British And German
Ministers Heard In Home Parliaments

SCHISM IS SEEN

Possibilities of Exclusive European Body Stressed With American Countries

BERLIN, March 23.—The Reichstag today rejected a Nationalist party motion of no confidence in the government and demanding withdrawal of the German application for membership in the League of Nations. The vote was 229 to 141.

Afterwards the Reichstag approved the government's course at Geneva by a rising vote.

LONDON, March 23.—The governments of Great Britain and Germany today will defend themselves before their respective parliaments with regard to the last week's unsatisfactory adjournment of the League of Nations meeting at Geneva without having admitted Germany to membership.

France, in the throes of a financial crisis, will be the most interested spectator of the proceedings in London and Berlin.

Foreign Minister Stresemann, of Germany, began his defense yesterday, and now expects to obtain a large vote of confidence this afternoon.

CHAMBERLAIN ON DEFENSIVE.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British Foreign Secretary, will speak, his first word in the House of Commons today since he, as a hero of Locarno and newly created Knight of the Garter, left London during the first week of March to add to his peacemaking reputation at Geneva.

David Lloyd George and former Labor Premier Ramsay MacDonald, will attack Sir Austen in the Commons today.

EUROPEAN BODY SEEN.

Politicians are convinced that the recent fiasco at Geneva ended whatever possibility there may have been that the United States sometime would join the League of Nations.

The advocates of an exclusive European League have been strengthened in their conviction that representatives of South American and other countries should withdraw from Geneva and found their own international society somewhere else.

It is possible that the Liberal attack against Sir Austen may fall as there are indications that the Liberals have thought of rejoining from their bold stand of last week, during which Lloyd George said he would make a reduction in Sir Austen's salary as a technical means of obtaining a censure vote.

ATTACK COMING.

Lloyd George, however, will open the debate whether he pursues a reduction or not, and he will be followed by MacDonald.

They will tell the Foreign Secretary that not only did he fail to add to his reputation as a peacemaking diplomat, but he actually destroyed it at Geneva.

Sir Austen will follow the opposition speakers and then Premier Baldwin will rise to speak in the name of the Cabinet.

The Cabinet and Chamberlain are in complete agreement, according to all indications it is certain that Baldwin will defend his Foreign Secretary with every means in his power.

Best Thinkers Frown And Clench Their Fists

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—Kitt your brows and clench your fists and you can think better than when you relax and smile. This has been determined by the psychology department of the University of Southern California.

In every test the students showed they could think faster and more accurately when muscles were tense.

The experiments also disclosed that students used a different setting of muscles in concentrating on each subject of their courses.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 23.—The engineer of train number 4 on the Nickel Plate Road, Chicago to Buffalo, was killed yesterday when the train was derailed at Athol Springs, 10 miles west of here. Split rails were believed by railroad officials to have caused the wreck.

YOUNG WOMEN SUFFER MOST

Ayer's Cliff, Quebec.—"I have been teaching for three years, and at the end of the year I always feel tired and have no appetite. I was a full sick each month, too, having pains in my back until sometimes I was obliged to stop working. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I heard many women telling how good it was so I thought it would help me. Through an advertisement in the papers I knew of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has been of great benefit to me, the troubles being completely relieved."

"Tony The Shoemaker" Surrenders
on Indictment For Old Time Slaying

"Tony the Shoemaker," now middle-aged and prosperous and claiming only the name Anthony Perretti, has surrendered himself in the Brooklyn County Court to answer an indictment for first degree murder brought against him ten years ago when as "the Shoemaker" he belonged to the notorious Navy street gang which terrorized the thorough waterfront.

Perretti has been a fugitive in European countries since he escaped to Italy soon after the night of Sept. 7, 1916, when Nicholas Morrell was shot and killed at Johnson and Navy streets.

Entering the court with his attorney, Robert H. Elder, he stood quietly while Mr. Elder said to Judge Alonzo B. McLaughlin, "This man is ready to surrender and stand trial, Your Honor. He pleads not guilty to the indictment." Judge McLaughlin remanded him to await trial.

Perretti refused to say just where he had been during the last ten years, but authorities said that he was never located after the shooting and had probably gone directly to Italy.

New Treasure Hunt For Revolutionary Funds of Cuban War Days

HAVANA, Cuba, March 23.—(United Press).—A treasure hunt for revolutionary funds amounting to $200,000 in United States currency is being organized by veterans of the Cuban War for Freedom, at Aguacate, Cuba.

According to the veterans, just before the battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor in 1898, a Cuban filibustering expedition raised $200,000 in the United States. The Spaniards, getting wind of the fund, detailed soldiers from Havana to go to Aguacate to investigate the rumor. The Spaniards were successful in locating the group of patriots having the money and pursued them so closely that one of the Cubans buried the money in a secret cache. The Cuban was killed by the Spanish soldiers and the secret died with him.

The remainder of the band now believe they have located the approximate location of the treasure on a farm owned by an American and are endeavoring to get permission from the owner to search for the money on his property.

BOY BOOTLEGGER PROBLEM TO JUDGE

Fourteen Year Old Lad Admits
Selling; Court Hesitates to Sentence

NEW YORK, March 23.—A boy bootlegger, the youngest defendant in a liquor case ever to appear in the Brooklyn Federal Court, edged hesitantly into the courtroom and took his place in the line of 18 persons waiting to be sentenced by Judge Marcus A. Campbell.

Harry Sogofsky, 14 years old, he told the surprised judge. Then stolidly he awaited his fate while Policeman John Daddato explained that he had bought a half pint of whiskey from the boy at his mother's candy store in Brooklyn.

Unwilling to fine the boy, which would mean his imprisonment if the parents refused to pay, Judge Campbell postponed sentence until April 5, meanwhile paroling him and ordering him to appear in the judge's chambers every Saturday morning.

Twelve other defendants pleaded guilty to charges of violating the Volstead act and paid fines totaling $2,800.
