

hand fight between the Meds. and School, in which both sides were covered with glory and a mixture of grease and variegated inks. Individual heroism was displayed on both sides. Lang and Coates were so battle scarred as to be hardly recognizable, while nearly all of the contestants bore some mark of the fray, marks which only time will efface.

The School again demonstrated their faith in the water cure, and a stream from the convenient Varsity hose brought wet clothes to many of the Meds.

The occasion was fittingly celebrated by the usual grant of a half holiday.

A meeting of the "At Home" Committee was held last evening. The form of entertainment was discussed, but no definite programme is yet decided on.

Raynor is so sorry he missed the fight.

The amount called for from the School to send a S.P.S. Association team to St. Louis was raised without and difficulty. Unfortunately the promised grant was not forthcoming from the Athletic Directorate, and the trip was called off.

The Engineering Society have received from Mr. H. G. Tyrrell, Chief Engineer of the Brackett Bridge Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, a paper on "Estimating Steel Structures and Bridges." The paper is an original, prepared especially for the Society. Since Mr. Tyrrell is one of our most prominent graduates and one of the leading authorities on structural steel, the paper will, no doubt, be appreciated by men in that line of work.

In view of Mr. Clement's constant use of the 'phone, would it not be more convenient to lower the box or build a platform?
