ST. JOSEPH STREET,

MR. BRADLAUGE'S GLASGOW SUPPORTERS.—A meeting was held on Sunday in the Bam's Horn Assembly Rooms, Ingram street, under There is only one way by which any disease can be cured, and that is by removing the cause—whatever it may be. The great medical authorities of the day declare that nearly every disease is caused by deranged kidneys or liver. To restore these therefore is the only way by which health can be secured. Here is where WARNER'S SAFE CURE has achieved its great reputation. It acts directly upon the kidneys and liver and by placing them in a healthy condition drives disease and pain from the system. For all Kidney, Liver and Urinary troubles; for the distressing disorders of women; for Malaria, and physical troubles generally, this great remedy has no equal. Beware of imposters, imitations and concoctions said to be just as good. EDINBURGE.—On Saturday, a child, aged 14 months, named Wm. Marshall, son of a farm servant residing at Westfield, near Falkirk, was taken to Edinburgh Royal Infirmary, having swallowed a bent nail about an inch and a half in length while playing in his father's house. The baby, after the nail had been taken from its throat, never recovered, and died on Sunday night.

Last week the mortality in Edinburgh rose from 81 to 114, and the death rate was 26 per 1,000. There were 18 deaths under 1 year, and 35 above 60, of which 3 were above 80 years. Diseases of the chest accounted for 60 deaths, and zymotic causes for five. of which 3 were due to fever-the intimations of the latter disease for the week being 7. There were no deaths from dyphtheria, scarlatina, or measles. Of the 140 births, 8 were

-On Saturday afternoon the three poachers, named Martin Scott, James Kyle and Henry Mullen, who were apprehended in Greenock on Sunday week, charged with having on the previous evening caused the death of two game-keepers named Robert Kyle and David McCaughtrie by shooting them while on the farm of Devol, to the southeast of Port Glasgow, were committed for trial before Sheriff

Smith on a charge of murder. On Sunday the tragedy was the subject of reference in several of the churches in Port Glasgow.

Child-Stripping on the South Side.—A number of cases of child-stripping have recently been reported to the police of the southern district of Glasgow, and owing to the early ages of the little victims no information could be obtained such as would assist in the detection of the thieves. Two girls were brought hafors the Southern Police were brought before the Southern Police Court on Monday who are believed to have been the chief operators on the unsuspecting natures of the children who fell into their clutches. The names of the accused are Jane Cummings, aged 12 years, and Helen Lynch, 10 years. A child of three years old had the most of its clothes taken off it in Hospital street on Saturday. Detectives Kilgour were able to trace the thieves to 28 Kirk street, where they found both girls along with their mothers. The prisoners were, before Sheriff Balfour, on Tuesday, sent to prison for 10 days, thereafter to be detained in Dalbeth Reformatory for a period of five

THE FRENCH MINISTRY. TWENTY-ONE CABINETS SINCE SEDAN.

M. Jules Ferry's Ministry is noticeable like that of Gambetts, for two reasons-first the men who give it a standing as a national body of officers are famous only as atheists; second, the rest are as yet absolute nobodies in politics. Such a Ministry, under Gambetta, with the anti- worshipping Paul Bert as Minister of Public Worship, might, with a little trimming to the wind, have ridden through the gale; but under Ferry, with the fanatical brother-in-law Floquet as the power behind the throne, and a Chamber of Deputies deficient in brain-power but absolute in physical force, it should not continue in office much longer than the average Cabinet, the tenure of office now having been practically reduced to something over five months. Ferry, however, held the Premiership two years ago for fourteen months. To show the absolute lack of principle in French politica:-Ferry was then displaced by the atheistic idea as embodied in Gambetta and Bert. Now Ferry overthrows the unfortunate Fallieres with Gambetta's promise that the French Cabinet shall continue to fight out the battle for the rights of man upon this line :- "Highly they reged against the Highest." SHERIDAN NOT IN DANGER.

No Extradition Proceedings yet Insu-gurated—No Wayrant of Arrest Re-ceived from Washington and Nome relieved to Have Been Issued—In-teresting Precedents Reviewed. 3 1 (31) lady sectioners to the ad est balk size & ? NEW YORK, Feb. 28. Whether P. J. Sherldan, whose extradition is alleged to have: been asked for by the British Government, will, have ito " "go," was a question discussed with much animation yeserday in Irish circles. The opinion was almost uniform that it would be easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for Sheridan to go through the Narrows handcuffed to a British official. The New York Star reporter visited Mr. Sheridan at the office of the Irish World, and found him seated serenely at his desk. DHe said that no papers had been served upon him, and that now he anticipated none. He continued writing diligently long after the whistles had sounded for 6 o'clock, and then put on his overcoat and passed into the street unmolested.

United States Commissioner Osborn said : -" I put no reliance in the despatch published to-day stating that the President had issued a warrant for the arrest of P. J. Sheri. dan. Our extradition business with Great Britain is not managed in that way. If her Britannic Majesty's Government wanted Mr. Sheridan, the British Consul would make an affidavit before a United States Commissioner, setting forth the ficts in the case. A warrant based upon the affi-davit would then be issued. This is according to the treaty of 1842. In extradition treaties with some of the Continental States the case is different, and the warrant comes directly from the President. I think the despatch a canard."

"You have issued no warrant, Commissioner?"

Mr. Osborn smiled. I don't say anything about that."

At a late hour last evening Marshal Erhardt had not been notifi d officially of the application of the British Government for the extradition of P. J. Sheridan. Becorder Frederick Smyth gave some interesting reminiscences of cases that occurred long ago. He remembered that in June, 1842, the British Consul, Anthony Barclay, petitioned for the extradition of Thomas Kaine, accused of firing the year before upon James Balle, of Cooleen, Ireland, with intent to murder him. The accused man was taken before United States Commissioner Bridgham, who decided from the testimony that he ought to be extradited. A writ of habeas corpus was secured from Judge Betts of the Supreme Court, but dismissed after a hearing, and the Secretary of State directed the Marshal to deliver his prisoner to the British Government. A second writ of habeas corpus was applied for, and the case was argued by the late James T. Brady and other eminent lawyers, eight Justices sitting on the bench. Nevertheless, the majority of them agreed that a case had been made out sgainst the prisoner, and Kaine was accordingly sent oross the seas. An interesting history was also given of Michael Day, who came to this country from Ireland over forty years ago, and was accused of shooting in Durrow, Kings County, Lord Norbury, a son of the Juage who sentenced Bobert Emmet to execution. While he w-s being taken to the Tombs an excited crowd attempted his rescue, but James T. Brady, one of the best criminal lawyers in the State, who was near at hand, sprang upon an ash barrel and assured the roaring mob that he would defend the prisoner, and that he should never go back to Ireland. He kept his word. and secured the discharge of his client on the ground that there were no witnesses against him present, and that affidavits would not suffice, because they could not be crossexamined. Day lived for twenty-eight years afterwards in this city on the East side, and when he died, thirteen years ago, was buried in Calvary Cemetery, where his body now lieg.

Another case, forty years ago, was that of father and son, John and Patrick Bamber, arrested near Oswego, charged with killing a bailiff in the North of Ireland. William H. Seward was Governor of the State at the time. On effidavits from Ireland the prisoners were committed by a Commission until the extradition papers could be made out. The case was laid before the Governor, and, after going over it carefully, he denounced the action as outrageous, declaring that the testimony was insufficient and that the Commissioner had acted illegally. On the very day that the British officials expected to secure their prisoners, they were taken on a writ of habers corpus into the Supreme Cours and discharged. The Commissioner claimed to be acting independently of the State Government, and threatened to call out the entire militia to ascert his authority. This gave the Whigs their first victory, because the question en-tered into politics at the next election.

When United States District Attorney Fiero was questioned by the reporter, he said there had been recent changes in the extradition treaty, but he thought there was no clause covering political offenses, and he considered it doubtful if Sheridan could be extradited. Several lawyers spoken to were of this opinion, and, although they pleaded that they did not know what crimes might be sworn against Sheridan, they were unanimously of the opinion that a man could not be taken out of the country and hung in Ireland for supposed crimes on the mere affidavits of people who might be trying to save their own necks.

CASES OF FAIR DEALING IN THE DE BERT OF HUMAN LIFE, 60

In some cases recently the newspapers are speaking of equity ruling where the law does not give a remedy—especially in the case of a corporation (corporations are often soulless). The Louisiana State Lottery Company -a lady complained her ticket (winning one half of No. 43,713, which drew the first prize of $30,000) had been fraudulently obtained after litigation the contestants compromised amicably, each taking half. A lady residing in New York city had lost her ticket in the mail, but on application to M.A. Dauphin, President of the Louisiana State Lottery Co., at New Orleans, La, obtained the number, learnt it had drawn $10,000, filed a caveat, proved her right, and after a proper delay had her money paid to her. Such acts make one think that there are cases of fair dealing in the desert of human life.
