For Infants in Hot Weather.

It requires no milk in preparation, and is very effective in the prevention of CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Ziemssen's Cyclopædia of the Practice of Medicine, Vol. VII., says:—"In Cases of Cholera Infantum NESTLE'S MILK FOOD is alone to be recommended, Because the gastrointestinal disorders to which infants are so subject are provided for by presenting only the nourishing properties of cow's milk in a digestible form. Cow's milk produces a coagulated mass of curd and cheese, which the immature gastric juice is utterly unable to dispose of."

This is one of several reasons why infants foods requiring the addition of cow's milk fail as a diet in hot weather.
