A. will be used during the winter for indoor sports. Games will be arranged with battalions in nearby cities, of which the soccer game this afternoon is the first of the kind. The battalion in Galt will also be asked to play here and in this way interest in the battalion will be fostered among the men.

After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.

World of Labor

Gleaned from Exchanges and Other Sources.

Journemen tailors in Minneapolis, who have been on strike for higher wages and recognition of the union, have won a decisive victory and incidentally handed out to the so-called citizens' alliance this hard-earned jolt it ever got.

The union bookbinders in St. Paul and Minneapolis have asked for the first wage advance in fifteen years. They have built up a 100-per-cent organization, and many employers have already signed up and the balance will be forced to do likewise.

The low wage city of Baltimore, Md., which has kept its civic employees chained down to a $2 a day wage rate, has been forced to raise the minimum to $3.25. Labor is scarce, and outside contractors were ready to pay higher prices for their help. The civic departments were getting so badly tangled up that the city council was only too glad to come over, as the only way out.

There can be no room to doubt that trades unionism is catching on in Canada. Many of the international organizations report large gains in membership during the past month, and among the organized workers wages have materially advanced, and in many instances work hours have been reduced also. It's labor's growing time now.

Coal is retailing at $11.25 a ton in Winnipeg, and wood is $9 a cord, while bread has had a forty per cent advance inside of a month. The cost of living is going up in Toronto, but the Prairie City is evidently trying to go it one better. On an average a workman requires a couple more tons of coal each year to get through the winter than in Ontario.

According to the Moosejaw Times, there is a considerable shortage of labor in that district at the present time. Many farmers and manufacturers are applying to the Provincial Bureau of Labor for help that is, however, not forthcoming. Apparently the scale of remuneration offered is not high enough to make those who are available anxious for jobs, and it is said the scarcity would not be apparent if those who require help were willing to pay a living rate of wages. This looks as though it might be so.

The financial report of Granby Consolidated Company for the year ending June 30, 1916, shows that gross receipts were $9,239,737, as compared with $4,068,441 in 1915. After deducting financial obligations, the surplus for the year was $3,819,295, equal to 25.46 per cent on $14,985,520 capital stock the previous year. The Granby is no white elephant, it will be noted.

From all over the Dominion comes complaint of the high cost of living. It has become a burning question in every central labor union and every local organization in the land, and the demand is going out in no unmeasured terms for the Federal Government to take immediate action. Now that the municipalities and
