Come To Church Tomorrow

"YES, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees or by a running brook, or in a man's own house, just as well as in a church. But I also know as a matter of cold fact the average man does not thus worship."

Here are a few benefits to be derived from church attendance:

"You will listen to and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if you are not familiar with the Bible, you have suffered loss.

"You will take part in singing some good hymns.

"You will meet and nod or speak to good neighbors. You will come away feeling a little more charitably inclined toward all the world, even toward those excessively foolish young men who regard church-going as a soft performance.

"Join in church work for the sake of showing your faith in your works."

Make your start in church service tomorrow. A fair trial of church attendance will convince you it's well worth while.

SAYS "GRIP" GERM CAUSES INFLUENZA
Famous London Physician Hopes Serum Treatment Will Effect Cure.

LONDON, July 29.—That influenza is predominantly a germ disease, which can possibly be cured by serum treatment, is the conclusion reached by Dr. James McIntosh, of London, after a lengthy study of the great epidemic of 1918-19, made for the medical research council.

The results obtained by Dr. McIntosh, a report of which today was published, are offered very tentatively. Dr. McIntosh is careful to make no positive claims. Indeed, any one who reads the evidence which he cites must come to the conclusion that his deductions might be put with much greater assurance than they are.

Dr. McIntosh believes that the cause of infuenza is Pfeiffer's influenza bacillus, whose presence could be detected in 80 per cent of the cases which he studied. Other members of the catarrhal group of bacteria were also present, but much less frequently than the Pfeiffer bacillus.

This bacillus sets up an acute inflammation of the respiratory tract, and produces a soluble toxin which, if not counteracted, can cause death. Experiments on animals with filtered cultures of the bacillus produced pathological changes similar to those found in man, and a serum has been evolved which has produced rapid improvement even in severe cases of influenza.

Find Drugs Smuggled Daily Into Montreal Peril Thousand Lives

MONTREAL, July 28.—According to those who are reputable authorities on the subject, over five hundred ounces of narcotic drugs are being smuggled into Montreal every day, a quantity sufficient to cause the death of at least a thousand persons.

The traffic in drugs recently assumed such alarming proportions that local authorities found themselves unable to adequately cope with the situation under existing regulations concerning the penalties for drug peddling.

Ottawa was appealed to with the result that judges have now the jurisdiction to sentence persons convicted of selling drugs to the lash. Other amendments to the act in question prescribes heavy fines and long terms of imprisonment.

Aliens convicted of drug peddling may, in future, be immediately deported irrespective of the immigration act. The publicity given to the appalling conditions in this city will, it is anticipated, tend to check the traffic.

Hospitals are unanimous in declaring that they have never had to deal with so many cases of drug poisoning before.

KILLED BY AUTO TRYING TO SAVE PAIL OF BUTTERMILK
Robert Robbins of Freeman, 82 Years Old, Dies of Injuries in Hospital.

HAMILTON, July 28.—Robert Robbins, aged 82 years, of Freeman, gave his life in an effort to save a pail of buttermilk.

He had gone to the home of a neighbor on the road between Freeman and Aldershot, and had got some buttermilk. While returning he placed the pail on the side of the road while he stopped to chat with a man in a motor truck.

A motor driven by Fred Dawe, Winona, came up, and Mr. Robbins thinking his pail was in danger of being run over, tried to rescue it and was knocked down by Mr. Dawe's car.

He was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital, but died from injuries this evening.

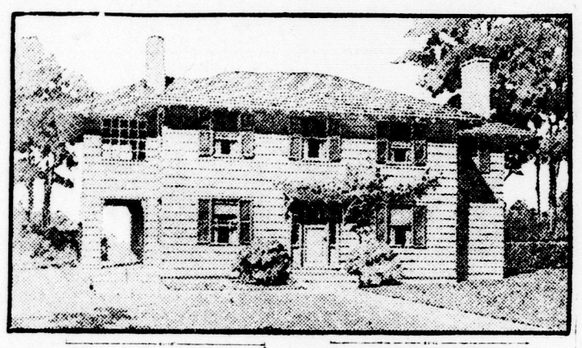
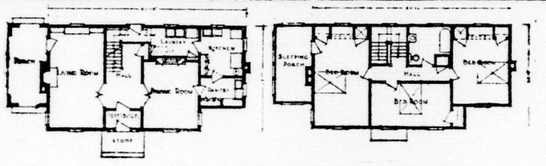
Earns Name of "Western"





Although this house is basically rectangular, the addition of a service wing on one side and of a porch on the other, gives it a very distinctive appearance. It is of a type that has found favor in the middle west, which has earned it the name "Western."

Simple outlines of the house itself, simple roof lines, and simple designs of exterior woodwork make for economy of construction. There is no useless ornamentation. The house depends instead upon its openings—their spacing and design—for its attractiveness. The shutters add to the good effect of the balanced windows, while the little hood over the front entrance accents the well-chosen entrance.

Either the broad or the narow side of this house presents an attractive street side. For the former a 60-foot lot would be needed; for the latter a lot as narrow as 35 feet would do.

There are six main rooms in the house, besides vestibule, hall, pantry, laundry, bath and sleeping porch. The pantry and the laundry (which could be used as a washroom) make it a practical plan for a farm home as well.

The vestibule shelters the rest of the house from intrusion and drafts. It communicates with the stair hall. French doors open from this hall to the living-room on the left, the dining-room and service rooms on the right. The living-room is a large one, across the entire end of the house, with openings on three sides. The fireplace, in the center of the porch wall, is the focus of the room. At the rear, built-in bookcases occupy both corners, with a seat between them under the window. Long wall spaces suggest possibilities for placing furniture.

The dining-room enjoys a view toward the front also. A sideboard is recessed in its rear wall. The pantry is so located that it prevents the sounds and odors of the kitchen from penetrating to the dining-room. It has a small closet which will prove useful for table-leaves, sweeper and mop. Both the pantry and the small kitchen have cupboard space and sinks.

The laundry makes a cool and convenient place for the refrigerator. A shallow closet lined with shelves hints of soap, starch and bluing. An ironing board that folds up in the wall and stationary tubs complete the laundry equipment.

The two bedrooms at the sides of the second floor are particularly pleasant, since they extend the entire depth of the house, thus getting excellent ventilation. Each one also has a combination of closet, tray-case and built-in seat under the rear window. The tray-case, it may be explained, is much like a chest of drawers, and is neatly inclosed behind a regular interior door. The seat has a hinged top, so that it is available as a chest also. The central bedroom and the bathroom opposite it complete the exceptionally well-studied layout of this pleasing house.
