

QUEEN'S VS. OTTAWA COLLEGE.

AT BROCKVILLE.

ROCKVILLE Station was the scene of a dual performance on the evening of Saturday, November 9th. 'Twas at once a merry and a sorry spectacle. On one side all was glorious, and the joyful hum of the victorious Ottawa Students filled the air, but alas! how different was the scene on the opposite side. What had befallen the three hundred representatives of Queen's, who, a few hours previously, had made Brockville "wonder what struck it." Their "glees" were no longer heard, and each one wished to court his own company in preference to that of anyone else. Even the fish-horns and bugles, that had done service in serenading the way-stations in the morning, had lost their usefulness, and were stowed away in a trunk, "Unclaimed baggage."

We understand it thoroughly

The fond hopes of fifteen ambitious footballers had been shattered, and the dreams of humiliating your old-timed rivals and wresting from them the coveted honors had vanished into smoke. The cup glimmered in the distance, but it was no longer within your reach. The second challenge from Queen's necessitated a trip for our boys, and owing to the unsatisfactory termination of the first meeting of these two teams, the champions were eager for a second engagement, and in accordance with the ruling of the Executive, journeyed to Brockville on the above-mentioned date. The representatives of the Limestone City were there before them; in fact they had taken the precaution to familiarize themselves with the neutral grounds, indulging in a few preliminary practices. The day was all that the most ardent football enthusiast could desire, and when the respective teams appeared on the field, they were heartily greeted by a respectable gathering of Brockville citizens, besides a large contingent of interested supporters of either side. Mr. R. Campbell, of Brockville, was Referee, and a more able official has seldom occupied the position. Mr. D. A. Campbell captained
