Secretary of the navy, Robeson, will personally examine the survivors of the Polar in their arrival, that he may decide whether a Government vessel should be sent after the Polar.

Washington County, Iowa, was visited by a terrific whirlwind yesterday. Its path was about half a mile in width; houses, barns, fences, trees, cattle, and human beings were caught up and whirled through the air like toys, and then dashed to the ground with such violence as to produce instant destruction. Half a dozen persons were killed and injured, and many farm houses destroyed.

The rate of discount for three months in open market is one per cent. below the Bank of England rate.

Consols closed at 98 7/8; breadstuffs dull.

WASHINGTON, Iowa, May 23.

A terrific tornado, or whirlwind accompanied by hail and rain, passed over this country about six miles north of Washington, yesterday afternoon. Its path was about half a mile wide, and it tore into fragments everything in its course. Houses, barns, fences, trees, cattle, and human beings were caught up and whirled through the air like toys, and then dashed to the ground with such violence as to produce instant destruction. For miles around the fields were dotted with large timbers driven into ground at an angle of 90 degrees. Cattle were actually driven head foremost into the ground.

One can scarcely conceive the devastation or realize the force of the tornado. Already we have heard of thirteen farm houses and many barns that were literally torn to pieces, and many others badly damaged.

A school was in session at a school house six miles north of here, and the tornado tore the building to pieces, and carried off the fourteen year old daughter of Henry Rothman. About a quarter of a mile from the school house she was found mangled to a jelly. Miss Smith, the teacher, and six or eight scholars were injured, some severely. The wife of Henry Walters was killed. A Miss Gardner and a son of A. B. Gardner lie at the point of death.

Jacob Cook was seriously hurt. The family of I. Campbell, near Keota, were injured. Mr. McCoy was seriously injured.

A gentleman who was near the tornado reports it was balloon shaped, with the tail to the ground, and moved at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour. It began its fearful work near Keota, where it demolished several houses. We next heard of it about six miles north of here, where it destroyed two or three houses, and as it passed on Northeast, scattered the fine residences and barns of Alexander Gibson, J. A. Babcock and J. C. Callaghan. It also leveled the dwellings of D. Cannon, F. C. H. Walters, Mr. Carrington, and Mr. Kerr. The lives of many persons were saved by their hastily getting into the cellars of the houses. Sad havoc was made with all kinds of stock. From the description of an eye witness, it seems almost a miracle that anything in the track escaped alive. He says it could see large pieces of timber hurtled from a cloud as though shot from a cannon. Half a dozen cattle that measured nine inches in diameter. Some were brought to this city, and four hours after they were picked up they were still as large as hens' eggs.

The roaring of the tornado was fearful and could have been easily heard five miles. At this place, six miles away, it was perfectly appalling, surpassing in terror anything ever heard except war and the din of a terrific battle.

A telegram from Keota last evening says that five persons were killed about three miles from that place. One child was torn to pieces.

The reports received thus far are from only a few points along the line of the terrible destroyer, and the amount of damage cannot be estimated, but it must be many thousands of dollars. Many more lives were probably lost than those reported, and no estimate can be made of the stock killed. Nothing so terrible or violent has ever befallen this section of the country heretofore, and it is considered a miracle that so few lives were lost.
