CLOSING STOCK LETTER.

By direct private wires to J. C. Mackintosh and Co.

New York, March 1.—The tonnage of the tonnage published this morning failed to meet things in the market and created a ripple of interest. The few who took the trouble to read it were inclined to the belief that it had been tampered with. Compared with the first drafts and that it would have little effect upon public sentiment, the market as a whole remained calm and lifeless. The closing stocks showed some signs of activity and strength, but the dealing appeared to be confined to a very small group. The market, however, looked to be of an accumulative kind. The general list was not subjected to a test of strength, but there have been some indications for many days that the supply of stocks was limited and that it would require some unusually favorable news to materialize. CLOSING COTTON LETTER.

By direct private wires to J. C. Mackintosh and Co.

New York, March 1.—There was little or no news to influence today's cotton market and the course of prices reflected largely the bearish average of room sentiment. The tone was quiet through the majority of the session with movements within range of 1/2 to 3/4 points. The market developed in the final trading of the day, with the price giving way with ease and the final level was 7 to 10 points below last night's closing. Much of the selling was based on indications that the short interest in the cotton market had been eliminated yesterday's strength having been based largely upon the assumption that a roof sired beer account remained uncovered. With speculative sentiment still bearish and with the moderate demands of the trade, the prospect of any immediate substantial recovery is not flattering.

REAL ESTATE.

Members of the local lodges of Knights of Pythias are considering a project for the erection of a handsome lodge and club house on the lot in Carleton Place. A committee is at work canvassing the members to ascertain what support would be given to the proposition. The plans which are under consideration, call for a structure which would cost about $20,000. It is said a hall for public purposes would be included. The plans for two self contained brick dwellings to be erected on the corner of Orange and Carmarthen streets are being prepared by W. K. Wilson. The following transfers in real estate have been recorded during the last few days:

G. S. Bent to H. H. Pickett, a property on Charlotte street.

H. H. Bent to H. H. Pickett, a property on Charlotte street.

Susan W. S. Brown to Mary J. wife to W. E. Emerson, a property on Ludlow street, Carleton.
