

BE GENEROUS, GREY PLEADS, WITH IRELAND

Better Quit Island Entirely, He Declares, Than Continue in Present Murderous State.

MUST HAVE ONE NAVAL POLICY ONLY

Admits Murder of British Officers Last Sunday Has Complicated Matters Greatly.

With British and Ireland so close together and under modern conditions of miles and submarines the continued existence of two separate navies is an absolute inconsistency with the safety of either country that there should be divided naval authority. He admitted that after what had happened in Ireland in the past few weeks he would hardly advocate a practicable house, as he did recently, that Ireland should be left to what form of government she desired. But the time might come when the government would have to consider that method of procedure again.

He would have it clearly understood in Ireland that Great Britain would not go on indefinitely being uncooperative in the position of either concerning Nationalist Ireland or concerning Ulster, and the greatest lever the government could bring to bear to secure a settlement would be to make it perfectly clear that the ultimate responsibility for the government of Ireland rested with the Irish people, and that the government could not continue indefinitely to govern any part of Ireland by force.

Viscount Bryce

Viscount Bryce said that instead of sending Ireland in two it would have been better to have one parliament, with all possible guarantees that Ulster would be looked after. The bill as it stood offered no prospect of fulfilling the hopes of the Irish people, and it was only by going still further that a settlement could be accomplished.

Lord Middleton intends tomorrow to move the adjournment of the debate for a fortnight to allow the government time to consider what amendments, financial and otherwise, it will propose.

PILES Are Generally Caused By CONSTIPATION

There are few, if any, complaints more common than hemorrhoids, or piles, as they are commonly called, and scarcely any which cause more trouble, annoyance and misery.

Ninety per cent. are troubled with them at some time or other, owing to allowing the bowels to become in a constipated condition.

Piles are caused under three headings, i. e. itching, bleeding and protruding, and the excruciating pains which accompany them cause misery which is beyond description.

Ointments and suppositories may help and relieve for a while, but to get rid of them, it is necessary to have a free, easy and natural motion of the bowels, at least once or twice a day, and by doing this the cause will be quickly removed.

Milburn's Laxative Pills regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the liver and bowels, thus removing the constipation and all its allied troubles. They contain no choleric or drastic mineral ingredients, being purely vegetable. They are small and easy to take, and do not give, weaken or sicken.

Milburn's Laxative Pills are 25c. a vial at all druggists or dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

After The "Fiu" Four Children Had Whooping Cough

Whooping Cough, although specially a disease of childhood, is by no means confined to that period, but may occur at any time of life. It is one of the most dangerous diseases of infancy, and yearly causes more deaths than scarlet fever, typhoid or diphtheria, and is more common in female than male children.

Whooping Cough starts with sneezing, watering of the eyes, irritation of the throat, feverishness and cough. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble, as it helps to clear the clogged-up air passages of the mucous and phlegm that has collected, and in this way brings on the "whoop" which brings the so-much-sought-for relief and heals and soothes the lungs.

Mrs. J. M. Rouse, Imperial, Sask., writes: "After the 'fiu,' last fall, my four children took whooping cough, and one of them developed bronchitis. After using two or three bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup they were greatly relieved of their nasty coughs. It is an especially good remedy for children, and is so nice they take it readily, and ask for more."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is 35c. and 60c. a bottle at all dealers. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

REVIVE TALK OF PROVINCE OF N. ONTARIO

Residents Claim Money Collected Is Not Spent on the Northern Interests.

Port William, Ont., Nov. 24.—F. H. Keefer, K. C., M. P. for the riding of Port Arthur, spoke today before the convention of the Central Canada Colonization and Highway Association, advocating secession from the Province of Ontario and the formation of a new province, to consist of the whole northern portion of the province, including the district of Patricia.

The speaker, who was introduced by Chairman A. Pitt, took issue with the Government of the province on the expenditure of money collected in this northern district, saying that two million dollars was collected from it, over and above what was expended on it through grants for roads and other Government services.

Compares With Others Well.

He claimed that financially and from the standpoint of population and territory the proposed new province was favored by comparison with other new provinces at the time of their formation. Mr. Keefer was accorded a kindly hearing, but no resolution dealing with the matter is likely to be brought before the convention, as all resolutions that will be considered at the present session were in the hands of the committee by November 15.

The convention, which is meeting under the presidency of Alfred Pitt, of Dryden, has already endorsed the formation of a union of municipalities covering the four Western-most ridings of Ontario, Port Arthur, Fort William, Kenora and Rainy River.

DESPERADOES OF WORLD ENGAGED IN RUM-RUNNING

Rev. W. D. Wilson Relates Experiences During His Term
as Chief Inspector.

REFUSED OFFICER PERMIT FOR GIN

Sympathetic Courts Greatest Need of Province for "Dry"
Rule Enforcement.

Bishop Richardson made an eloquent defence of the Prohibition Act. Judge Wilson also spoke strongly in favor of it and returned to the growth in temperance sentiment which had taken place in the province since the enactment and repeal of the first prohibition measure in 1856.

"Our Guest," was proposed by Rev. Z. L. Fast, of the George St. Baptist Church who referred to the fact that he had been associated with Mr. Wilson since a time prior to the appointment of the latter as secretary of the Prince Edward Island Alliance.

Rev. W. D. Wilson

The chief inspector expressed thanks for the complimentary things which had been said about him. What had been accomplished in the past three years and eight months had been the work not of one man alone but of all who had given their support. Since April 4, 1917, he had been looking forward to giving an account of his stewardship and he came un-daunted, full of courage and encouragement. Too much credit could not be said of the advisory board of the Alliance composed of Donald Fraser, of Plaster Rock, W. G. Clarke of Fredericton and Rev. Thomas Marshall, of Fairville, which was appointed to aid him. Through the sanity and judgment of that body disaster often had been averted. In 1916 New Brunswick had the best prohibitory act of the Dominion but much had happened since then. The act now was not the best because the necessary amendments had not been passed.

Courts Must Be Friends

The courts ought to be sympathetic. They should be the supporters of the act and not its critics. They should be impartial. Pity was not asked. What was wanted was fair play. One of the great necessities was a community conscience. Formerly much of the fighting had been done in the open and then it was known if an opponent were down. But in the past four years there had been much fighting behind closed doors, fighting in which there had been no British fair play. There were many problems to face. One of his subordinates from Madawaska had told him that although the officials there caught many cases of liquor, they were getting not more than one in fifteen and not one case in fifty was being seized.

Three counties bordered on Quebec and two hundred and fifty miles of frontier bordered on Maine. Some of the desperadoes of the world are there. It was not known what an inspector had to do. Some inspectors were facing death every day. He would understand the situation of the inspector in Ontario the other day. When a man draws a weapon on another something is bound to happen. He thanked God that such an occurrence had not taken place in New Brunswick while he had been chief inspector. One of his men had come to him and asked if he was to shoot if necessary.

The answer had been that he should ask the question of someone else. The man then asked for a revolver. The speaker said his answer to that question had been that he would furnish hand cuffs and baton but that if the inspector wanted a revolver he would have to get it himself.

Mr. Wilson said that prohibition in New Brunswick had been a pronounced success, not a failure. If the law had not been kept on in some places while the recent crime wave swept across Canada many lives would have been lost.

Charles W. Morrell

The death of Charles W. Morrell occurred on Wednesday, Nov. 24th, at the Home for Incapacitated, St. John, N. B. He was sixty years of age and had been in the Home several years. He is survived by his wife and three daughters, Mrs. D. G. Howard, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Dela Doyle, of Boston; and Mrs. Jean Larrabee, of Boston; two sons, Arthur, of St. John, and Andrew, of Los Angeles; two brothers, E. C. Morrell, 253 Germain street, and S. M. of Cambridge, Mass. and four sisters, Mrs. F. J. Vail, of Boston, and Mrs. James Holman, of Public Landing; Mrs. Albert Clark and Mrs. Edwin Staples, of Cambridge, Mass. Mr. Morrell was a deacon of Tabernacle Baptist church, and the funeral service will be conducted by Rev. Isaac Brindley, minister of Tabernacle Baptist church. After the service at the Home, the body will be taken to the residence of his brother, E. C. Morrell, 253 Germain street, to await departure for Hampton.

CANADA TO GET MORE NEWS FROM BRITISH ISLES

New System Inaugurated for Direct Cable from London to Canada.

BEST OF EMPIRE STORIES FOR CANADA

Canadian Editors in London to Edit the Wires for Canadian Public.

Montreal, Nov. 24.—At a meeting of the Canadian Press shareholders, held here today, it was decided to establish direct British cable service of news, supplementing the present services used by the Canadian Press, and the board of directors was authorized to enter into an arrangement for the British news service of Reuters' News Agency, to be edited in London by Canadian Press editors and carried to Canada by direct cable.

Under past conditions the bulk of the foreign news published in the Canadian papers has been received through the Associated Press of the United States, which, while being free from any color or distortion, has been open to the objection that it did not carry all news from Great Britain that the Canadian people were particularly interested in.

The New Plan.

Under the new arrangement, the volume of news collected by the British Press Association, the co-operative organization of British newspapers, and also that gathered throughout the world by the Reuters' agency, will be accessible to Canadian Press representatives and placed directly before the Canadian public, without passing any foreign channels.

This development, which will greatly improve the service of all Canadian daily newspapers, is undertaken at considerable extra expense to the Canadian papers.

Among those present at the meeting were the following: E. Norman Smith, Ottawa Journal (president); J. D. Black, Fredericton Journal; Frank B. Ellis, St. John Globe; G. Fred Pearson, Halifax Chronicle; A. D. MacNeil, Glace Bay Gazette; and J. F. B. Liversay, General Manager of Canadian Press, Limited.

EX-CHIEF HAS CASH AND RINGS HE DOESN'T WANT

Prisoner Who Left Them at Moncton Vanished Two Years Ago Quickly.

Special to The Standard
Moncton, N. B., Nov. 24.—How Moncton's ex-chief of police, Geo. R. Rideout, has apparently fallen heir to $1,733.99 and diamond rings estimated to be worth at least $1,500, makes an interesting story.

In August, 1918, Ex-Chief Rideout detained a stranger in Moncton named George Henry Moore under the Military Service Act. When questioned as to his registration card, Moore was unable to produce the document, but claimed he had registered at Bow River, Alberta.

After being taken to police headquarters, Moore alleged that he could establish his identity if allowed to see the wires. He deposited with the chief of police $1,733.99 and four diamond rings as guarantee that he would return if allowed to go to the telephone office.

Never Came Back

Moore's proposition was agreed to, but once he left the police building he was never seen again by the police. He disappeared from Moncton and he has never been heard of since, so far as his whereabouts is concerned. Ex-Chief Rideout is now holding Moore's money and valuables ever since. Recently Chief Rideout resigned from the police force, and the City Council has taken up the question as to what he came of the money and who is responsible for it. The receiver-general, and attorney-general of the province and the Moncton city solicitor have advised the city council that they are in no way responsible for Moore's money, and the matter is one entirely between Moore and the police.

Sage Tea Darkens Hair To Any Shade

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody Can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known down-town druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after a few applications or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

by sending your cheque tonight to Mr. A. C. Skelton, Bank of British North America, Provisional Treas. Relief Fund.

Every little helps. Even one dollar a month will preserve the life of one poor child.

Forward Once Again in the Cause of Humanity

Study this map. Typhus has seized on these war-weakened nations. A terrible dearth of doctors, nurses and medical supplies makes them an easy prey. They are dying like flies. Their resources at an end, there is no hope for these peoples save from outside.

The British Empire War Relief Fund has been organized under the patronage of His Majesty the King to raise funds to combat world-threatening plagues and distress in these stricken areas.

The fund will be administered in Europe in co-operation with the League of Red Cross Societies.

Every dollar will be made to count. Canada's achievements in the war must not be dimmed by haggard support here.

This is a call to common effort for humanity that the Empire sends forth to all its people. Canada can only give one answer.

CROWN FORCES CRUSH IRISH TERROR RE

So Declares Sir Hamar
Wood in Replying to Attorney of Hon. Mr. Asquith

IRISH PEOPLE ARE ANXIOUS FOR PE

Absolutely No Reprisals
by Soldiers Declared
Secretary for Ireland.

Answering Mr. Asquith, Sir Hamar Wood, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, was applauded and cheered on rising.

"The vast majority of the Irish people are not in favor of the war," he said. "They want peace and are getting peace, because the Crown are breaking the war." Sir Hamar declared the majority of the Irish people want the best of terms with the British and the police.

The Murder Bulletin

"The murder gang in Ireland," issues a document as the Irish Republican Bulletin, that murder gangs send the papers in England, some of the papers in London, some of the London Liberal Federation has used the bulletin and based a charge of reprisals, so-called, circulated it without any comment. "Display this prominently wherever you can," The High Command (Mr. Asquith) is proud of that federation," Sir Hamar said.

"Enjoy Gang Hospitality," Sir Hamar noted that Mr. Asquith's statement that the United States correspondent has certain knowledge, "the chief secretary," that these enjoy the hospitality of the Irish people in Ireland. The Irish newspaper matter to the States to hurt Anglo-American ship and do their best to damage British Empire.

"I could not use these papers have printed the most notable hood, but the last election in Ireland has been an adequate response. Those who set up the Irish question on an issue rather than Anglo-American friendship were defeated."

Absolutely No Reprisals

As regards the reprisals charged against the Irish people, a single authentic case of a thing called a reprisal having place under an officer. He is instance of soldiers who looted houses and carried off a lieutenant of whom they were fond and had started their heads. Sir Hamar, drew a veil and threatened to kill any who did not cease shooting, a result that the men stopped.

Soldiers more effective. The Crown forces, declared the secretary, were daily growing in force. It was from the fact that they were being murdered, but because they were asserting the right of the Crown. Extracts from a document, he said, had been captured were sent to show the 500 had been spent in organizing headquarters staff of the Republic since July. This, he said, was the control of the murder gang that it was from this centre some cases £100, "per skull" police and military had been sent.

Specific instructions for the security of certain high explosives were discovered, the Chief Secretary declared, and two carefully planned for the destruction of power house in Manchester. The Liverpool case, he said, details were instructions regarding at 21 points, involving the eight hundred pounds of gelatin. Reading other documents of the present policy statement, Sir Hamar quoted from a high Republican source, a very effective method of rapturing the Republican army's movements. The officer said a soldier was creeping in and dissection setting in in many cases officer added that if the force were disrupted, all was lost.

Never Such a Campaign

Sir Hamar concluded by saying that no country in the world had dealt with such a campaign of outrage as England had with Ireland, but said the most was succeeding in its effort to stamp it out. The Star Poles had disappeared, he declared, in back-room meetings for prop the boycott had been broken, sister intimidation was going, striking had ended, and the "publican army" was being broken. The Chief Secretary appealed to show every consideration word and by resolution for the soldiers, civil servants and the declared, were obeyed orders of parliament and gave no support to the Irish people. The tary appealed especially the Catholic church in Ireland, "wielded by appeals from every ally, against this fight against assassination."
