My Lords and Gentlemen,

It is with great satisfaction that I am enabled to fairm you that throughout the whole of my West India possessions, the period fixed by law for the final and complete emancipation of the necroes has been anticipated by acts of the colonial legislatures, and that the transition from the temporary system of apprenticeship to entire freeden has taken place without any disturbance of public order and tranquility. Any measures which may be necessary in order to give full effect to this great and beneficial change, will, I have no doubt, receive your careful attention.

Addresses in reply to the speech were moved in the House of Lords by Lord Lovelace, and in the Commons by Mr. E. Buller. The movers and seconders each alluded to the corn law subject in a manner which invicated an expectation that the subject would come under the come deration of Paritament, and implying that a modification of the Law was saticipated.

In the Commons, Mr. Villiers gave notice of a motion that evidence be received at the bar of the House in support of the petitions for a total repeal of the law relating to the importation of foreign grain.

THE CANADIAN PRISONERS .- Mr. Hill & Mr. THE CASABIAN PRISONERS.—Mr. Hill & Mr. Roebuck have made an application to the judges of the Count of Exerciver, smillar to that just dismissed by the Count of Queen's Bench. The opinion of Lord Abinger and the barons seems decidedly against the application, but as the arguments of counsel were not concluded when the court rose on Wedneslay, the further hearing is postponed till next term, which commences on the 15th of April, about eleven weeks hence; and if all the inferior courts are to have their turn, and give them a hearing, like the Court of Exchequer, the discussion may be carried on to the end of the year.
