Officials find one source of gratification in assurances given by Baron wiedlinck, charge of the Austro-Hungaran embas-sy, to Secretary of State Lansing dur-ing a conference today at the White House Baron Zwiedlinck is said to have suggested that judgment be suspended until the facts are known and to have expressed the belief that the final ex-planation of the latest incident would be satisfactory. He is said to have as-sured the secretary of his belief that if an Austrian submarine commander vio-lated the principles of international law and the rules of humanity his govern-ment would be quick to take action which would fully satisfy the United States. Was Persia Armed? The report that the liner was carry-ing a 4.7 gun served to revive considera-tion of the position taken by the United States in regard to the armed merchant-men. In the early days of the war it was announced that merchant ships be-tonging to belligerents might be allowed to enter and leave American waters with guns of six-inch calibre or less mounted upon their sterns. At that time cruisers of the Central Powers had not been swept from the seas. Later Great Britain and France, at the suggestion of the United States, agreed that their ships coming into American waters should not be armed, thus eliminating the possibility of a controversy over that point so far as vessels plying out of ports of the United States were con-
