GOD'S THREE GREAT COVENANTS WITH MAN

In this great allegory Abraham repre sented the heavenly Father; his wives, Sarah, Hagar and Keturah represented God's three great covenants; and the children of these three wives represented the three different classes who are to be blessed by the three covenants. The Apostle clearly points this out. Writing of Sarah and Hagar he says, Which thing is an allegory, for these two women are two covenants, the one from Mount Sinai bearing children (fleshly Israel) unto bondage, which is Hagar; "the other, Sarah, a free wowhose son Isaac became Abraham's chief heir. The apostle continues, "Now, we, brethren, as Issac was, are the children of promise," Christ being inted in as the "Head of the Church, which is His body"—the antitypical Isaac. Keturah, whom Abraham married after the death of Sarah, repreents the new covenant, which will not go into effect until the death of the Sarah covenant, which bears spiritual Israel, and which will die or become exse in the development of spiritual

All Christian people also recognize the fact that God instituted a law covenant with Israel at Mount Sinai, and that Moses was who were merely under the law and those who, by the exercise of faith, blood of the sin offerings, the mediator sprinkling the people with the blood as epresenting that they were bound by the covenant, and sprinkling the book HAGAR AND ISHMAEL CAST OUT. of the law with the same blood, as indicating that God was likewise bound by As Hagar and her son were east out the provisions of that covenant.

For I will be erciful to their unrughteousness, and their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.-Heb. 8: 8-12.

Thus we see the great covenants clearly set forth in scriptural terms, aside from the allegories already referred to. Let us now take these up their order and learn their import.

The Sarah Covenant will not expire until it shall have brought forth the complete Isaac class, who will be the heirs of promise as the special seed of Abraham. This is in accord with the promise, namely, "In thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed." Whatever blessings are to come to the remainder of mankind, must all come through the members pleted before it can accomplish its work of blessing all nations. Various scriptures seem to indicate that very soon this entire Isaac class of Abraham's seed under the Oath-Bound Covenant, already begotten of the spirit, will be born in the first resurrection, changed in a moment, in the the great work of his millennial king-

The apostle explains the matter further, saying, "As concerning the Gospel they (natural Israel) are enemies for your sakes (for spiritual Israel's sakes-to permit of your development as the seed of Abraham by the original or Sarah Covenant.) But as touching the election they are beloved for the father's sakes, because the gifts and callings of God are without repentance For as ye in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief, even s have these also not believed, that through your mercy (the mercy of Christ, the antitypical Isaac, the special

But while the new covenant is thus represented in the allegory the New Covenant arrangement. The The oath-bound promise reads, "In thy seed (Isaac in the allegory), shall all ment work, waiting for the complethe families of the earth be blessed." It is the antitypical Isaac, the Christ, Head and body, which is to bless the families of the earth under the new covenant. The new covenant of divine mercy and favor toward whosoever will is represented as having Christ for its Mediator and as being sealed by the blood of Christ, the death of Christ (1 Pet, 1: 19.) In various particulars it is with the law covenant, which it supplants-as, for instance, the apostle contrasts and compares the two, speaking of Moses as the mediator of the new covenant; the blood of bulls and goats as the offset of the sins of the people under the law covenant, the ble Christ, the better sacrifice, as making atonement for the sins of the people under the new covenant. The law of God was the basis of the law covenant, and plan, in ignorance of the Mediator, in the same law of God-still more freely enunciated as the law of love and the Golden Rule-are set forth as the law connected with the new covenant. We are shown clearly that the difference between the two covenants is in the different sacrifices and different mediators.

Moses, a member of the fallen race, could and did act as a mediator, but he could not assist the people out of their imperfections, and hence the covenant hold, harmless, undefiled and separate

But by divine arrangement the church, the body of the antitypical Isaac, is to share with the Head in the work of sealing the new covenant as well as in the work of being Medicine being the new covenant as well as in the that we also may reign with Him to be work of being Mediator between God and man. Hence our Lord said to His followers respecting the cup, the blood of the new covenant, "Drink ye all of glory, honor and immortality as the it"—participate with Me in this work of sealing the new covenant. And so it has been as the apostle declared—the faithful saints, the footstep followers of the Lord, have throughout this gospel death all mankind except those who age each been "filling up with that wilfully, intelligently refuse and negwhich is behind of the afflictions of lect the privileges thus set before Christ."-Col. 1: 24.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE MEET

Disapproval of Manner in Which Some of the Previncial Hospital Accounts Are Kept.

FREDERICTON, N. B., March 7 .-

Harmony of the public accounts com mittee was rudely disturbed this morn ng. In fact for a few minutes the proceedings were rather stormy in the one. The unpleasantness arose from a resolution submitted by Mr. Smith of Carleton, who moved that the committee express its strong disapproval of the method of keeping the provincial hospital accounts so far as they relate to Dr. Anglin's household exenses. Opposition members have contended, whenever hospital accounts have been under discussion, and they held to that contention this morning that Dr. Anglin's household expenses charged to the province are not set forth in sufficient detail in the provincial accounts.
