POPE LEO.

An Operation was Performed
This Afternoon.

And He Is Now Slightly Better, Although There Are No Hopes of His Recovery.

ROME, July 7.—At 10.55 a. m.—An operation for puncturing the pleura will be performed on the pope at eleven o'clock with a Pravaz syringe.

ROME, July 7.—Following is the text of the bulletin regarding the condition of the pope issued at 2.30 o'clock this morning:

"The pope passed a restless night without sleep. Nourishment, however, has been more freely taken and the general condition of the patient is a little more reassuring. An objective examination shows a change in the right of the thorax, and the middle lobe of the lung, which up to yesterday did not permit the passage of air, now allows the air to penetrate. On the other hand the interior zone has become more obtuse and the transmission of vocal and tactile vibration is wanting. This leads to the belief that there is liquid in the pleura. An experimental incision will be made.
The action of the heart is depressed, so much so as to render the renal function insufficient and to cause cyanosis in the last phalanges of the hands.

(signed) LAPPONI,
MAZZONI."

ROME, July 7.—At 7.55 a. m., there was considerable excitement around the vatican and numerous persons were going to and coming from the pope's bedroom. The relatives of the pontiff, Cardinal Rampolla and Pope Leo's private secretaries, however, remained in the chamber. Cardinal Rampolla has been receiving members of the diplomatic body at all hours of the day and night. Several large books kept for the purpose have been signed by members of the Roman aristocracy, high ecclesiastical dignitaries and notable personages of the papal court and distinguished strangers who have called to congratulate the pope's condition. All the papal military bodies in permanent service are earning their two months extra pay which they receive in case of the death of a pope and two months extra from the selection of a new pope.

ROME, July 7.—At 8.55 a. m.—Up to the present time the telegrams received from all parts of the world, number 3,782. Although the pope is still alive Cardinal Orsini begins to be the center of all vatican affairs, as it is considered that the moment is close at hand when he will assume the supreme power in his capacity as Cardinal Camerlengo.
Engineers Scheffer and Mannuli, who are called architects of the edifice, are at their office consists in walling up the cardinals when they have gathered for the election of a new pope, have placed themselves at the disposal of Cardinal Orsini, who has also Prince Chigi, who holds the office of marshal of the conclave.

In all the churches masses are celebrated and these are attended by an extraordinary number of the faithful who pray for the recovery of the pon-tiff.

9.36 a. m.—When Dr. Mazzoni went this morning to the vatican, Dr. Lapponi made a full report to him as to how the pope had passed the night.
Then both entered the sick room. Pope Leo smiled benevolently at Dr. Massoni, but seemed not to have sufficient strength to speak. The doctor asked:
"How is Your Holiness?"

To this inquiry the pontiff, in a faint voice replied: "I have no illusion, and am resigned."

Then he raised his eyes, while his lips moved, evidently in prayer. The doctors then proceeded to make a most minute examination of the patient, listening to his breathing and testing his lungs.

The pope, having expressed a desire this morning to read the Ossavatore Romano and the Voce della Verita, to see what they were saying about his illness, special editions were prepared and sent to His Holiness.

LONDON, July 7.—A special despatch from Rome says a cabinet council has been summoned for this morning to consider the steps to be taken by the government in the event of the pope's death.

BERLIN, July 7.—The Tagblatt's Rome correspondent telegraphs that Pope Leo has decided to leave his savings, amounting to several million lire, as a private fund for his successor.

ROME, July 7.—At 4.45 p. m.—Dr.
Mazzoni, in an interview this afternoon admitted that he had not given up all hope of saving the pope's life. The puncturing of the pleura has been possessed until two o'clock this afternoon.

ROME, July 7.—There is no denying the fact that the life of the pontiff is slowly wasting away. There are moments when he seems better and others in which he is worse. But no one doubts that hour by hour, moment by moment, he is leaving the world.

ROME, July 7.—At 3.30 p. m.—The pope has been operated on and his general condition is now better.

THE WEATHER.

perature, 54; barometer reading at noon 30.05 inches, wind south, velocity 6 miles per hour. Fine.

Synopsis—Weather is fine all along the Atlantic coast, with no indication of disturbance. To Banks and to American ports, light to moderate, variable

STRIKE SITUATION.

The strike situation remains about the same. The men deny the statement made by Director Cushing that there are forty laborers at work, claiming that the only men, with a few exceptions, now at work are the teamsters and asphalt crews.

The men are as determined as ever not to give in and say they will fight to a finish.

FRANCE AND AMERICA VISIT BRITAIN.

Representatives of Two Nations Receive Hearty Welcomes Today.

PRESIDENT LOUBET.
Is Being Entertained in London and Expresses Kindly Feelings.

LONDON, July 7.—President Loubet today called at the French Hospital and visited the home for French government. Passing through the ward of the hospital, he stopped to con-dole with a corporal of a detachment of Life Guards, forming his escort, who was injured by falling from his horse outside the hospital. The president returned to St. James' palace at about ten o'clock. He was everywhere greeted with great cordiality and cries of "Vive Loubet" in response to which he continually raised his hat. A reception was accorded to a deputation from the diplomatic corps and shortly afternoon, the president, accompanied by Ambassador Cambon and Foreign Minister Delcasse, started in semi-state to visit the city. Shortly before one o'clock the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught, preceded by Life Guards, drove up to the Guildhall, where the royal party joined the lord mayor, Sir Marcus Samuel, Premier Balfour, the judges, aldermen and others in awaiting the president. Another detachment of Life Guards and outriders then rode up and amidst a great volley of cheers President Lou-bet drove in. The president jumped out of the carriage, shook hands all around and after an address from the corporation had been presented to him Mr. Loubet proceeded to luncheon.

LONDON, July 7.—Foreign Minister Delcasse had a long conference with Foreign Minister Lansdowne this morning and Mr. Delcasse also lengthily conversed with the Russian ambassador, Count Benckendorff, after the latter had visited Pres. Loubet.

LONDON, July 7.—Subsequent to the lord mayor's toast the president of the French republic, in reply Mr.
Loubet said he was happy to bring to the heart of the city of London a cordial greeting from the French people.

"The presence at my side of the minister of foreign affairs, of the republic," he said, "is a pledge to you of the value which the whole French government attaches to the development of these happy relations of friendship between the two countries."

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., July 7.—With the boom of cannon, the British fleet on behalf of King Edward, welcomed the United States European squadron to Great Britain's principal naval station today. The British ships formed two lines and down this line of huge gray warships moved the Americans.
National salutes were fired by each squadron, followed by an exchange of salutes to Rear Admiral Cotton and Vice Admiral Bessford. Subsequently the two admirals exchanged calls on the flagships. At high tide the American warships entered the harbor, led by the Kearsarge. As the Kearsarge approached the railway, letty "attention" was sounded on the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert, Nelson's old flagship, the Victory, and the other ships in the harbor, a courtesy which was returned from the Kearsarge's deck.
When the Kearsarge was berthed Sir William Dupree, the Mayor of Portsmouth, boarded her and greeted Admiral Cotton. Admiral Cotton replied expressing his pleasure at the welcome extended to the squadron and thanking the mayor. On the departure of the mayor Rear Admiral Milne, commander of the royal yacht, specially detailed by King Edward to welcome the Americans, arrived on board the Kearsarge and was received by Admiral Cotton and Capt. Hemphill. Admiral Milne expressed the gratification of King Edward at the arrival of the squadron, and in behalf of His Majesty welcomed it to England. Subsequently Admiral Cotton, Capt. Hemphill and the staff officers visited the naval officials, escorted by an admiral's guard and a band.
