Sin,—Would you kindly grant me space in your paper, to refer to a certain article in your useue of March 25th, the author of which accuses me of writing an item in the Star of some weeks ago under the heading of "Colborne." In answer I have to say, and the editor of the Star can bear me out in this statement that I never wrote an article to ment, that I never wrote an article to be appointed to the facancy within a week.

We have just received a copy of "The Revised Statutes of Canada," which is the first revision and consolidation since Confederation. It is a work which was very much needed on account of the various amendments and changes which the saws of the Dominion have undergone since 1867. These statutes were promulgated by royal proclamation and came into fforce on March 1st. They consist of two volumes containing ever 2500 pages, divided into 185 chapters.

Convictions.—The convictions of magistrates of the county for the quarter ending the 8th inst., show only a total of 40 cases. Of those 13 occurred in Goderich, 2 at Seaforth, 7 at Clinton, 1 at Wingham, and the rest by sundry magistrates elsewhere.
