

The Poet's Corner.

The Doctor.

The doctor is a useful man Constructed on a noble plan; He's sometimes fat and sometimes lean And sometimes just half way between.
But none confers more blessings than
The doctor.

The doctor goes and lingers where Men's moanings fright the field air Where'er he can he gives relief To sickness and as well to grief.
Ah, he could weep mortals spare
The doctor.

He may some stately palace own All silk inside and outside stone; But still, in continuing human woes, Like some base-burner stove he goes.
And never sleeps—so far as know—
The doctor.

We may not know him when this shell Of clay betrays the spirit well; But when the spirit doth protest Against the clay that doth invest Our grief in confidence we tell
The doctor.

The doctor is a generous man.
The people cheat him when they can;
They have their health restored 'on trust, And pay him sometimes when they must.
And swear no bill is bigger than The doctor's.

Household Hints.

Change in the weather cannot make a young man happy so quick as change in the pocket.

Dried pieplant is the last thing the woman who lives by eating has experimented with. After stripping as for pies, it is put on earthen plates and dried rapidly in a warm place. It is said to be "not half bad" for a change when soaked, stewed and made into pies in midwinter.

It is said that if soap, sapolin, scurion, or any other elbow grease economizer be used to clean paint, it should be rubbed on a flannel cloth dipped in hot water. If the ordinary cotton rag be used, the paint is apt to come off with the dirt. An "oil finish" is very quickly impaired by alkalies, and soap, ammonia or other cleansing agents aside from clear water should be employed as little as possible.

People who keep birds will appreciate the new style of bird cage, which has, on one side of the door, a roll of thick water-proof paper which crosses the bottom of the cage and is crossed in squares the size of the floor. The so-called paper can be pulled through and torn off in the crease, ready to be thrown into the fire, and the fresh paper, by the act of pulling off the soiled, has taken its place without further trouble.

Mrs. Nelson McCormick, of North Branch, Mich., has made a dress, the like of which is probably not to be found in the country. The material is common spot thread, white, and the entire dress is hand-embroidered with beautifully flowered and strong, and 10,000 yards of thread were used in its construction.
The sleeves are embroidered in the proper shape and are fastened in by a lock-embroidered stitch. It is very beautiful.

A farmer said: "One thing I don't like about city folks—they're either so stuck up that yer can't reach 'em with a haystack pole, or so blamed friendly they forget to pay their board."

The best medicine authorities acknowledge the value of Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and frequently prescribe their use with the utmost confidence, as the most effectual remedy for diseases caused by derangements of the stomach, liver, and bowels.

The boy who writes in his copy book, "Reach after the higher things," cannot understand why his backward anatomy should be tattooed because he gathers jam from the top shelf.

Don't Speculate.

Run no risk in buying medicine, but try the great Kidney and Liver regulator, made by Dr. Chase, author of Chase's Liver Cure for all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Bowels. Sold by all druggists.

The Cow.

Here is a little girl's composition on the cow: A cow is an animal with four legs. The tail is longer than the legs, but it's not used to stand on. The cow kills flies with her tail. A cow has big ears that wiggle on hinges; so does the tail. A cow is bigger than a calf, but not so big as an elephant. She is made small so she can go into a barn when nobody is looking. Some cows are black. And some hook. A dog was hooked once. She tossed the dog that worried the cat that killed the rat.
Black cows give white milk; so do other cows. Milk-men sell milk to buy their little girls dresses, which they put water in and chalk. Cow-pew cuds and each cow finds its own chew. This is all there is about cows.—Hartford Times.

Give Them A Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work.
And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them, that is take Roscoe's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Lindsay Gordon, the Australian Poet.
From the London Standard.
Gordon was banished to the Australian Bush.
In some verses addressed to his sister three days before he sailed from England he says:

"My parents bid me cross the flood, My blindest friend on me;
They say I have belied my blood,
And stained my pedigree.
Nor can it be doubted by any student of his poetry that Gordon felt that landmen were keenly. For it surely cannot be doubted that it is the man (or the exile) even more than the poet who speaks in these verses.
"But out there on the station among the lads I got on pretty well.
It's only when I got down into town That I feel this life is hell.
Booted and bearded and burned to a brick I lost along the street, I watch the ladies tripping by
And I bless their dainty feet.
I watch them here and there With a bitter feeling of pain.
Ah! What wouldn't I give to touch A lady's hand again!"
Permit me, sir, as a lover of Gordon, notwithstanding the criticism of Mr. Froude, who, I venture to think, cannot have read "The Sick Stockrider," "Confessor," or "The Drops of the Monks in Ashcroft," and who, after all, although he visited Australia, has not been in "the Bush," to thank you for permitting attention to be drawn in your valuable column to the poetry of a man who admired of all Australians and of all Englishmen who are not hypocritical.

Killing Robbers in Mexico.

While the robbers were ransacking the town a dozen men ran to the shore, cut small holes in the boats in which the robbers came, and plugged them with mud. The boats were launched and the robbers set out on their return voyage, highly elated at the successful raid. Before going a mile, however, the water began to soften the clay and the huge log dugouts began to fill. Every effort was made to reach the shore, but the openings increased rapidly and soon the boats were full of water and the occupants were obliged to jump overboard and cling to the sides of their submerged crafts to keep from drowning. About daylight a company of 100 men was formed and set out in boats to the spot where the half-drowned men were still hanging to their crafts. Some however had lost their hold and had sunk to the bottom, while the others were so exhausted that they were unable to make any resistance. The fishermen attacked them and soon not a robber was left to tell the tale of their defeat. The bodies of the dead men sank to the bottom of the lake, where they remained for days. Having despatched the robbers, the boats were towed ashore and all of the stolen property recovered.

When a Man Loses His Head.

From the Philadelphia Herald.
"How do you capture the men?" said a port mistress to a woman who had just married her third husband.
"Oh, well," was the reply, "I don't like a young girl, post about trifles, but if I want a man I make him believe that he is the best and smartest individual I ever met. That always settles it, for a man loses his head as soon as a woman begins flattering him."

A Wrecked Life.

From the Omaha World.
Omaha Widow—I should greatly like to meet your wife, Mr. De Sweet.
Mr. De Sweet—I have no wife.
"I can sympathize with you. You, too, have lost."
"I never was married."
"Oh! You are engaged, though, I presume, and—"
"I have never been engaged, madam."
"Ah! I begin to understand. Some sad romance of the past has left its mark upon your heart."
"No, no. I have never been in love. I would not tie myself down to a woman if she were sent down from Heaven to me."
"Mercy! A woman hater! What could have so perverted your nature? What has happened to—"
"I am a dry goods clerk."

A Slight Impediment.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.
—had gone up to visit a lady friend, with whom her acquaintance was slight, and she wanted to let her know something that is usually considered among ladies rather important.
"You know I am engaged to be married."
"Indeed! He's a nice fellow, of course."
"Yes, charming; a delightful gentleman."
"And when is the ceremony to take place?"
"Well, I don't quite know."
"There must be a very delay about such a thing as that. He's wealthy, is he?"
"Yes; he's very well off. But you see—well, there's a slight impediment."
"A slight impediment?"
"I mean—well—he's not divorced yet."

More Remarkable Still.
Found at last, what the true public has been looking for these many years and that is a medicine which although but lately introduced, has made for itself a reputation second to none, the medicine is Johnson's Tonic Bitters which in conjunction with Johnson's Tonic Liver Pills has performed some most wonderful cures impure or impurified blood soon becomes purified and enriched. Biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, liver complaint, languor, weakness, etc., soon disappear when treated by these excellent tonic medicines. For Sale by Good, druggist, Albion block, Goderich, sole agent. [d]

It is understood that Hon. J. A. Chapman, during his stay in Paris, will per-

Not a Book Agent

Mr. Goode, druggist, is not a book agent, but has the agency in Goderich for Johnson's Tonic Bitters, which he can heartily recommend for any complaint to which a tonic medicine is applicable. This valuable medicine has been with most astonishing good results in cases of general debility, weakness, irregularities peculiar to females, extreme paleness, impoverishment of the blood, stomach and liver troubles, loss of appetite, and for that general worn out feeling that nearly every one is troubled with at some part of the year.
Don't forget the name Johnson's Tonic Bitters 50c. and $1 per bottle at Goode's drug store, Albion block, Goderich, sole agent.

The Disappointed Ones.

The following expressions are made use of about fifty times per day at the ladies' delivery window in the post office:

"No letter for me? You must have overlooked it?"
"Oh! there isn't? Well, I didn't hardly expect one."
"Please look again. You don't know how anxious I am."
Thank you. I was going by and thought I'd enquire."
"So strange! He said that he'd write as soon as he got there, and that was two weeks ago."
"You are certain you looked in the right box? Well, if there isn't, there isn't."
"It was a letter with money in it, and I wish you'd tell the postmaster. Maybe somebody has stolen it."
"This is the fifth or sixth time I've inquired, and I'm beginning to be suspicious."
"Thanks, ma'am. I knew you'd give me a letter if you could."

Mothers! If your daughters are in ill health, or troubled with a paleness that seems incurable, or if they suffer general debility, nervousness, languor, weakness, or loss of appetite, procure at once a bottle of Johnson's Tonic Bitters and you will not regret the cost. The out-

Some men are ever ready to offer a remedy for everything. The other day we remarked to one of these animated apothecary shops: "An idea struck us yesterday"—and before we could finish he advised us: "Rub the affected parts with arnica!"

fashion was violently sneezing in a street dreadful cold." "Aw, dear fellow, left my cane in the lower hall to-day, and in sucking the ivory handle, so dreadful cold I chilled me almost to death." If Charles had used Dr. Har-

SCROFULA

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofula. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting result than any medicine ever used.—E.
Haines, No. 14ndale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—
V. F. Fowler, M. D., Roxbury, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.

Rockport, Me.

that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After try-

Sarsaparilla, and in a few months, was cured.
