

first step. If we as a race can feel our brothers' sickness as our own, their lacks our lacks, their triumph in flesh and spirit, our triumph, there is in us the stuff of destiny and there awaits us a future without finite limit.