Ontario Gone Dry.

Big Strike in Copenhagen --- Rioting in Pittsburg --- Mining Disaster Causes 40 Deaths --- Longshoremen's Strike Reaches Crisis --- Terms of Canada's $300,000,000 Loan.

FOOD ROTTING IN DENMARK.
NEW YORK, Oct. 21. Millions of dollars' worth of food is rotting in Denmark and prices have increased from fifty to a hundred per cent. because of a labor strike at Copenhagen, according to passengers who landed to-day from the steamer Helligolav. More than 500 passengers had been delayed six weeks in leaving Copenhagen. They experienced no difficulty from the New York harbor strike, because the clerical force of the steamship company worked all night to unload their baggage.

RIOTING IN PITTSBURG.
PITTSBURG, Oct. 21. Rioting broke out in the steel mill district at Braddock shortly after noon. According to reports received by the police, a mob of 100 persons gathered in the vicinity of the plants and fighting resulted in which a number of rioters were injured. One state trooper was seriously injured and brought to a hospital here. A troop of state police was summoned, rushed to the scene and at one o'clock were engaged in driving back the crowd.

CRISIS IN STRIKE SITUATION.
NEW YORK, Oct. 21. A crisis in the strike of 40,000 New York longshoremen was reached to-day. The International Mercantile Marine, which has forty ships tied up in port, put strike breakers at the work removing cargoes and five hundred U. S. troops began work in dungeons at army piers, where transports to and from Europe have been held up. Army officials made it plain that troops brought here from New York would be used solely as workmen at army piers and would not appear at Private or Shipping Board Docks. Heavy Police guards, however, were on duty at other piers.

STEAMER IN DISTRESS.
HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 21. The steamer New Windsor is in distress in lat. 45.55 North, long. 41.20 West, and the steamer Aicis, 195 miles distant, is proceeding to her assistance. The New Windsor reports that the propeller is stripped of all but one blade.

STILL IN BOLSHEVIK HANDS.
LONDON, Oct. 21. Fortress of Kronstadt was still in the hands of the Bolsheviki on Sunday, according to a despatch to the Daily Mail from Torkick, Finland from which place the red flag was then visible at the masthead of the battleship Petropavlovsk, which is reported to have been raised since she was torpedoed by the British in August last and is now lying in Kronstadt harbor.

OFF FOR AUSTRALIA.
LONDON, Oct. 21. Captain George Matthews, former sailor, turned aviator, set off from the suburbs of Hounslow to-day for the airplane flight to Australia in an effort to win the prize of ten thousand pounds offered by the Commonwealth for that feat.

THE TERMS OF CANADIAN LOAN.
OTTAWA, Oct. 21. Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, to-day made known the terms of the forthcoming victory loan. The prospectus will ask for a minimum amount of $300,000,000 with the right to accept all or any part of subscriptions in excess of that sum. As in previous years, subscribers will be given a choice of maturity five year bonds due November 1st, 1924, or fifteen year bonds due November 1st, 1934. The securities will carry interest at the rate of 5 1/2 per cent. per annum, payable May 1st and Nov. 1st, and the issue price will be 100 and accrued interest for both maturities, making the incoming return 6 1/2 per cent. per annum.

MINING DISASTER.
BENZANCE, England, Oct. 21. A disaster in Levant Mines at St. Just, Cornwall, to-day, cabled about forty deaths. Many miners were injured.

ONTARIO GOES DRY BY HUGE VOTE.
TORONTO, ONT., Oct. 21. Ontario goes "dry" by overwhelming majority. Counting of ballots in political campaign has priority over referendum count and therefore figures of the latter vote are exceedingly incomplete. It is already evident however, that the majority in favor of prohibition will be huge.

SECURITY FOR TENANTS.
LONDON, Oct. 21. Prime Minister Lloyd George to-day announced that the Government proposed to provide security for tenants against increases in their rents and against the sale of farms upon which they are working.

Disabled Ship Coming.
A message was received yesterday saying that the S. S. Windsor, 450 miles east of St. John's, was disabled, with all her propeller blades gone except one. The S. S. Saluda was dispatched to her assistance, and will tow her to this port.

Clock That Strikes Thirteen.
Among the most curious clocks in the world are two in Worsley, Lancashire, that never strike one. Instead, they strike thirteen at one a.m. and one p.m.

One of them is over the Earl of Ellesmere's place called Worsley Hall and is the original clock which the Duke of Bridgewater had placed in the tower. It is said that the Duke had the clock made to strike the "unlucky" number so as to warn his workmen that it was time to return after dinner, some of them having excused themselves for being late on the very ground that they could not hear it strike one.

This recalls the incident when the big clock of the House of Parliament saved a man's life. A soldier in the reign of William and Mary was condemned by court martial for falling asleep while on duty on the terrace of Windsor. He stoutly denied the charge, and by way of proof solemnly declared that he heard Old Tom (the predecessor of Big Ben) strike thirteen instead of twelve. The officers laughed at the idea, but while the man was in prison awaiting execution several persons came forward and swore that the clock actually did strike thirteen, whereupon the soldier was pardoned and released.

Doctors to Fight.
In the good old days, when Hodge on the village green stood and watched with envy the sword play between two young gallants, duels were of as common occurrence as breakfast.

An interesting and sudden revival of the fashion has come about in New York, not because some fayne lady's honour has been smirched, but because of a difference of opinion between two medical men. The weapons to be used are, in the one case, fresh air, cold water, and plenty of good food, while the adversary is pinning his faith on germs of the deadliest order—typhoid fever, small-pox, bubonic plague, and the like. In a word, it is a contest on which Dickens' Bob Sawyer, as represented by the medical profession, will look with keen interest. It is to be a fight to a finish.

Dr. Zettel, of St. Paul, contends that a healthy existence is sufficient proof against disease, and that inoculation and vaccination are exploded theories. Dr. Hill, of Minnesota, debates this point, and, inoculated and vaccinated up to the hilt, he challenges the former to a duel to the death, the agreement being that both medical men will constantly expose themselves to the deadliest fevers ever conceived by the Royal College of Surgeons. Such a great variance of opinion exists regarding the most effective way of combating disease that the result of this experiment should be awaited with very great interest. It only now remains for some enterprising agent to boom it well for wagers to be laid on the winner!

Worth $100 a Bottle to Him,
O'Holloran Says

Couldn't Work For Years—Tanlac Puts Him On His Feet.

"I figure that Tanlac has been worth $100 a bottle to me," said Dennis O'Holloran, a prominent and highly respected citizen of Halifax, Canada, who resides at 327 South Street. "About five years ago," he continued, "I was taken suddenly ill, and no one seemed to know what was the trouble. For two years after this I never did a lick of work, and for sixteen months I never left the house. I was in a terribly run-down condition, and my stomach was in such bad shape I could eat scarcely anything. Most of the time you could hold on a spoon all I would eat at a meal, and what little I did eat did me no good. My nerves were all unstrung and I did not know what a good night's sleep was, as I would sleep in fits and starts. I would get up in the morning worn to a frazzle, and really felt worse than when I went to bed. I finally got so I could get about a little, but could do no work, as the least little effort left me perfectly exhausted, and I just felt worn out and tired all the time, and had about given up all hope of getting well. "I had seen so much in the papers about Tanlac I made up my mind to try a bottle, although I had tried so many things and got no relief that I had lost faith in medicines. The first bottle of Tanlac I took seemed to help me, so I kept on taking it, and now I have taken five bottles, and it has done me a world of good. I am feeling better in every way. I have a fine appetite, eat anything I want and what I eat does me good. I can sleep all night long as sound as a log, my nerves are in fine shape, and I am feeling like my old self again, and can do a hard day's work with ease. I give Tanlac the credit for putting me on my feet, and I can't say too much for it. My wife is as enthusiastic over Tanlac as I am, and we both think it is wonderful." Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac Representative. —adv.

Officers Elected.

The annual election of officers for the tinsmiths "local" took place last night in the N.I.W.A. rooms. The election was conducted by Mr. W. McCraith, and Messrs. Ellis and Fry, assisting. The following gentlemen were elected. Chairman, Alex. James; Ass. Chairman, John Murphy; Secretary, Jas. Mahon; Treas., Thos. Dowden.

Obituary.

We regret to learn that Mrs. Wm. Campbell, wife of Wm. Campbell, Victrola, of Water Street, passed away last night. She has been suffering for quite a long time, and her death was not unexpected. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ward, widow of Rev. E. P. Ward, Mrs. W. S. King and Mrs. H. J. Russel, and two sons, Alex. and Jack; also one sister, Mrs. Julia Reid, of Lethbridge, Alberta. To the husband, and sorrowing relatives, the Telegram extends its sincere sympathy.

Goes into Lumber Business.

We learn that Mr. John Gladney will go into the lumber business at Colinet. Mr. Gladney has been attached to the Constabulary for the past twenty-two years. That he will meet with abundant success in his new venture is what his past record deserves.

Wise Men Say—

That you have no idea how big the other fellow's troubles are.
That money, like salt, is necessary, but an overdose is harmful.
That hard knocks keep us from becoming flabby morally as well as physically.
That not everyone who is gifted with intellect has the saving grace of common sense.
That a man without self-restraint is like a barrel without hoops, and tumbles to pieces.
That the unfortunate thing about good resolutions is that they are often made too late.
That he is not worthy of the honey-comb who shuns the hive because the bees have stings.
That politeness is like an air-cushion: there may be nothing in it, but it eases the jolt wonderfully.
That life is a good deal like a seesaw, and it pays to be decent to the fellow who is down, for he may be up to-morrow.
That the boy who has learned to fight, to dodge, to fall on his feet, is safer than the boy who never goes out in the rain.
That resentment grows through brooding over a fancied slight. Hearts harden themselves in silence, and, as time goes on, it becomes more difficult to break through the silence. Often there are strained relations among men, who, at the bottom of their hearts, have sincere respect for each other, and smouldering affection also, which only needs a little coaxing of the sparks to burst into flames.
