There was a large number of the cat-tle that were far from being of good Melady & Co. had the following at the quality. Melady & Co. had the following at the close:

Wheat—The government report was neutral and to that extent it was a weapon in the hands of the advocates of lower prices. General rains last night resulted in some steadiness this morning, but Minneapolis, in addition to closing a cent lower than yesterday, broke an additional 2c to-day. Northwestern houses were the best sellers in the early trading, creating an impression that reports of unsatisfactory conditions in spring wheat were unfounded. There was practically no support in our market. Continental markets were steady to a fraction higher, and some winter wheat Trade was brisk in nearly all the dif-

commission house buying in wheat, on pessimistic reports from northwest and poor threshing returns from Kansas, but $7 per cwt. weakness in coarse grains and lack of Sheep and Lambs. aggressive buying weakened the bull po-sition and brought about considerable ilquidation. There was some buying against downward indemnities, shorts Export ewes sold at $4.75 per cwt.; lambs at 7c to 8 1-2c per lb.; yearling against downward indemnities, shorts covered rather freely, but bearish pressure was in evidence right up to the close, considerable wheat coming out on stop orders, altho under 93% of for September there were many resting or light end forts.

on stop orders, altho under 93%c for September there were many resting orders met to buy. Local traders were more or less bearish, but it looks to us as if the decline had gone about far enough, considering that big export buying orders may unexpectedly appear. Corn—Corn started strong, but declined around the noon hour under heavy pressure and lack of support by bull interests. The close was weak and nearly 2c lower for the day.

Oats—Fresh crops damage reports and some country buying started oats off strong, but when the other markets turned weak, oats broke sharply and many stop loss orders were caught, accelerating the decline.

Mr. Hafris reported the markets more decided and fats.

Marshall, Spader & Co. wired J. G. Beaty at the close:

Wheat has been under selling pressure to-day and consequently has had a heavy tone. The bulls tried to play for a reaction to put out more short wheat, but were not very successful. There is some new wheat coming and offerings from the country are steady, but not large. The weakness of the northwest situation was very largely responsible for the early decline here. One bright spot in the situation is the fact that foreign news continues to come very bullish.
