Accessibility to the habitat of patients and their friends is probably of more importance than the location of the hospital from a sanitary point of view. At any rate a hospital in Toronto will prove a godsend o hundreds of patients whose circumstances will not permit them to patron ize a hospital at a distance. Mr. Gage and the gentlemen associated with him are to be congratulated on the success of their labors, not less than the people of Toronto who are to reap the benefit of their generosity and enterprise. The Toronto project is already a certainty. Financial arrangements have been completed for the building of four cottages and the main building, and a laboratory is practically assured. We understand the Toronto sanitarium is to be a for a woman who is not in prime health and condition. Every woman who is not in prime health and condition. stand the Toronto sanitarium is to be a free institution, a place which will be open to all, whether they are able to pay or not. In this respect the Toronto hospital will differ from 'the one at Gravenhurst. The latter will continue to be self-supporting, while the former will be more of a charity. We know of no institution that is more badly needed in Toronto than the one contemplated. Mr. Gage proposes to start with four cottages. It will not be long till the number is doubled, and trebled if there is need of them. Once the sanitarium is completed and its good work recognized by the people, there will be no lack of funds for whatever in the increasing interest that is being manifested in tuberculosis must be entired to the most climent of women.

blood in his veins, he came down to see the reporter.

He is a little bit of a chap—in height like Napoleon, in features like a refined banana man. He speaks English—not much, nor well. When he was asked, "Parlez-vous, Francais" his face brightened up, and hejoyously replied, "Oui, Oui!"

He is a lawyer, 45 years of age, and has practised for 20 years. His mission from his dear Mexico is to take his invalid wife to New York to a specialist. He has done so, and is now returning home. He speaks in grandiloquent terms of Canada. "Bet is bootiful, bootiful—what you call splendid! Eet is most bootiful! Oh, Canada is chie!" He thinks the best hotels in the world are in Canada, and praised the cooking he had encountered while here. Enthustastically he told of a ride he had around file city on the trolley, and explained that they had only horse-cars in Mexico, but added that in March, 1899, they are to have an electric system. have an electric system.

The Foundation of Health.

New York, Nov. 16.—Dr. Henry J. Garrigues believes that many persons in New York are buried alive annually. This, he says, comes about through the fact that it is frequently left to laymen to say when a person is dead, and that the doctor writes out a certificate when informed by a layman that the patient is dead.

Dr. Garrigues says that there should be a law requiring the physician to make a careful examination and then certify that the patient is dead.

Heavy Failure in New York.

New York, Nov. 16.—Allan MacNaughton, who filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy yesterday, to-day followed the example set by his brother, by filing a similar petition in the clerk's office of the United States of Medical Jurisprudence last night. It created a sensation. The opinion was also shared by other physicians present.
