The Brotherhood of Railway Train-men are looking forward to a big de-monstration here on Wednesday when the twenty-fifth anniversary of the or-der will be celebrated. A big parade is to be held and in the evening a mass meeting to be addressed by prominent brotherhood r en will be held.

T. B. Kidner, director of marray training is at the Dufferin. Yesterday he inspected the new department of manual training and household science recently opened in the Waterloo street building. There has been some delay in equipping the household science de-partment, but classes will be in full swing there today. This makes the second room for the dity. The new manual training department was equip-ped some time ego and has ben in daily operation since the opening of the schools. Mr. Kidner said that he found the pupils taking great interest in their work, and as a proof of the MONCTON LIBERALS in their work, and as a proof of the general interest being taken through-out the city he said that a local manufacturer of school furniture had tol him that he had sold fifteen manua training benches to parints of boys in our city schools who had seen the benches at the exhibition last week. Mr. Kidner goes from here to King-ton to the MacDonald Consolidate | School and thence to Sussex. He said that the Sussex school makes the twenty-first manual training school opened in the province and the eighth household science department. He said that there were also some manua training departments not connected with the public school system.

MONCTON, N. B., Sept. 21.-Moncto MONCTON, N. B., Sept. 21.—Moncton Liberals turned out en masse here last night at the first Liberal meeting held in view of the coming contest. The principal speakers of the evening were Hon. F. J. Sweeney, H. F. S. Paisley, Sackville, C. R. Morse, John Doherty, and John T. Hawke. The meeting was presided over by S. B. Anderson. Dur-ing the meeting a presentation to Mr. presided over by S. B. Anderson. Dur-ing the meeting a presentation to Mr. Hawke was made in the form of a handsome oak chair. The presentation was made by Mr. Doherty who made a short speech. Mr. Hawke though taken by surprise, replied in a few fit-ting words thanking the donors for their gift. He then reviewed his trip to the old country, comparing Canada to England and other foreign coun-tries he visited, saying that Canadians should consider Canada above them in scenery, etc. Speakers during the

"I am not a patriot, thank God," writes Mr. A. E. Fletcher, who once edited the London Daily Chronicle so brilliantly. "Patriotism crucified Christ," he continues in the Clarion, and has been the chief cause of all the agony and strife that have made a tragedy of humanlity have been not na-tional, but international. The French Revolution failed only when it ceased to be for humanity and because na-tional. All the great men in Europe on the eve of the Revolution, as my old friend and colleague William Clarke, pointed out, regarded them selves as citizens of the world rather than of any particular country. MEN WHO WERE NOT PATRIOTS.

Regn. Which earned for him the title title than of any particular country.
MEN WHO WERE NOT PATRIOTS.
"Goethe confessed that he did not care to know what patriotism meant.
Lessing, Rousseau, Kant, Lavater, Condorcet, Priestley and Gibbon were, like Socrates, cosmopolitan. It is the glory of science that it knows no country. The award of their gold medal the other day to Sir William Ramsay by the French scientists reminds me of the inteliectual entente that has always existed between Great Britain and France. This entente was a mester of the tongue that that has always existed between Great Britain and France. This entente was not destroyed even when we were at war with Napoleon. During that great struggle, a com-mittee of the French Institute award-ed to Sir Humphry Davy the gold medal founded by Napoleon himself for the best experimental on the gal-vanic fuid. On that committee sat Laplace and Coulomb. There were plenty of fools in the English newspa-per offices and elsewhere at that time who denounced Davy for accepting the award. Patriotism, they said, de-manded that he should refuse it. Sir Humphry fortunately scorned this ob-friend Poole, 'say I ought not to accept this prize, and there have been foolish paragraphs in the papers to that ef-fect; but if the two countries or gov-ernments are at war the men of scifect; but if the two countries of gov ernments are at war the men of sci-ence are not. That would indeed be a civil war of the worst description. We should rather, through the instru-mentally of men of science, soften the corregities of national hostility.' AN EXPLANATION. "How long has this restaurant been open?" asked the would-be diner. "Two years," said the proprietor. "I am sorry I did not know it," said pen erregities of national hostility.'
