

PROSELYTISM

Catholic immigrants are not the only ones sought as victims by proselytizers, who, in order to gain their ends, are prepared to resort to the most dishonorable subterfuges.

"I believe that the upright and fair-minded Christians," Rabbi Raisin said, as reported in the New York Times "are open to reason, and that the Christian conscience can be successfully appealed to."

ly altered from the decrees of Cotton Mather and the enactments of the Salem colony as to witchcraft, heresy and other manifestations of the rebellious spirit which followed in the train of the New Thought introduced to the benighted world by the leaders of the Reformation.—Philadelphia Standard and Times.

Sensitive people will do well to reflect that the slurs or ingratitude or slights or knocks that come to them (as they come to all) are soon forgotten in the whirl of new events and fresh to-morrows: and it is wiser to forget, while the world forgets, and not attach undue importance or make sore grievances out of such inevitable annoyances.—Humphrey Desmond.

Let all such true and honorable Christians once become convinced of the full sordidness of the ways in which the hireling missionary carries on his work, and we have not the least doubt that he will cease to subsidize that work.

What more unethical than the preaching of religion through bribery and insinuation? What more immoral than to make believe that a certain hall is a synagogue, when in reality it is but a Christian church in disguise?

What more criminal than to steal the souls of young children who are unable to defend themselves and whose parents are too poor and too ignorant to prevent it?

THE INVISIBLE PREACHER Saint Francis de Sales wrote to a Nun, a spiritual child of his, as follows: "Oh! my daughter, does your envy of me come from this, that I preach to the world the truth and earn praise of God? Indeed it is a satisfaction to the heart to proclaim the goodness of one so devotedly loved. But if you want to preach with me, do so, I beg you, my daughter, by ever praying to God to give me words according to His heart and your wishes. How often does it happen that we say good things because some good soul gets to the grace to do so. Does she not preach sufficiently, and with this advantage, that knowing nothing of the applause gained she is not puffed up? I join my soul to yours every day by the link of the most Holy Sacrament with this in view."

NOVELS AND RELIGIOUS BOOKS BY THE BEST CATHOLIC AUTHORS Free by Mail. Fifty Cents Per Volume

NOVELS A BIT OF OLD IVORY and Other Stories. This beautiful collection of tales is a veritable hoard of blossoms sweet and fragrant. They are truly legacies left to us by Heaven, and as such should be treasured by every Catholic household.

A DOUBLE KNOT and Other Stories, by Mary T. Waggaman and others. The stories are excellent and have such pathos and humor scattered throughout them.

THE FRIENDLY LITTLE HOUSE and Other Stories, by Marion Fagant and Others. A library of short stories of thrilling interest by a group of Catholic authors that take rank with the best writers of contemporary fiction.

THE LADY OF THE TOWER and Other Stories, by George Barton and others. This is a collection of short stories which please the most fastidious taste. The volume comprises fifteen stories, which are all worthy to live in short-story literature. Most of them are delicate little love tales, others, stories of adventure or mystery.

THE SENIOR LIEUTENANTS WAGER and 30 Other Stories, by the foremost Catholic writers of the day. The authors have used up a great amount of material which might have been used into many pages. It is a book that may be enjoyed for a few moments of an hour at a time, or even for a few hours of high thinking and righteous living.

THE TRAIL OF THE DRAGON and Other Stories, by Marion F. Nixon-Konietz and other leading Catholic authors. A volume of stories which make very interesting and profitable reading for young and old alike.

MARCELLA GRACE, by Rosa Mulholland. The plot of this story is laid with a skill and grasp of detail that are not always found in novels of the day. It is a story that will be read with interest and pleasure by all who are fond of a complete mastery of the subject, joined to graceful and beautiful diction.

THE LIGHT OF HIS COUNTENANCE, by Jerome Hart. A highly successful story. The plot is flawless, the characters are natural, their conversation is full of life and interest, and there are bursts of genuine comedy to lighten the tragic drama.

HER JOURNEY'S END, by Francis Cooke. A story of mystery, of strife and struggle, of petty jealousy, and of sublime devotion.

AGATHA HARRINGTON, by Rosa Mulholland. Rosa Mulholland's best novel.

BOND AND FREE, by Jean Connor. A new story in an author's hands who to write a splendidly strong book.

THE CURIOUS-RIDERS DAUGHTER, by F. von Brunel. A melodramatic novel, a low story that every reader will feel better for having read.

This Washer Must Pay For Itself

A MAN tried to sell me a horse once. He said it was a fine horse and had nothing the matter with it. I wanted a fine horse. But, I didn't know anything about horses much. And I didn't know I wanted a fine horse. The man very well said.

So I told him I wanted to try the horse for a month. He said "All right, but pay me first, and I'll give you back your money if the horse isn't all right."

Well, I didn't like that. It was a fine horse, but the horse wasn't all right. He said "All right, but pay me first, and I'll give you back your money if the horse isn't all right."

Now, I know what our "1000 Gravity" Washer will do. I know it will wash the clothes, and I'll give you back your money if the machine itself saves the time they can be washed by hand or by any other machine.

It just drives soapy water clear through the fibres of the clothes like a force pump might. So, I said to myself, I will do with my "1000 Gravity" Washer what I wanted the man to do with the horse. Only I won't wait for people to ask me. I'll offer first, and I'll make good every time.
