preferred not to make any seeming request in the matter, and therefore never wrote. I explained the circumstances to Col. McCook, and he may take the matter up with Mr. Carnegie later on.

You will be getting out notices of Christmas books. Do you think there will be a chance of giving this little volume another try for the for the present season? For obvious reasons I should like to get past the 3,000 mark.

I am sending you a few reports that I have recently prepared, in order that you may know I have not been idle since we last corresponded. You will, I think, be specially interested in the opium report more especially as it was followed at the last session of our parliament by legislation prohibiting the importation, manufacture and sale of opium for other than medicinal purposes.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,
