John Clark, held a short and impressive service. The choir of the Centenary church was present and sang several selections, including "Abide with me," and "Rock of Ages."

The floral tributes included a large pillow of white carnations, pink and white roses, swansons, and ferns, with the word "Brother," from Murray and Mrs. H. A. Austin; large bouquet of white roses tied with white ribbon, from Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McLeod; and bouquet of pink roses tied with pink ribbon, from Dr. and Mrs. W. W. White.

The members of the provincial government were present in a body. The pall bearers were Judge Tuck, Judge Barker, Judge McLeod, J. D. Hazen, M. F. P. Dr. Elias Alward, Dr. A. Stockton, H. D. Blair, jr., and the funeral cortege proceeded to Fernhill. There a short service was held and the body was deposited in a slate vault in the King to Gregory, E. B. Winslow, Geo. Allen, Willard Kitchen and J. H. Crockett came down from Fredericton. Hon. Dr. Pugsley came in this afternoon. Mr. Justice Hanington also came down today.

A special meeting of the St. John Law society was held this morning, J. D. Hazen, M. F. P., presiding. The president, Dr. A. A. Stockton, E. T. C. Knowles, Dr. Alward and G. S. Smith spoke briefly, referring in graceful terms to the many eminent qualities of the late Judge King and of the loss which not only the bench and bar of Canada has had in his loss, but of the whole country as well.

G. Sydney Smith offered the following resolution, which was carried:

Resolved, That the society at this meeting convened for this purpose, desire to express however inadequately, its deep regret at the loss which not only the bench and bar of the province, but the country generally has sustained in the death, at a comparatively early age, of the Hon. George Edwin King, LL. D., D. C. L., one of the ablest and most successful lawyers of the province and of Canada. In addition to his being richly endowed by nature with a broad, fair and comprehensive intellect, he was distinguished in his qualities as a legislator and statesman which quickly brought him to the foremost position in the legislature of the province and at an unusually early age caused him to be selected to fill the high and important office of chief justice of the province of New Brunswick, in which position he served with a successful and distinguished record. In the present moment, the intensity of the discussion of which at the time, can be best appreciated, notably among which was the bill providing for the system of free public non-sectarian schools.

Positive, determined, unyielding in his convictions, but with affable and courteous in his demeanor, his efforts in the public interests were nearly all cases crowned with success. His talents and learning, for he was a learned and successful lawyer, a man of broad general scholarship, caused him to be selected to a position of great honor and distinction in this province at an early age, and his marked success in that position and great ability in his duties, led to his elevation to the more distinguished position of a judge of the highest appellate court in Canada, the responsibilities of which he performed with great satisfaction to the members of the bar of Canada and to the public generally.

Judge King had moreover great literary attainments, his knowledge of the law, his thing good in the realm of art had literature. Courteous in manner, and affable in his demeanour, he was a man who had made many friends and will long be deeply regretted by hosts of people, who enjoyed his friendship and his company in the home where he was born, in which his early successes were achieved and in which his memory will always be cherished, as a patriot and a citizen. An upright and patriotic public man, a great orator and able, fearless and indefatigable lawyer, his name will be a lustre on the city and province of which he was so long and so distinguished a son.

It was decided to send a copy of the address to Mrs. King, G. S. Smith, A. H. Hanington, A. C. Fairweather, S. Alward, A. I. Trueman, E. T. C. Knowles, R. McLeod, T. F. Regan were appointed to meet the body at the depot.

It was also decided to attend the funeral. R. G. Murray and A. G. Blair will act as marshals.

The council was instructed to procure a portrait of the late Judge King, to be hung in the equity court room.

Judge Wedderburn, who attended the funeral of the late Judge King this afternoon, was speaker of the house of assembly when Hon. Geo. E. King was leader of the government.

W. C. T. U. DINING ROOMS.

They Have Been Admirably Fitted Up for Summer Patronage.

The W. C. T. U. dining room, one of the oldest and most popular restaurants of its kind in the city, has recently been entirely renovated and prepared for the busy season. The rooms have been prettily painted and repaired, and a new oil cloth has been laid on the floor. As a result the general appearance of the rooms has been greatly improved and everything about the place looks neat and dainty. Altogether a new lease of life has been made of the establishment, which will commend themselves to all of the many patrons of the dining room. Formerly the cooking was done in a room immediately to the rear of the dining room and separated from it by a curtain. As a result the odor of cooking was apt to pervade the outer room. Lately the kitchen has been moved to the upper flat, while a dumb waiter connects it with the floor below. Another stove in the rear, which is now partitioned off, serves to keep the food warm until placed on the tables. The dining room has become deservedly popular. There are in the dining room twelve tables, and these will hardly accommodate all the guests, especially during the summer when many of whose families are out of town, dine there. The menu and service are of the very best. All profits from the establishment are expended by the W. C. T. U. in relieving destitution and aiding in general benevolent and public purposes.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Post Office Inspector Colter Quite Seriously Injured.

A serious accident occurred on the Elgin branch railway yesterday, caused by the train, which was running on Petticoat, crashing through a wooden bridge. Two or three of the passengers were injured, while all the train hands escaped uninjured. Dr. Colter, post office inspector; W. A. West, of Hopewell Hill, and S. J. Kennedy, of St. John, were on board. The two latter escaped with slight injuries, but Dr. Colter was thrown violently against a stove and injured his spine. He was removed to the house of Mrs. Robinson where Dr. B. F. Steeves attended him. It was necessary to administer morphine to relieve his intense suffering. Dr. McDonald of Petticoat was also called. The doctors declare the case serious but not hopeless.

W. C. Whitaker went up on the early train this morning and through to Elgin, but as there is no telephone or telegraph line to that village no word had been received from him up to 2:30 this afternoon. There is therefore still no means of knowing more than was stated last night concerning the condition of Dr. Colter.

STABAT MATER.

Rossini's Stabat Mater, rendered last evening by local talent, under the auspices of the St. John Oratorio society, was in every sense worthy of the enthusiastic praise it evoked.

The programme was carefully prepared and well carried out under the able management of George Collinson, to whom much of the success is due. The opening number was a violin solo by Ernest Du Domaine, which richly deserved the hearty appreciation evinced, as did again his second solo. The trio of Miss Frances Travers, J. A. Kelly and Robert Seeley was much enjoyed, as was also the well rendered piano selection by Miss Nano Stone.
