

Sixteenth Annual Report of the WOMEN'S HOME,
 222 BRUNSWICK STREET,

(Incorporated 17th April, 1879.)

Another year has passed away since the last record of the Women's Home, bringing with it a more vital interest in this much needed work, and heartfelt thankfulness for the good accomplished.

A refuge for friendless women and girls is a matter of such necessity, that it would seem superfluous to enlarge upon its worthiness.

The daily papers are constantly bringing before us most harrowing scenes and events in the lives of these unfortunates; homeless! friendless! desperate! they must be led to a better life.

What can better tend to dissatisfy them with their wretchedness than the softening influences of a Christian Home, and it is, to such a Home, with these aims only in view, that we would ask your kind attention.

Forty-three women and girls have been received into the Home during the year, six months being the time prescribed for their residence there.

They have, as in former years, been taught laundry and house-work and most valuable service in this line has been rendered by our zealous matron Miss Bentley.

A service is held each Sunday afternoon by our
