Land Bill as a measure which competent men will greatly approve.

The News says the Bill has been both transformed and deformed. A compromise is talked of, but a compromise between the nation and a privileged and interested oligarchy is not, we hope, an idea the House of Commons will entertain. What it amounts to is compromise between English people, Lord Salisbury and the Government. The Commons must decide whether the veto on legislation, which the Crown no longer possesses, is which the Crown no longer possesses, is to be exercised by Salisbury and the mule herd which follows his lead in the House of Lords.

A serious conflict between soldiers and A serious conflict between somers and civilians has taken place at New Ross.

London, Aug. 9.—It is stated that Davitt is now in Portland Prison, He will probably be released by Sept. 1st, on condition that he does not return to Ire-

London. Aug. 10.—Lord Salisbury issued a whip to the Conservatives, inviting them to be ready to consider the Land Bill, as amended by the House of Commons. The language implies that the Conservative Peers may be called upon to oppose the action of the Commons in rejecting the more important amendments of the House of Lords. If the lords decline to acquiesce in the rejection of their amendments, an unoflicial conference will probably take place between the Liberal and Conservative leaders. If this fails, recourse will be had to the machinery of a conference.

the purpose of manufacturing such articles at home. The organization which the Land movement fostered would be very orderly.

London, Aug. S.—It is understood that Dillon's release will be followed by the release of all other persons imprisoned under the Coercion act, sive those to whom actual crime is imputed.

The pastoral of Archbishop McCabe, which was read in the chapels on Sunday, chiefly deals with the prevalence of infidelity on the continent, and the danger of its extending to Ireland. It describes the Land Bill as a measure which competent men will greatly approve.

The News says the Bill has been both transformed and deformed. A comptoming it. In the meantime Radical Associations would promote the agitation against the House of Lords.

London, Aug. 12.—During the discussion on the Land Bill in the House of Commons, last night, Mr. Healy spoke of the dirty work of the Lords, and described them as hereditary enemies of the Irish people. The Speaker called Healy to order. Parnell declared that the Government were attempting to carry out the ment were attempting to carry out the views of the Lords in an underhand man-

London, Aug. 12.—A Cabinet Council will be held to-morrow, to consider the course to be adopted by the Government regarding the Land Bill.

London, Aug. 14th.—Several Irish Conservative peers have urged Lord Salisbury to withdraw his opposition to the Land Bill, on the ground that the rejection of the Bill would be followed by the renewal of the land agitation, which will probably entail upon them greater losses from non-payment of rent than they yet sustained. Lord Salisbury advised the Peers at the meeting on Friday to adhere to all their amendments, on the ground that it would only be by doing so that they could force the Government to make concessions.

London, Aug. 9.—In the House of Commons the Duke of Argyle's amendment to the Land Bill, excluding from the right of free sale tenancies on which improvements had been made by the landlords, was accepted by the Government with an amendment that the improvement must have been substantially maintained. Parnell wished to amend it still further, but the amendment in that form was accepted by the Government and passed by 25s to 100. The minority was composed of Parnellites, Home Rulers and Radicals.

Mr. Gladstone declared that he would not agree to the amendment of the House of Lords relative to Ulster tenant right in any shape or form.

Mr. Beand Sneaker, who hittherto has discovered and the continued to those whose leases expire within the next of the Land Bill as created widespread alarm through the Ministerial ranks. The stand taken by the Lords against the Land Bill has created widespread alarm through the Ministerial ranks. The Ministry has only thirty-four of a majority, minus the Speaker and Home Rule vote.
