

turf, or even bones; but when they need shelter suddenly they build a round hut of snow. They use dogs to draw their sleighs, which are made of bones, bound together with the sinews of animals; and they make curious light boats, called kyacks, covered with skin, in which they go to hunt the seals and walruses.

INDIAN WAR CLUBS.