ROLL OF HONOR

Several thousand officers and employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company enlisted for active military duty with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, and the majority of them are now in Europe, bravely battling for Canada and the Empire. This list of those who have given up their lives for their country or been wounded in action does not include the Army Reserves.

"Waste," the London Telegraph forcibly explains, "whether it consists in over-feeding or the throwing away of scraps—is a crime against the State, the community and the individual, wherever it is practiced, in public or private. If that conviction can be brought home to masters and mistresses, as well as to servants, we can rest in full assurance that our fighting men at sea and on the various fronts will not fail in profiting by the comparatively slight sacrifice required from those living at home."

Canadian Troops Perform Wonderful Feat in Capture of Fresnoy by Storm.

Canadian Army Headquarters in France, May 3rd.—Shortly before dawn this (Thursday) morning a Canadian column, composed of veteran troops, carried the fortified village of Fresnoy-en-Artois by storm.

They encountered the same tenacious resistance as at Arleux on Saturday last, but, aided by an artillery barrage, they speedily came to grips with the enemy, and in house-to-house fighting drove him out of the village.

The capture of the Fresnoy carried the Canadians almost a mile further than before on the way to Douai, which is a little more than eight miles due east from the further point of today's advance.

Since April 9 the line has been pushed eastward from Neuville-St. Vaast a distance of almost six miles under most adverse weather conditions during the greater part of the time. Now that nature smiles, the rate of progress is expected to be more rapid.

Destroyed the Defences

Fresnoy lay within the main Mericourt-Oppy position, which, throughout its length, was strongly protected by wire entanglements thirty feet wide. For some days our artillery has been working overtime destroying this wire along a frontage of over two miles north and south of Fresnoy as well as in front of the village. The ground has been searched by artillery fire for machine gun emplacements, which, when well concealed behind uncut wire, gave a tremendous advantage to the defence. Much ammunition is thus expended, but its free use saved the lives of many of our brave fellows today in the tangle of houses, or rather ruins of houses, through which they fought their way down to the eastern slope of the new line established. Many of the enemy must have been buried in the ruins of the houses destroyed in the last terrific burst of fire which preceded the assault.

Captured Many Prisoners

Prisoners taken already number ten officers and 200 of other ranks. Later stories of prisoners and of our own wounded as to what occurred in Fresnoy, and the trenches which protected it, agree that the enemy who, as at Arleux, had taken over the defence only a few hours before the assault, had largely sought shelter from the fearful shell fire to which he was subjected by descending into deep dugouts and to the cellars of houses. Our infantry followed closely behind the bursting shells and reached the enemy's dugouts before he could emerge. For the occupants of the dugouts that meant either surrender at once or a horrible death by the bombing of the dugouts.

Cut off the Enemy

Some of the Germans holding the trench to the north of Fresnoy did emerge from their dugouts and begin to fight. They speedily discovered that the Canadians, after passing over the wire and trench system, had posted men between the front line trench and the enemy's supports, and cut the Germans on the front line off from all chance to secure help. The men thus cut off were from the Rhensian Province of Prussia. Practically an entire company of them surrendered under circumstances, through officers with them, but while the greater part of the prisoners were taken in this way, others surrendered only when they could no longer carry a rifle or operate a machine gun. A captured enemy officer said there was not time to bring the machine guns of his company into action before the men were overwhelmed.

What Viny Ridge and Arleux began Fresnoy has completed. The Hun has been taught that it is a very dangerous thing to despise men who go at winning a battle as if it were their job.

The Famous Hindenburg Line Has Been Smashed

London, May 3rd.—Fighting of terrible intensity raged throughout the day at the main points of the British attack, says Reuter's correspondent at British Headquarters.

"The battling," he adds, "has been, in many places, of a long-drag order, which renders it extremely difficult to define the situation, but I think it may certainly be claimed as a successful day for our gallant troops. The most conspicuous gains have been on the flanks of the long front, while towards the centre of the valley of the Scarpe, we have made less progress owing to the intensity of concealed machine gun fire.

"Despite the opposition of massed German forces, the Canadians took Fresnoy. Oppy, however, still proved too strongly held to attempt to carry it by direct frontal attack without courting a heavier casualty list than the enterprise warranted. The wood in front of the ruined village literally was infested with machine guns. The Germans are fighting with desperate obstinacy.

"Machine guns were perched in trees at various heights, while lines of uncut wire were discovered in gulleys which concealed them from direct observation, as well as in the searching effect of our barrage, so that the attack upon this place amounted to little more than a reconnaissance in force, and our troops with few exceptions were unable to concentrate their fire upon the newly discovered obstacles.

"South of the Scarpe the battle developed into a most successful sweeping movement, our troops reaching Cherisy. Converging tactics upon Reincourt carried our advance across the Hindenburg line and threatened to cut off the garrison at Bullecourt. The garrison was reported to have been captured, but the report was not confirmed.

"The Germans are fighting with desperate obstinacy. Several new divisions have been identified at different parts of the front, showing that the Germans continue to use their strategic reserves. Counter attacks, usually on a formidable scale, developed promptly opposite every point where we gained ground. The enemy recaptured some ground at Gravelle, but the counter-attacks generally were broken up by our artillery fire, which was maintained with almost incredible intensity."

The taking of Fresnoy and the reported capture of Bullecourt indicates that the British troops have smashed their way through the Hindenburg line at two points, twelve miles apart, on the Arras battlefield. Fresnoy is near the northern end and Bullecourt near the southern end of the Arras section of the Hindenburg line.

Guatemala Severs Relations With Germany

Washington, April 28—Guatemala has broken diplomatic relation with Germany. Guatemala is situated in the northern part of the Isthmus of Panama, immediately south of Mexico and of British Honduras. It faces on both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.
