the writer is able to give the following details of the Red Cross work that Canada is doing. The Mount Vernon Hospital at Hampstead was for a time officered by Canadian doetors and nurses who have since been ordered to France. Here it should be said that some 300 Canadian nurses have come over as part of the Canadian Army Medical Corps. These nurses—Nursing Sisters is their proper title—have the honorary rank of Lieutenant; and in their smart uniform, which is thoroughly military in appearance, the two stars on the shoulder indicate their rank.

The Canadian Army Medical Corps, in command of which is General Carlton Jones, has taken over Moore Barracks, Shorneliffe Camp, and fitted it up to take in 700 patients. Other hospitals in which Canadians are interested are :

The Duehess of Connaught's Canadian Red Cross Hospital is situated at Cliveden, Taplow, which was kindly lent by Mr. and Mrs. Astor. The hospital was equipped by the Canadian Red Cross Society, and is maintained by Canadian funds. This hospital, which has for some time been receiving wounded soldiers, is being enlarged to the capacity of 500 beds.

The Queen's Canadian Hospital, Shorncliffe, which is maintained by the Canadian War Contingent Association (a body of London Canadians), which equipped it. The building was generously provided by Sir Arthur and Lady Markham. Sir William Osler and Mr. Donald Armour are in charge, and the nurses are all Canadians.

The women in Canada have provided the Canadian Women's Hospital with 100 beds as an addition to the Naval Hospital at Haslar, and have furnished forty motor ambulance cars.

The Hospital at Le Touquet, though equipped and
