PREJUDICED SCRIBE SAYS TIGERS STARTED ROUGH WORK.

What the Ottawa and Montreal Papers Have to Say About the Big Game Last Saturday—Free Press Report Is Absurd.

This Ottawa Free Press stuff is so preposterous that it is funny: Tigers won by 29 to 5, according to the count at the press bench. But the officials gave out the total as 30 to 5. However, a point one way or the other does not matter in a margin of that size. It was an inglorious ending to a magnificent start. But all the same, it is removed from the Tiger victory by the fact that they were unable to get the upper hand of their opponents till Ottawa's ranks were depleted by accident and penalty. True they crossed Ottawa's line in the third quarter, but it was only by virtue of getting possession within striking distance of Ottawa's line on a questionable decision. Dr. Biggs, the Tiger linesman on that side of the field, awarded Tigers the ball when it went in touch off a Hamilton player. Williams tried to reason with Hendry over the decision, but the only satisfaction he got from the referee was the declaration of that gentleman, Biggs' veracity, beyond dispute. The referee's confidence in the medical touch judge gave Tigers five points. The score is a good indication of how the fourth quarter went, but stops at that. Ottawa outplayed Tigers in the first half with pretty near an even break in the third quarter till Stronach and Christie went off almost simultaneously, with full back Johnstone also on the side serving out a penalty. While the victors have a margin of 24 or 25 points, it is not indicative of the merits of the two teams, and none are better aware of it than the Tiger players themselves.

For the first time since the formation of the Inter-Provincial Union, the Hamilton team resorted to rough house methods to win. It was the greatest surprise the Ottawa players ever received and caught them clean off their guard. The game had not been in progress many minutes when a concerted attack was made on Bert Stronach. Moore fumbled the ball on his forty yard line early in the second quarter, and Stronach, who was just warming up to his work, recovered it. As he lay flat on the ground with his arms encircling the ball, three-fourths of the Tiger players rushed up and piled on top of him. In the melee Stronach was kicked in two or three places about the head. George Kennedy, infuriated at the treachery, ran up and would have landed someone sure had not his own men intervened. Stronach was dazed for the rest of the quarter, and in the dressing-room at half time lapsed into unconsciousness and did not regain his senses till after time was up for the second half to resume. He asked if the game was over. He was seen tottering on the field under the aid of a stimulant. Throughout the second half he was roughly handled. The climax was reached when Hendry ruled him off for five minutes for a perfectly legitimate tackle if Simpson. The centre half was driving the ball the same time Stronach lunged forward to get him. Simpson was injured in the tackle, but it was not till he was brought Johnstone and fell when a clear field for a touch-down seemed to be his. Jack Williams' goal from field was a splendid piece of football, and Burton's two touch-downs were scored after great runs. Eddie Gerard and Dave McCann both made big runs for Ottawa, while Sheriff also did creditably. Martin Kilt at quarter was conspicuous throughout. The crowd got after all the Ottawa players, Kilt in particular, but the Ottawa quarter took it all in good part and was so dangerous that Tigers had him marked from beginning to end. Kilt tore many holes in the Tiger line and also managed to do his usual share of punting. Stronach's tackling was great, but the big Scot's knee went back on him early in the game and added to this he received, in the second quarter, a kick on the head that dazed him. Stronach was dazed at half time and after that his work was not as conspicuous as usual. Christie was a star of the first water and his loss in the third quarter was a distinct blow to Ottawa. The rival scrimmage and wing men all worked hard, and it would be difficult to single out the best performers in this department. The Ottawa line again showed good improvement, and it was unfortunate that the backs did not do likewise. Excitement ran high through the entire game and pandemonium broke loose in the last quarter when Tigers made a runaway affair of it.

Montreal Herald: Ottawa, as far as its back division went, had gone all to pieces in the last part of the match. And the moment of defeat, which some of the Ottawa players tried to get rid of showed alone how bitter their own weakness was to them. To give any specific play that was responsible for the Ottawa fall down is impossible. They seemed to have the game well in hand during the first half, and then continued fumbles and the weakening of Williams, the star of the back division, gave Hamilton advantage upon advantage, which they did not fail to utilize, and as with each new point scored by Simpson's kicks, their confidence grew, the match would have become a ridiculously one-sided affair but for the occasional flashes of brilliant play on the part of Ottawa and their persistent attempts to put him out of business. To every intent and purpose he was as helpless as a farmer from St. Anne de la Parade would be on a dark autumn night on the Montreal River-front. He was in the hands of the Philistines, and it speaks well for Tigers that he was so little retaliation. But, like rubber doll that has been sat upon, he would bound to the fore, again the minute the pressure was relieved. Now it was a question of pulling his leg; another time of rubbing his stomach, a third time of catching his head and wiping the blood off his face; but each time he returned to the charge, and his relentless punts came as regular as the ticks of the prison clock shorten the life of the man in the murderers' row. "The Schoolmaster" certainly is a remarkable man. Stronach gave him a toss that would have incapacitated anyone else. But in his case it was not only ineffective but came too late, for Ottawa had lost the match virtually then, although the score was only four points against them.

TEMPERANCE REFORM CLUB.

At the Gospel Temperance Reform Club meeting last Sunday afternoon Mr. Sharp gave a brilliant and comprehensive address on the "Purity of Living Along Temperance Lines." He is engaged in the grocery business and has ample opportunities to see into the homes and to observe the effect of the liquor traffic upon long-suffering wives and children, who have, from time to time, had the wolf at the door. His advice to all was to avoid liquor in each and every form. The license law is a premium on drunkenness and crime. The president, Mr. Rolls, occupied the chair and not only commended the speaker, but quoted from the great Willberforce these words: "There is no discharge in this war." Miss L. Smith sang very acceptably, accompanied by Mr. Charles Degman. Bro. F. S. Morison contributed considerably to the interest of the meeting by his talent. A large collection was taken up and a pleasant hour was spent by all who were present.

HOTEL MAN FINED.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 9.—John Dash- sey, one of the hotel men who lost their license on the re-adjustment of license, was up before the Police Magistrate Tuesday morning charged with selling without license. He was found guilty, and was assessed $50 and costs.

You can't convince a man that talk is cheap when he gets a bill from his lawyer.
