John Knox and the Scotch.

of-kongwine she memory of John Knox. A me time she memory at the parious of making subscriptions of a "santable memorial" to the Scottish Reformer, but there was a considerable difference of opinion asto what knot of a memorial would be likely to give sadisfaction to Knox himself. Various plans were suggested—such as a stained glass window in St. Cilies Cathedral, a statue, the issue in a popular form of Knox's "History of the Reformation," te, but note of them seemed to give satisfaction. Mr. Macfie, M.P., refused to take the chair, "because the idea of creeting a monument to John Knox seemed to hum most incongruous." Mr. Duff "ventified" to say "that nine-tenths of the giple of Scotland would have nothink to do with a stained-glass window. Dr. Begg thought a memorial would be an "insult to the memory of Knox." Dr. Thomson's "own leanings were to wards a great column." Professor Blackie objected to the publication of Knox's work, because it could be done for a paltry hundred pounds. Dr. Smith's difficulty with regard to a statue was that "he should not like John Knox to be honoged." In the end a committee was appointed to consider the subject; and perhaps it will come to the conclusion that the best means of honoring the memory of John Knox is to leave it alone. Illustrious men as a rule fashion their own memorials before their departure, and infinitely prefer walking alone to being handed down to posterity on the shoulders of their admirers.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Russia's Advances in Asia.

A somewhat "sensational" cable dispatch announces, on the authority of the semi-cificial Sts Petersburg Gatos, that the British Foreign Office has protested against any attempt on the part of Russia to penetrate the counties lying between Khiva and Afghanistan. That there is some measure of inherent probability cannot be decied. The Russian occupation of Khiva, against which the Khau of that territory recently made an ineffectual attempt to obtain the aid of the Vicercy of India, brings Russian troops very close to the frontier of Hindostan. The possession of Khiva gives Russia the control of the river Anu, whose source is on the or posite side of the water-shed where the Indus takes its rise. The Anu is said to be navigable as high up as Kimdusb, beyond which is the territory of Badula. A gaainst whose occupation the Bri ish protein, if given at all, has probably been directed. The possession of Badukashan would enable the Russians practically to turn the difficult passes leading into the valley of the Indus by Cabool and Peshawar. For the water-shed between the Amu and Indus consists of out a single ridge, and is flanked on its eastern side by a valley leading directly to the Indus north of Cashmere. Even these advantages might not make Russian a very formidable enemy to a Government fighting so much nearer its base of operations, but neighborhood so close to another European power would not improbably give native resistance to British rule in India a somewhat unpleasant impetus. Afghanistan, however, has shown no signs of doing anything for the Russians, and the natives of British India generally seem to have little desire to exchange one foreign ruler for another.

FOUND AT LAST!—A remedy that not only relieves, but cures that enemy of mankind, consumption, as the numerous statelites which revolve around it in the shape of coughs, colds, bronchitis, scre throat, influenza, &c. The remedy we allude to is Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, prepared by Seth W. Fowle & Son, Boston.

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Itializing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures 'athousand ills,' simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and virtlized blood permeates every 'at of the body, repairing dama, 's and waste, searching out natively secretions, and leaving bothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the remedy incuring Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a had state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably headlate to give it a trial.
