

Beavers Fear McGill

by GIL LEACH

Eight days ago, spirits in the Beaver's training quarters were extremely positive about defeating McGill.

Seven days ago; twelve members of the UNB swimming team were dejectedly going to classes. The previous evening, last Tuesday, had been one of terror; causing many headaches for the coaching staff.

Background: two weeks until the opening gun of McGill meet.

Problem: UNB Beavers are not good enough to compare favourably against McGill Redmen's Olympic swimmers.

Headache: How to compensate for this deficiency.

Answer: Harder practises, better morale and prayers for the breaks to turn our way on the 9th if we really desire victory.

That briefly is the problem facing the Beavers. On February 9th they swim against McGill.

The future of UNB's swimming career hangs on the outcome of this meet. Victory or a commendable performance are the only results that will advance the Beavers to a national level.

Coach Amby Legere knew this and told his swimmers so three weeks ago. He proceeded to hold practises on an accelerated level to reach McGill's standards. The team tried but in vain. This statement is backed up by the showing of the intersquad meet last week. Eight records were broken, yes; but these times are minor compared to those that Richard Pound and several other McGill teammates of Olympic caliber can produce.

Coach Legere has taken immediate steps to regain the chance of possible victory by stepping practises up to an even more accelerated level than before.

Only time will tell. With fingers crossed, we can only wish for the best.

The team has one dress rehearsal before McGill; this being a meet against Halifax here this Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. They will give the team a battle but confidence reigns high at UNB over this coming meet. Halifax has a very good team but not outstanding swimmers. The general belief is that UNB can win by their strong showing of depth on the team.

Rulers Draw Bed Panners

Nancy Ellis, 1960 Carnival Queen, paced the Nurses to a 10-all tie against the Engineering faculty in their waterpolo contest last Thursday evening. Nancy scored 7 of the 10 goals for the co-eds by continually outwitting the slide-rulers' mechanical goal-tender. It could be that maybe he was human and...

Al Taylor performed the scoring duties for the "rulers", with Norm Crutchfield playing a stellar defensive game, guarding against the Nursing team consisting of Ellis, Marg Caldwell, Judy Chalmers, Cathie Duffy, Gay Franklin, Mary Lou McGibbon, Norma Steeves and Lydie Steeves. The Engineering team was comprised of Crutchfield, Taylor, Randy Marsters, Charlie Sullivan, Al Ritchie, Al Bene, Ron Quail, Earl MacKenzie and Tony Coles.

Who's Who in Sports

by KEN GRAHAM

To the followers of the UNB girl's basketball squad, this week's candidate for Who's Who in Sports, Sandy Pomeroy, is no stranger. Sandy hails from St. Stephen, N.B., where she got her training with one of the province's best high school basketball teams. As a result of this training she has been a leader in the scoring department for the Bloomers during the past three years. In their last four court battles Sandy has maintained an average of 21.5 points.

A great deal of credit can go to Sandy for the current winning streak of the Red Bloomers. Rival coaches could be naturally envious of the Bloomers' terrific team effort, and team players like Sandy.

Her ability is not confined to the basketball court though; Sandy is active on the varsity volleyball team and also displays her prowess for the third year Phys Ed intramural field hockey team.

At the moment the UNB Red Bloomers are much in the sports limelight due to their highly publicized win streak. By press time the girls, under the able direction of Sylvia Shaw, had posted the awesome record of 48 consecutive victories.

To Sandy Pomeroy, court leader; Sylvia Shaw, able coach; and the complete cast of '61-'62 Bloomer squad, the Brunswick Sports Staff wishes to extend congratulations for the anticipated 50th straight win last night over the St. John Rotarians, Congratulations for achieving a milestone unparalleled in Canadian Intercollegiate Sports.
