BASEBALL. DOTY KNOCKED OUT.

"Oh, what a falling off was there, my countrymen."--[Shakespeare. Pitcher Doty, of Guelph, received a shock on Saturday that shattered his nerves to such an extent that he completely collapsed in the last two Busse, 1b .. innings. The two victories of Monday last gave many the impression that he would again prove invincible, and this theory was borne out up to the fifth inning, when but two singles had been made off his delivery. Al-though the hits were few, he was very wild, and the visitors assisted the Londons by making six costly errors in fect of these probably rattled Doty. on Monday, and the home batters continually pushed out infield hits until the fifth, when the slugging commenc ed. Every pitcher has his Waterloo, and Doty will long remember not only his feat of two hits in two games, but his punishment of thirteen hits in one game, with the wretched work besides in the box. With no control whatever in the latter part of the game, he gave base upon base on balls and finished up the last inning by accomplishing the seldom-seen work of forcing in two runs in the eighth with four bases on balls and by hitting a batter with

To explain Doty's loss of control is impossible, as his friends claim he is always well able to hold down wild delivery. In the inning referred to eight home batters faced him, and the disastrous work began with sending Gunther was anxious to hit, but Doty could not place it over the plate, and eventually Andy got the ball in the better than anyone, placed a fly in Murphy's mit. Guelph's Great Pitcher Goes running throw to first was as fine piece of ball play as was ever witnessed. The capture of a line drive, also, in the eighth, brought the applause to a deafening pitch, and the jocular third baseman responded to the demands of the crowd by giving them a "prima donna" bow. Not only in these two plays was his work remark able, but every chance was accepted, and his throwing to bases perfect. Joe eaped more applause upon himself when he hit out one of those custonary triples in the seventh with the bases filled. He scored an instant Toronto......
