

DEMPSEY-WILLS MEETING VIRTUALLY PROHIBITED IN INDIANA

OPINION GIVEN BY LAWYER TO GOV. JACKSON

John Risko Stays 12 Rounds With Gene Tunney

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 19.—The foundation for placing legal obstacles in the path of the proposed Dempsey-Wills fight in Indiana, probably at Michigan City, next summer, was laid yesterday, when Attorney-General Gillon, of Indiana, gave Governor Jackson an opinion on the legality of the fight, which virtually prohibits the meeting of Dempsey and his challenger.

"It is possible," the opinion said, "that these men might, without violating the law, meet for the single purpose of exhibiting their skill as boxers, excluding from their purpose, the exchange of blows which would be calculated to demonstrate superiority between them in their chosen and well-known profession. If this is the intention, there is no intended violation of the law." Otherwise he held that such a meeting would violate the spirit of the Indiana law.

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 19.—Quintin Romero, Chilean heavyweight, scored a decision over Homer Smith, Kalama-zoo, in ten rounds here last night, pounding the westerner severely in the fighting.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Gene Tunney, English flyweight, easily outpointed Wee Willie Woods, of Scotland, in a ten round contest here last night. Johnny Breslin, New York, gained a decision over Joey Ross of New York in ten rounds and Willie Lamotte, Jersey City flyweight, conquered Jimmy Russo of Grand Rapids in ten rounds.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—Gene Tunney, New York, was given the decision over John Risko, Cleveland heavyweight, in a 12-round bout here last night. Tunney decisively outpointed the local man, taking six rounds and Risko two, four were even. Tunney staggered Risko with blows to the stomach and jaw in third round, but was unable to floor him. In the eleventh he pounded Risko repeatedly without receiving a return. Tunney weighed 188 and Risko 192.

World's Speed-Skating Meet Open Here Two Months From Today

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN A. DUNLOP.

NEXT WEEK, the International Skating Union holds its annual at Pittsburgh when Saint John's application for a world's championship meet will be passed on. There is little doubt that it will be granted and once that is accomplished, only detail work remains to bring to a fitting climax the carefully-laid plans started last spring. And while it is early yet, special mention is made of the work in this connection by D. J. Corr, the energetic secretary of the local association who will represent the association at the Pittsburgh meeting. As early as last March, Mr. Corr went to work on plans for a big meet here this winter. He was given a free hand and that his work is bound to meet with success is shown by the excellence of his report presented at the annual meeting of the executive recently. It was unanimously endorsed and he was complimented regarding it. There is no one in Saint John who knows the skating game better than "Dan" Corr and we are fortunate in having a man so well-equipped to represent us at Pittsburgh. He is the last man in the world seeking publicity and we expect a letter of protest from him regarding this. But if a sincere "Well Done" now is out of order by us so is President Paterson of the local association who paid a warm tribute to his worth at the annual meeting. A carbon copy of that protest then will be needed.

WHEN SEAGAR, captain of the Montreal English Club, who has played against the New Zealand team says that U. N. B. compares favorably with them, it is an eye-opener to us to realize that our standard of play in the Maritimes is on such a high plane.

INTERNATIONAL college hockey is slowly progressing as shown at the annual meeting of the Canadian inter-collegiate union recently when a representative was appointed to try and arrange a play-off between the Canadian title-holders and the winners of the Princeton, Harvard, Yale combination. Beattie Ramsey, who has played in Saint John with the Canadian Olympic squad and who now is hockey coach at Princeton, supports the proposition and it is believed the others will fall into line. This is just another instance of the development that hockey is making in the United States and it speaks well for their material when they have reached a stage where they can be considered as worthy rivals of their Canadian brethren. It is not possible this year to form a league with all six teams entered and the play-off idea was suggested. Canada will suggest that a best two-out-of-three game series be arranged for New York. While on the subject of hockey, we again point out: There will be ice here in about four weeks' time. Meanwhile, the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association fails to move in the matter of lining up New Brunswick clubs. It's a shame to disturb all this serenely over the entire hockey surface. Rip Van Winkle would enjoy it.

THE CITY BASKETBALL LEAGUE drew away to a running start last night. A classy card is scheduled for Saturday night on the Y. M. C. I. floor when Trojans clash with the newly-formed Nationals A. C.

HARVARD'S totally unexpected win over the strong Brown University team last Saturday by the grace of a dropkick from the toe of Henry Chauncey, playing his first varsity game, and Yale's crushing defeat by a brilliant Princeton eleven has set the critics by the ears when it comes to doping out the possibilities contained in the clash Saturday at Boston between those ancient rivals, Harvard and Yale. Two weeks ago, the slaughtering houses at the bean city were preparing for a week-end rush of material composed largely of Crim-son but the re-action has set in and anything is liable to happen with the rejuvenated Harvard eleven fighting desperately to regain lost prestige. With the Yale-Harvard clash out of the way, the only big classic remaining is between the service eleven of Army vs. Navy. Up to the present, Yale has won 25 of the classics, with Harvard winning 13 with five tied. The series started in 1876. Saturday will also see the last game of college football for the famous "Red" Grange. The great Illinois halfback will face the strong Ohio State eleven at Columbus. It is highly probable Grange will be made a tempting offer to play professional football next year.

Letters to The Editor

That New Musical Club. To the Editor of The Times-Star: Sir,—It is with the keenest interest that I note the formation of a musical club for the women of Saint John, a club which should go a long way to improving the music of the city.

As I am deeply interested in everything of a musical nature, I am pleased to see that the formation of a musical club for the women of Saint John, a club which should go a long way to improving the music of the city.

I am sure that many many ladies who could and would become very active members will unfortunately be unable to become members on account of the hours. There are many reasons for this. Many are working and cannot get off, others, account household duties will also be unable to attend.

I am satisfied the executive of the club are anxious to have as many members as possible, so I am going to ask the club to consider the advisability of naming one night in the month to see that the ladies cannot-attend ladies will have an opportunity of becoming members.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, also wishing the club every possible success, I am AN INTERESTED PARTY. Saint John, Nov. 19, 1925.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, it was announced in the House of Commons, will cost the British Treasury £1,100,000. Parliament will be asked to vote that sum, but when liquidation of the exhibition is complete there is likely to be a certain amount of the proceeds from sale of assets to be returned to the Government.

VOTE ON GIRLS' RULES TO COME IN DECEMBER

Secretary of Canadian Association Writes to Trojans' Manager

IN a letter received yesterday by Manager Golding of the Trojans A. C. from the secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Basketball Association, J. P. Page, Edmonton, Alta., says that the question of rules for girls' leagues will come up again for vote this year, the latter part of December. This matter is now being considered by local clubs and Secretary's Page's letter is, therefore, timely and interesting. He says:

"My personal opinion is that until such time as provincial organizations are actually formed in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and notification of such organization by myself that you are the logical representative of the Dominion body and that you are entitled to act personally or appoint someone else to act for your section. I feel that your affiliation with the Dominion body last season entitles you to this consideration. As to the question of what rules should be used by girls, I am expressing my own opinion in this letter and must not be interpreted as official, since, as I have already stated, the question of rules must be voted on by the members of the council. We have four in Edmonton that girls' rules are probably best-suited for immature girls as we find them in the public and perhaps the high schools. After leaving high school, however, only those girls who are keenly interested in the game and physically fit to stand up against 40 minutes of strenuous play, stay with it. For these girls, men's rules are certainly not objectionable and possess several advantages. I am sure that teams of the calibre of the Commercial Grads, world's champions, and the University of Alberta, would not consider going back to girls' rules while I also know we could never finance an inter-provincial series if girls' rules were used. As far as the so-called intercollegiate rules (I think these are the same as what you term the 'two-thirds' rules), they have never met with favor out here and are not used by any of the teams in this district, even in the public and high schools."

"Red" The Great Sings

Harold "Red" Grange, elusive meteor of the gridiron, will write the final chapter in his collegiate football career Saturday, Nov. 21, while 70,000 persons look on from the concrete amphitheatre of Ohio State University. Grange hopes to write that chapter in bold, dashing style. And the football world hopes it will be written in that fashion. Grange's style is bold. He is the most spectacular player ever to dot the cleated shoes. Grange, however, can be ranked as the greatest of all in one angle of the grid game. He is without a doubt the greatest open field runner that ever lived. He has one habit, peculiar alone to Grange, which has been the prime factor in earning him this honor. That is his ability to sidestep an opposing player. All great ball runners have been adepts at stiff-arming, have been wizards in mapping out their fields and out-guessing the opposition. Necessarily they have all been crafty runners, in side stepping flying tackles and wriggling from the arms of would be tacklers. But Grange has the uncanny ability to rush full tilt at the would-be tackler, stop dead in a single stride and then dash off full speed at a sharp angle, such as a rubber ball bounces. The tackler, set to halt Grange according to orthodox methods of running and tackling, is left helpless, sprawling grotesquely on the sod. Reams can be written, of course, about his specific achievements on the gridiron which would only prove the point accepted—that he is a wonderful player in every way. But in passing it must be said of Grange also that he has been a credit to the game. He has preached, by his modesty, cleanliness of thought and action through three hectic years of football the value of clean living and clean sportsmanship. Which makes him a greater athlete. Grange's efforts have been wasted if this season hasn't been absorbed by the hundreds of thousands of red blooded Americans who have followed his every run.
