What if ing Members of a Family-A Notable Visit That Was Made Nearly 1900 Years Ago-Rev. Dr. Talmage's Sermen.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Rev. Dr. Tal-mage this morning preached from the text, Luke x, 40: "Lord, dost thou not all the fashions have changed? The house must be an extemporized care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? Bid her therefore that she help apothecary's shop or dispensary. There must be relief for all styles of allments-something to loosen the croup, something to cool the burn, something to poultice the inflammation, something to silence Yender is a beautiful village homestead. The man of the house is dead and his widow has charge of the premises. It is Widow Martha of Bathany. Yes, I will show you also the pet of the house-hold. It is Mary, the younger sister, with a book under her arm, and in her face no sign of care or anxiety about anything. Company has come. Christ ap-pearing at the outside of the door makes some excitement inside the door. The sisters set back the disarranged furniture, arrange their hair and in a flash prepare to open the door. They do not keep Christ waiting outside until they have newly appareled themselves or elaborate ly arranged their tresses, and then with affected surprise come out and pretend ing not to have heard the two or three previous knockings say. "Why, is that you?" Now they were ladies and always presentable, although, perhaps they had not on their best. None of us always have on our best. Otherwise very soon our best would not be worth having on. They throw open the door and greet Christ. They say: "Good morning, Master. Come in and be seated." Christ brought a company of friends with him, and the

with a shattared constitution-after siz weeks' whooping cough has raged in the household, making the aights as sleep-less as the days, then it is not so easy. And then this work of the house has often to be undertaken when the nerves are shuttered with some bereavement that has put desolation in every room of the house and sent the orib into the gar-ret because its occupant has been hushed into a slumber that needs no lullaby. Oh, it was a great deal easter for her to brood the whole flock than to brood a part of them, now that the reak have gone! You may tell her that her departed children are in the bosom of a loving God, but, motherlike, ahs will brood both flocks, putting one wing af care over the flock in the heuse, put the grave. Nothing but the old fashione religion of Jesus Christ can take religion of Jesus Christ can take a woman happily through home triats. All these modern religions amount to nothing. They do not help. They de not comfort when there is a dead habe in the house. Away with them and give us the old fashioned religion of Jesus Christ that has comforted so many in the fays of sorrow and truthel the inflammation, something to means the jumping tooth, something to soothe the earsche. O man of business, if you had as many cares as that, you would be a fit candidate for an insame asylum! If of sorrow and trouble! Romance and novelty may for a little while seem to be a substitute. The marriage day has only gone by, just gone by, and all household cares are atomed for Martha make under such circumstances an impatient rush on the library or the by the joy of being together and by the fact that when it is late at night it is not drawing room, be patient, be lenient. O, my sister, though my words may not arouse in many souls any appreciation of necessary to discuss whether it is time to go. All the mishaps of the newly mar-your toil, let me assure you from the kindliness with which Jesus Christ met ried couple in the way of household affairs are not matters of anxiety or re-Martha that he appreciates all your trials from garret to cellar, and the God of prehension, but merriment. The loaf of bread turned into a geological specimen, the slushy custards and jaundiced and Deborah and Miriam and Abigail is the God of the housekeepers! Christ never married, that he might be the especial measive biscuite! Oh, it is a very brights sunlight that falls upon the cutlery and mantel crnaments of a new home! Romance and novely will do for a little married, that he might be the sepectat friend and confidant of a whole world of troubled womanhood. I blundered. Christ was married. The Bible says the church is "the Bride, the Lamb's wife," while, but after awhile the romance he all gone, and there is a loaf to be made, and that makes me know that a woman and that makes me know that a woman has a right to go to Christ with all her annoyances and perpletities and fatigues, for by his cath of conjugal fidelity he hath sworn to sympathize. George Herb-ert put the thought in three or four verses, quaint and peculiar, but strong, and in one verse saying and sweetened with the new wine of the kingdom and baked in the oven of home trial. God only can make that load. You can cut it, but it takes God to make it. Solomon wrote out of his own miser-able sxperience—he had a wretched Binr Pharsaia. The world hears nothing about them. They never speak about them. You could not with the agonies of an inquisition bring the truth out of them. They keep it still. They say nothing. They endure and will until God and the judgment right their wrongs. "Oh." says some sister, "are you not trying to show that all a woman's life at home is one of self scori-fice?"
