing about a cer- tain which, when it is got going, accomplishes the work. The Orien- tal has not yet arrived at that condi- tion of intellectual development. He can do nothing more than think out a plan by which he can do the work himself. In order words, while the Chinese are the most practical people in the world they lack the mental	