MYERMYSTERY SOLVED

sin of the St. Barbe Farmer.

RESULT OF AN OLD QUARREL

dered Man Had Once Rivalled in Love—They Quarrelled the Day Before the Murder.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—A special received here from Valleyfield says: "The tragic death of Theodore Myer, of St. Barbe, is no longer shrouded in mystery. The authorities have ascertained most of the facts connected with his death and their suspicions are so strongly grounded that an arrest is expected to take place at any moment.

empaneled, are which an adjournable was made.

"St. Barbe is a small hamlet, but when the correspondent arrived there Daoust's hotel, kept by a brother-in-law of the murdered man, was so crowded that it was almost impossible for the officials of the Crown to gain admittance. The proceedings were purely formal, and inside of half an hour the party were on the way back to Valleyfield with the exception of Crown Prosecutor Elliott, who, it is believed, remained to take the steps necessary for an arest.

The residents of Ste. Barbe, and in "The residents of Ste. Barbe, and in fact the people for many miles around, are considerably excited over the tragedy, but they close up several degrees tighter than a clam when a newspaper man appears on the scene. They would, however, talk among themselves, and the facts elicited do not differ to any extent from the statement already published. Myer, it seems, was driving to Dundes to see his father-in-law, and on reaching Dupous' hotel at Cascaville, was informed by a relative that his journey would be useless as his father-in-law was away. Myer then accepted, an invitation to join a card party. They had not been playing many minutes before a man named Corry appeared on the scene and invited the party to drink with him. Several of the crowd did but Meyer took a cigar.

Several of the crowd did but Meyer took a cigar.

"The deceased and Corry, it transpires, once loved the same person, the one that now mourns the loss of a kind husband and father of six little ones. The two men commenced to talk over old times and a tad sore was re-possess which led to a serious quarrel. Nothing more than hard words were exchanged, however, and after procuring a pint of high wines Corry departed apparently for home, and Myer did likewise; both leaving within a few minutes of each other. The story of Myers coming home a corpse has already been told."

The deed of the assassin was witnessed

The deed of the assassin was witnessed by no one and the evidence against the suspected man is almost entirely circum-stantial. Crown prosecutor Elliott came back at noon from St. Barbe and has gone The deed of the assassin was witnes back at noon from St. Barbe and has gote on an important journey."

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—A special from St. Barbe, Que, says: "The suspected nurderer of Theodore Myre of St. Barbe has been arrested. He was taken on a farm ten miles from the scene of the tragedy by Chief of Police Perrier. Three very important witnesses for the crown have been found.

Naval Parade in Montreal. MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—A grand naval parade was given yesterday by the sailors of the Magicenne, Canada, Tartar, Tournmaline and Partridge, comprising the American squadron, now on a visit here. Nearly five hundred sailors were landed from the ships and marched through the principal streets to the Champs de Mars, where they went through a number of evolutions. The fire brigade gave a turn out in honor of the visitors. Admiral Sir John Hopkins and the captains of the ships were the guests of the city at a grand dinner given at the Windsor.

How Lockhead Met His Death.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 24.—At the inquest into the death of James Lockhead, whose body was found at the foot of Bay st. on Sunday morning last, the jury, after hearing the evidence of Drs. Edgar and Stark who held a post-mortem examination, and other witnesses, returned a verdict that deceased had died from asphyxiation through being chooked by partially digested food getting into the breathing apparatus. Lockhead had been intoxicated on the night previous. He had no relatives in this country.

Suit Brought Against the Great West Life by a Hamilton Man.

Hamilton, Aug. 25.—Walker and Philips on behalf of David. Blackley have issued a writ of animons against the Great West Life Assurance Company of Winnipeg. The suit is an interesting one and will be closely followed by insurance men.

The action is for $10,000, the amount of a policy held by Mr. Blackley on the life of the late John Taylor. The policy was issued only a year ago and at that time Mr. Taylor was considered a good risk, but in January last the company claimed that untrue statements had been made in application and they notify the parties that the policy was cancelled.

The company, insisted on a full yearly premium being pald, which was resisted. Mr. Blackley being willing to pay only for the time actually insured. The Company sued and gained their point. Three months ago Mr. Taylor died suddenly, and the present action will determine whether the policy was in force at the date of his death, Mr. Blackley contending that the company on its own motion cannot cancel the policy.
