

- traband, 82; on the liability of the vessel, 246.
- Holland, total prohibition of neutral trade by, in 1599, 40; attitude of towards the contraband trade of subjects, 71, 88; rule of, as to liability of vessel, 248.
- Holland, Professor, Manual of Naval Prize Law, 14; on British proclamations of neutrality, 80-1; on the international status of the neutral trader, 91; on the doctrine of continuous voyage, 161.
- Hospital ships, immunity of, 175.
- Hostile destination, necessity for, 139; effect of changing, 140; distinction between goods and vessel, 140; continental practice, 140; Anglo-American practice, 141.
- Hübner on the responsibility of the neutral state, 69; on contraband articles, 115; on visit and search, 197; on the liability of the vessel and non-contraband part of cargo, 237.
- Ignorance of outbreak of war, effect of, 230, 249.
- Illegal shipbuilding, 2, 60-7.
- Imperfect neutrality, 56.
- Indirect contraband, 126.
- Innocent part of cargo, treatment of, under British practice, 242; opinions of continental jurists, 243; continental practice, 250; provisions of Declaration of London, 251.
- Institute of International Law, discussion of contraband by, 13-14; on neutral equipment of vessels of war for a belligerent, 65; on the responsibility of the neutral state, 75-6; as to contraband articles, 128-31; on the doctrine of continuous voyage, 157-9; on the doctrine of convoy, 200; on the destruction of neutral prizes, 207; on the practice of breaking bulk, 211-12; on the pre-emption of conditional contraband, 130, 229; on the liability of the vessel, 244-5.
- Insurance of contraband goods, prohibited by the municipal law of some countries, 81; permitted in Great Britain and the United States, 81-2.
- Intent with which contraband goods supplied immaterial, 85-6.
- International prize court, 16, 216; suggested for the trial of neutral American claims in the war of 1914-15, 219.
- Italy, policy of, as neutral in war of 1914-15, 88; applied doctrine of continuous voyage in 1896, 159; rule of, as to liability of vessel, 245.
- Japan, attitude of, towards contraband trade of subjects, 71, 74; rule of, as to condemnation of vessel, 248.
- Jenkins, Sir L., on list of contraband, 109.
- Jenkinson (Lord Liverpool) on neutral observance of belligerent prohibitions of trade with the enemy, 32.
- John Zinnisees's threats to the Venetians, 24-5.
- Justinian's Digest and Code, provisions of, on contraband, 23.
- Kleen on the responsibility of the neutral state, 74, 75; on the international status of the neutral trader, 89, 93; on list of contraband, 128-9; on the practice of breaking bulk, 210-11; on the confiscation of non-contraband part of cargo, 243, 244.
- Klüber on conditional contraband, 127; on confiscation of contraband, 228; on the liability of the vessel, 243.
- Lardy on conditional contraband, 129.
- Lateran decrees as to trade of Christians with the Saracens in munitions of war, 25.
- Lawrence on the international status of the neutral trader, 94; on pre-emption under the Declaration of London, 230.