WORLD PAYS FINE TRIBUTE TO A GREAT NATION BUILDER

ng of Lord Shaughnessy Calls Forth Expressions of Admiration and Respect For the Man of Far Vision and Unfaltering Determination, Whose Monument Is As Much in Canada's Greatness as in the Railroad He Helped to Build.

On December 10th, at Montreal, Death stilled the keen mind which for forty-two years had been ever at the disposal of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the strong hand which for twenty years had held the lever of that gigantic machine, the gallant heart which had ever been attuned to the music of the giant company's locomotives. Taking away Lord Shaughnessy, he took away with him the last of the old guard of the great pioneers of Canada's pioneer trans-continental. The departure of this monumental man is significant of the changing times, a significant of the changing times, a mark of the Dominion's passing into

The details of Lord Shaughnessy's truly wonderful career have been re-capitulated so often of late that there Born in 1853, at Milwaukee, of Irish Born in 1853, at Milwaukee, of Irish ancestry, he studied for the law, felt the lure of great railway work, entered the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway as clerk at the age of sixteen, and in ten years rose to the position of General Storekeeper. In 1882, when Sir William Van Horne took over the management of the Canadian Pacific Railway, he at once pressed the young man he had known.

Canada will never realize the full extent of what it owes to the stead-fast faith, buoyant optimism, foresight and sheer hard work of Lord Shaughnessy in his desire to build up Canada through the agency of the wast company he headed.

"Lord Shaughnessy, whose passing Canada mourns today, was a man of this calibre, and because of the in-tangible nature of that essence which makes for greatness and crystallizes makes for greatness and crystalizes leadership, the record of his characteristics, his gifts and his achievements must leave much untold. Yet in the qualities that were revealed to his friends and associates, in the firmness of purpose and the strength of character displayed, in the very ascent of the ladder of success, rung by rung Lord Shauchnessy has beby rung, Lord Shaughnessy has be-queathed a heritage to the youth of Canada of splendid inspiration and to the men who have lived through the historic years with him he has left a glad remembrance. . . .
"I have set up a monument more words might be carved upon every line of railway of the system which Lord Shaughnessy did so much to bring to greatness as an epitaph of his life. Himself of strict integrity his life. Himself of strict integrity, he carried the principle of the straitest code of ethics into the administration of the road he loved so warmly and for which he laboured so untiringly. . . . The Empire mourns lass2, when Sir William van Horne took over the management of the Canadian Pacific Railway, he at once engaged the young man he had known with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, offering him the position of General Purchasing Agent. Two years later came the promotion to Assistant General Manager, in 1891 the Vice-Presidency, and in 1898 the Presidency. This position he held until 1918, when he retired to accept the office of Chairman of the Board of Directors, which he retained to the moment of his death. Meanwhile came many honours—in 1891. A Knight Bachelor, in 1907 a Knight Commander of the Victorian Order, in 1916 a Baron, and high appointments in the many civil organizations in which he was interested.

Lord Shaughnessy was a man of vision, of tremendous energy, brilliant and incisive, a great executive, a great financier—almost everythins but a pollitician.

Canada Pacific Railway, he at once engaged the young man he had known with the Vice-Presidency of the Canadian and a great pre-consul."
