IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Robert W. Miller who died Oct. 15, 1912.

As we gather at the table, And watch each smiling face, Our hearts fill with emotion To see the vacant place.

We may strive to hide our longing In the midst of mirth and fun, But we're thinking, thinking, thinking Of the loved—the absent one.

Now when the day is over And they all have gone to rest, We feel our Heavenly Father Does all things for the best.

So we cheer our drooping spirits With the rising of the sun, But we can't help thinking, thinking Of the loved—the absent one.

THE ST. JOHN BOOM

Amber news—St. John is agitating for a million dollar hotel. The plans for the scheme have already been secured on a site in Prince William Street. The only thing now to be done is to raise the necessary one million dollars. St. John is having a special sale of property at the present time and if the business men of that town take hold of the project, there is no reason why it should not be a success.

COUNTRY MARKET

The country market stalls were filled to overflowing with a liberal supply of produce. There was a good run of buyers and business was brisk. The stock of vegetables was most plentiful while meats and poultry were also fairly abundant. Moose was more scarce than for some time and sold at ten cents wholesale. Chickens sold from 30 cents to $1.25, four, 75 to 81 a pair, level from 75 to 100 cents a pound, lamb and pork eleven cents, butter from 27 to 33 cents a pound, and eggs from 20 to 45 a dozen. It is difficult to tell as to how the supply of poultry will be up to the standard, and that turkeys will be fairly plentiful.

REPORT THAT JACK JOHNSON IS SHOT BY GIRL'S RELATIVES

REPORT NOW NAMES NAT GOODWIN IN ALIENATION SUIT

Baltimore, Oct. 19.—One more chapter has just been added to the story concerning Miss Marjorie Moreland, a Baltimore actress who before she went on the stage was Margaret Parrott, and Nat C. Goodwin, actor. According to a dispatch from San Diego, Cal., Goodwin has been made the defendant in a $25,000 suit filed against him there on the charge of alienating the affections of Miss Moreland from her husband, Charles Doughty, a real estate operator.

Miss Parrott and Mr. Doughty were married about eight years ago. Soon after Miss Parrott went on the stage, became Miss Marjorie Moreland, and later Nat Goodwin's leading woman and his confederate in matrimonial rumors.

Mr. Goodwin said he knew nothing about the suit, declared the idea was preposterous. Miss Moreland said: "Four years ago I found it necessary to leave my husband because he did not properly support me. I thought I might have some talent as an actress and I sought employment on the stage. It was necessary for me to borrow money from my mother to pay my railroad fare in order to get employment."

"From that time to this I have heard nothing of my husband. He has not in any way contributed to my support. Having fairly well established myself in my profession, I decided to bring suit for divorce which I did, three or four weeks ago in my home city, Baltimore. That case will come up for hearing in a short time."

REPORT NOW NAMES NAT GOODWIN IN ALIENATION SUIT

Baltimore, Oct. 19.—One more chapter has just been added to the story concerning Miss Marjorie Moreland, a Baltimore actress who before she went on the stage was Margaret Parrott, and Nat C. Goodwin, actor. According to a dispatch from San Diego, Cal., Goodwin has been made the defendant in a $25,000 suit filed against him there on the charge of alienating the affections of Miss Moreland from her husband, Charles Doughty, a real estate operator.

Miss Parrott and Mr. Doughty were married about eight years ago. Soon after Miss Parrott went on the stage, became Miss Marjorie Moreland, and later Nat Goodwin's leading woman and his confederate in matrimonial rumors.

Mr. Goodwin said he knew nothing about the suit, declared the idea was preposterous. Miss Moreland said: "Four years ago I found it necessary to leave my husband because he did not properly support me. I thought I might have some talent as an actress and I sought employment on the stage. It was necessary for me to borrow money from my mother to pay my railroad fare in order to get employment."

"From that time to this I have heard nothing of my husband. He has not in any way contributed to my support. Having fairly well established myself in my profession, I decided to bring suit for divorce which I did, three or four weeks ago in my home city, Baltimore. That case will come up for hearing in a short time."
