"MAN WITH RED FLAG"

JOHN BURNS' NAME ONCE INSPIRED TERROR.

Now One of the Leading Legislators in Great Britain and is First Working Man to Reach Cabinet Rank in England—He Led Rioters and Went to Prison for His Principles—One of the Best Loved Men in England.

The vast change that has come over public life in England is graphically illustrated in the career of John Burns. Two decades ago England rang with the terror of his name. Today moderate men give thanks that so steady and conservative a man should be at the head of the Local Government Board. He used to stand in the public mind for all that was incendiary, visionary, revolutionary. To-day men look upon him as a firm brake on the runaway coach of labor. He is the first workingman to reach Cabinet rank in England. For many years he was the idol of his class; he is now regarded by a large section of it—the Socialists—with an almost venomous distrust.

His career has been one of storm and toil. He began life as a machinist on 75 cents a week, a fatherless boy with his mother dependent upon him. It must have been the Scotch blood in him that made him so passionate to educate himself. The passion has lasted. There are few men in England with a larger or a more thoroughly digested library on social and economic questions; there is no man in England who has studied the lives of the poor at such close range or with a more understanding sympathy.

Even before he was twenty he had made himself known as a stump orator on Clapham Common and a pungent letter writer to the local papers. The economics of poverty, problems of housing, the workings of the poor law, the causes of unemployment, the organization of industry—the book to such topics as readily as most boys of his age and class take to football and betting. His employers discharged him, not for slackness or inefficiency, but because they did not care to have a bitter, active propagandist of Socialism and discontent on their payroll. Flung into the ranks of the unemployed, and boycotted by the ring of engineering masters, Burns threw himself wholly into the work of agitation. In the '80's he made himself known all over London as the leader of the unemployed, "the man with the red flag." He was frequently arrested; he was once actually imprisoned; for all well-to-do people his name became synonymous with anarchy, riots and spoliation.

A change began to come over John Burns when he was elected to the London Common Council. The agitator turned by degrees into the administrator. He was the only labor representative on the council, and his experience, sanity and good humor quickly made themselves felt. He proved himself an indefatigable councilor, inspecting and inquiring into everything on his own account, and securing reform after reform in the treatment and wages of the council's employes, the conditions of its contracts, the provision of parks, drainage works, asylums, public control of the London street car system, the erection of artisans' dwellings, and so on.

When he entered Parliament in 1892 he found the same sort of work waiting to be done on a far larger scale. He gained the ear of the House at once—first, because he never spoke without having something to say; secondly, because the breezy, vigorous confidence of the man, his sincerity and enthusiasm, made indifference im-

BABY'S TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Hands Tied to Prevent Scratching.
 FIVE DOCTORS FAILED TO RELIEVE.
 BUT ZAM-BUK WORKED A CURE.

Mrs. Chas. Levere, of Prescott, North Channel, Ont., tells how Zam-Buk cured her baby. She says:—My baby's head and face was one complete mass of sores. The itching and irritation were fearful, and the little one's plight was so serious that at one time we feared her ears would be eaten off by the disease.

"We had to keep her hands tied for days to prevent her rubbing and scratching the sores. Doctor after doctor treated her in vain, until we had had five doctors. They all agreed it was a frightful case of eczema, but none of them did any permanent good."

"As a last resource we were advised to try Zam-Buk. The first box did so much good that we felt sure we were at last working in the right direction. We persevered with the treatment until we had used thirteen boxes, and at the end of that time I am glad to say Zam-Buk had effected a complete cure."

"For eczema, eruptions, rashes, tetter, itch, ringworm and similar skin diseases, Zam-Buk is without equal. It also cures cuts, burns, scalds, piles, abscesses, chronic sores, blood poisoning, etc. All druggists and stores at 50 cents a box, or postage free for price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Refuse imitations."

Catarrh and Bronchitis

The Bane of Thousands, and has hitherto baffled the Skill of Medical Science.

Catarrhzone

Dry air treatment is the one treatment that will cure these diseases. What stomach medicine has ever been known to cure Catarrh or Bronchitis?

Catarrhzone is not a stomach medicine, but an air medicine, that carries to the remotest parts of the throat, lungs, and air cells little drops of healing so curative that whenever it touches germ life it kills and eradicates them from the system.

Thousands of doctors and patients have been disappointed by using stomach medicines for coughs and colds. Have you not found it a rather roundabout way to reach the diseased portion of the throat and lungs?

Why not use Catarrhzone, which is breathed to the very root of the disease and heals so quickly and perfectly that every spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue?

Catarrhzone is the only medicine that will cure. Thousands have testified.

Think for a moment. Is it not sense? Little drops of healing—the air carries them just where disease exists. That is why possible; and thirdly, because on many subjects he probably knew more at first hand than all the rest of the House put together. Everything that concerned the well-being and interests of the working classes found John Burns equipped at all points. A great deal of the social and industrial legislation of the past twenty years bears the mark of his influence, and you would have to search long and deep to come across another M.P. whose career has been so demonstrably useful and constructive.

With his snow-white hair, his large and deeply-lined forehead, his great, brown, burning eyes, his square and sturdy figure, his head thrown manfully back, his whole bearing suggestive of power and combat, John Burns is a striking figure as he rises to address the House or as he tramps up and down the terrace outside with free and swinging stride. But to see him at his best you should see him some Saturday afternoon in one of the public parks, among his own people, giving and exchanging salutations, patting a youngster on the head, helping to fish out a ball that has fallen into the pond, showing a boy how to handle a cricket bat, skipping over the ropes with the girls, congratulating the mothers, jesting with the policemen—his very picture of zest, health and jollity.

The workmen know him and love him. They recognize in him the biggest man that their class in England has yet produced. And John Burns knows them and loves them in return, and uses both his knowledge and his affection to rebuke, chastise them, and shame them into elevating themselves. Himself a non-smoker and a total abstainer, he never shrinks from rubbing in his conviction that there is little the Government can do for the workingman compared with what the workingman can do for himself. No man has spoken out so strongly against drink and betting. No man has insisted more trenchantly that social and industrial reform must begin with the individual. It is there that he parts company with Keir Hardie and his followers. They are Socialists and look to the state for everything; while John Burns hates nothing so much as the thought of the English workingman becoming a prey to that policy of patting the cod-dle which the Labor party holds out as the highest social ideal.
