

referred to in the report of the Advisory Committee on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States and the report of the Advisory Committee on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

The Advisory Committee on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States has the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the report of the Advisory Committee on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States and the report of the Advisory Committee on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

While having great respect for the opinion of the Advisory Committee on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States, the Advisory Committee on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States has the honor to state that it is of the opinion that the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States are not in the best interests of the United States and that they should not be adopted.

The Advisory Committee on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States has the honor to state that it is of the opinion that the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States are not in the best interests of the United States and that they should not be adopted. The Advisory Committee on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States has the honor to state that it is of the opinion that the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States are not in the best interests of the United States and that they should not be adopted.