

RUSS OFFENSIVE CONTINUES WITH FRESH SUCCESSES

Several Villages and Big Foe Positions Captured in Galicia, Karniloff's Cavalry Advancing

Petrograd, July 14.—British Advance, per Wireless Press: A front of nearly 50 miles, the Russians have advanced westward across the Lomniand north across the Dniester, taking several villages and important enemy positions, says the official statement issued by the war office.

"North of the Dniester, in the region of Haliuz, says the war office statement, the Russians captured important heights and drove the enemy back to northeast of Haliuz, occupying two villages.

"Southwest of Kalusz the Russians captured the crossings of the Lomni-ca-Perchinsk, west of Bohorod-any.

The statement follows:
"In the region of Vladimir-Volyn-ski (Volynia), southwest of Kichin-y, enemy detachments, under cover of artillery fire, attacked our positions and entered our trenches, but were repelled by reserves which came forward immediately, restoring the situation.

Capture Villages
"The engagement on the Honika seemed to go around. About six o'clock Monday evening the storm broke here. The lightning was terrific and the rain came down in torrents all evening. The electric lights were put out of commission and the town was in darkness until after nine o'clock. The electric railway was stopped for some time. A car of the L. E. and N. was struck at Port Dover and burnt. The travellers had barely time to get out of the car.

The heavy down-pour caused part of the southern approach of the main street bridge to cave in on Monday night. Early Tuesday morning the bridge was closed and partly propped up so most of the bridge might be used. This ought to be a warning for a good bridge to be built so a cave-in could not occur.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Horning motored from Hamilton, on Saturday afternoon and had to return by train.
Misses Amelia Mason and Ada Messecar attended the B. U. P. U. convention in Detroit last week.

teaching domestic science in Windsor during the past year is home for her vacation.

with Miss Marion Davis.
Mr. Fred Appleton arrived in town on Wednesday morning to visit his grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. John D. Renner. Fred was a farmer in Alberta. His many old friends were pleased to see him.

Mrs. Atkinson and daughter, of Toronto, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Atkinson.

Miss Grace McQuaig, of Toronto, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. R. J.
Teeter.

The postoffice is observing the half chants. The office will be closed each Thursday from twelve-thirty to four o'clock.

Although there has been very wet weather this week and part of the time no helpers at the hotel, the girls seem quite cheerful. For a few days, they had all of the work to do and a certain number were picked out each day to do it. The Matron, Miss Sloan, returned to Toronto on Monday and on Wednesday Miss Hudson came to take her place. If the girls are not able to pick the fruit or hoe on account of the rain they give their assistance at the canning factory.

Wednesday in Brantford with their daughter who is ill.

Miss Etta Honey is spending a few ford, is a guest at his sister's, Mrs.

PATRIOTIC FUND.

The present conditions in our country show the wisdom of those who originally organized this fund to assist soldiers dependents. The payments of all monthly subscriptions fall due on the 15th, of each month, and it is very important that the same are made promptly.

Is Breakfast Ready?

The answer is easy in the home where Shredded every day breakfast cereal.

Being ready-cooked and ready-to-eat, Shredded the housekeeper in summer.

Served with sliced bananas, berries, or other fruit, they make a nourishing, satisfying

Do Without Your Phone

DID YOU EVER THINK what this world would be like without any telephones at all? Of course we should get along after a fashion but what a tremendous nuisance it would be! Before the invention of the telephone, business was a very different matter from what it is today. But no one wishes to return to outworn customs, nor could we if we wished, any more than the butterfly could return to its chrysalis state. The great fundamental law of Progress sweeps us along, no matter how much we may seem to resist. And that's what has brought the Automatic Telephone into being which presents an IMPROV-ED telephone with all the inconveniences of the old system eliminated. "Privacy," "Speed" and "efficiency" are the three words which describe it most aptly but to these we would add "economy," a significant word at this time.

BATTLESHIP WRECKED IN EXPLOSION

British War Vessel Vanguard Sinks—Two of Crew Only Survive

London, July 14.—The British battleship Vanguard blew up and sank on July 9, says an official statement issued last night by the British admiralty. An internal explosion while the ship was at anchor caused the disaster to the Vanguard. Only three men of those on board survived, and one of them has died since. Twenty-four officers and 71 men, however, were not on board at the time of the explosion.

The official statement reads:
"H. M. S. Vanguard, Capt. James D. Dick, blew up while at anchor on the night of July 9, as the result of an internal explosion.

"The ship sank immediately, and there were only three survivors among those aboard ship at the time of the disaster. There were, however, 24 officers and 71 men not on board at the time, thus bringing the total number of survivors to 47.

"A full inquiry has been ordered." The British battleship Vanguard displaced 19,250 tons, and her complement before the war was 870 men. The Vanguard belonged to the St. Vincent class of dreadnaughts and was launched in March, 1909.
The Vanguard was 536 feet long, with a beam of 34 feet and a draft of 27 feet. Her armament consisted of ten 12-inch guns, eighteen 4-inch guns and four 3-pounders, in addition to three torpedo tubes.

Drive On Story
In the course of the battles on Wednesday, says the official statement by the war office, the Russians captured 10 officers and 850 rank and file, chiefly Germans. They also took five heavy guns and 10 machine guns.

HOW MOTOR CAR SERVES FARMER

Automobile Playing A Big Part In Rural Life Of Nation Today

Used rightly, the automobile is a fine thing on the farm. It cannot be used for the same purpose as a Clydesdale horse, a milch cow or a fat pig, and it will not bring in a revenue in just the same way, but it, has however, a place to fill, and if used with the same judgment that one would expect to exercise with the other farm equipment in order to secure a reasonable income, it will fill that place just as well as any one of the others.

No doubt many people have the idea that the auto on the farm serves no purpose other than a plaything. This is not the correct view of the modern car. It bears about the same relation to the general farm management and operations that the telephone bears to the home and who for a moment would think of doing away with that great convenience? Certainly not the one who has been in touch with it and who knows and can appreciate its many phases of usefulness. So is it with the car. It is the quick-message work, or the speed-up job where the auto comes in to do its part in the farm economy.

There are always more or less light jobs to do which, in order to accomplish successfully or to work out at a profit, must be done quickly. For instance, a five-mile trip must suddenly be undertaken. The teams are away or at work and would be too slow anyway. What can be done? No way to go. But wait. What about the auto? And almost before you could think about hitching up a horse the car is half-way toward the end of the journey. The auto has saved the situation.

Again, the binder breaks down on a busy day—no repairers less than ten miles away; no more work for half a day. But, hold on, the auto!
The horses are tied to the fence; a speed-up trip is made to the agent, and the binder is again running at full speed within an hour. Ah, wonderful! Who says the car is only a plaything?
