unty Constables-The Annual Dinner To Be "A Quiet Little Time." The Hurontario Canal scheme was introduced by the Legislative Committee. After an hour's debate it was endorsed by 17 to 13.

After the council adjourned for lunch Mr.

McCormack was voted in the chair and a committee was appointed to arrange for the annual dinner. annual dinner.

Mr. J. A. McDonald said that if it was to be as formerly he was "not in it." He did not want every political "clod-hopper" and mountebank to be the feature of the gathering, but just a quiet little time to themselves.

mountabank to be the feature of the gathering, but just a quiet little time to themselves.

The bylaw to abandon the roads of Etobrooke was lost. It was moved that a special committee be appointed to examine the accounts passed by the Board of Auditors for the years 1891-92-93 to rectiff expenses in criminal affairs. The reeve of Newmarket had heard that some constables were receiving pay for two and three different offices, and altogether too much money was spent in criminal courts, and that if the charges were correct a new schedule should be prepared and get the Government to sanction it. As it was now they were allowed to charge one fee by the Dominlon Government. There should be a uniformity. There were too many constables around the Court House who had nothing to do but hold a pole in their hands. Motion lost.

A statement from the County Treasurer re sale of lands for county taxes. The largest list, some 1300 from the Township of York and the rest, some 600, from the Township of Etobicoke. Many of these lots would not pay for the advertising.

It was moved that the warden should enquire of the Government if it was their pleasure to supply the papers for taking the plebiscite rate in January next. Carried.

An invitation was extended by the Scarboro Electric Road (through Reeve Stephenson of East Toronto) to the council to take a trip over the road on Friday next at 8 o'clock. A special car will be provided.

The BARLEY TRADE.

THE BARLEY TRADE.

The Great Decline in Yield and in Ex-ports From Canada. The barley trade is not what it used to be in this province. There has been a great decline in production, and exports to the United States are now greatly reduced. The farmer was accustomed to bring in this grain early in September and from it obtained his first money of the season. The funds put into circulation at that time had a good effect on trade and almost everybody was benefited.

benefited.

Since the McKinley bill (which doubled the duty on foreign barley entering the United States) was put into force three years ago the barley trade has been gradually becoming less and less. Canada's largest export of barley a few years ago was in round numbers 12,000,000 bushels, but this was reduced to 4,000,000 in 1892-93.

The production in this province in former years was from fifteen to twenty million bushels, but good authorities state that five millions is a good allowance for the past season and others say that three millions is good count.

season and others say that three millions is good count.

Canadian barley is well liked by maltsters across the border, and although the duty is 80c a bushel they still take some. A few shipments have been made this season and moderate profits heve resulted. The prices paid the Canadian farmer are small, but the trade is so handicapped that dealers cannot pay any more. Only a few cargoes have arrived at Oswego this season, whereas formerly this was a very important receiving point.

The barley this year is bright, but it lacks body, and consequently there is little prospect of doing an export trade with Britain. No shipments there are reported this year. As compared with British barley ours is much smaller and lighter in weight.

The receipts at Toronto by wagon this season have been small, and they were much later than usual. Dealers are buying at Laks Ontario ports and along the railway lines, and comparatively little comes here. The bulk of the wagon receipts have been taken by locat brewers.

The stock in store here is only 28,700 bushels, as against 40,735 bushels a year ago

, as against 40,735 bushels a year ago om 100,000 to 300,000 bushels in years gone by.

The chief shippers are W. D. Matthews & Co., Coffee & Co., John Sproule & Co., A. Campbell, Mackay Bros. and Crane & Baird.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

The Wrought Iron Range Co. Will Leave the Junction and Come to the City.

Mr. J. A. Nesbitt reports two or three real estate deals. The Sheppard Publishing Co. has bought from E. E. Sheppard and K. L. Patterson 22 and 24 Adelaide-street west as a site for new quarters for that paper. The lot is 42x82.

a site for new quarters for that paper. The lot is 42x82.

The Wrought Iron Range Co., now operating at the Junction, has leased through Mr. Nesbitt the premises 72 Pearl-street, whither they will remove their plant. The company employs 50 men. They are coming to the city because they believe it will pay them to be within range of the advantages of a big centre. Mr. Nesbitt has made several cash sales of house properties, the purchasers being people of limited means who are taking advantage of present low prices to get homes for themselves.

Broker Lambe Loses His Appeal-James peal commenced yesterday. Judgment was delivered in the case of D. W. Alexander v. James Watson of the People's Loan Co.

James Watson of the People's Loan Co. in favor of the latter.

The court divided upon the double-barreled action of George McCormack and Broker A. B. Lambe over the Montgomery farm near Yonge-street. Mr. McCormack purchased this farm in April, 1892, but the immediate possession sought for was not procurable, and so McCormack asked for the privilege of rescinding his contract. Mr. Lambe, on the other hand, asked for the specific performance of the same and for the immediate payment of $11,500, the purchase money. Mr. McCormack won at the first trial. Upon appeal the court divided and hence this appeal, which has also caused a division of the court, Mr. Lambe's appeal being thereby dismissed.
