Lord Russell, in the early part of his career, was in court during the trial of a case of bigamy, and one of the counsel in the case, turning to him, asked, in a hurried whisper, "Russell, what's the extreme penalty for bigamy?" "Two mothers-in-law," was the witty reply.

Our Senior Beavers.

[For all pupils from Senior Third to Continuation Classes, inclusive.]

One, Two, Three.

It was an old, old, old lady,
And a boy who was half-past three;
And the way that they played together
Was beautiful to see.

She couldn't go running and jumping,
And the boy, no more could he,
For he was a thin little fellow,
With a thin little twisted knee.

They sat in the yellow sunlight,
Out under the maple tree;
And the game that they played I'll tell you
Just as it was told to me.

It was hide-and-go-seek they were playing,
Though you'd never have known it to be—
With an old, old, old, old lady,
And a boy with a twisted knee.

The boy would bend his face down
On his one little sound right knee,
And he'd guess where she was hiding,
In guesses One, Two, Three!

"You are in the china closet!"
He would cry and laugh with glee—
It wasn't the china closet;
But he still had Two and Three.

"You were up in papa's big bedroom,
In the chest with the queer old key!"
And she said: "You are warm and warmer,
But you're not quite right," said she.

"It can't be the little cupboard
Where mamma's things used to be—
So it must be the clothespress, gran'ma,"
And he found her with his Three.

Then she covered her face with her fingers,
They were wrinkled and white and wee,
And she guessed where the boy was hiding,
With a One and a Two and a Three.

And they had never stirred from their places
Right under the maple tree—
This old, old, old, old lady

And the boy with the lame little knee—
This dear, dear, dear old lady
And the boy who was half-past three.

—H. C. Bunker.

Funnies.

James started his third helping of pudding with delight.

"Once upon a time, James, admonished his mother, 'there was a little boy who ate too much pudding, and he burst.'"

James considered. "There ain't no such a thing as too much pudding," he decided.

"There must be," continued his mother, "else why did the little boy burst?"

James passed his plate for the fourth time, saying, "Not enough boy."

Bridget (to lady of the house)—"Axin' yure pardon, mum, but might I be afther askin' phwat thim things is in the picture?"

Mistress—"Certainly. Those are cherubs."

Bridget—"Indade! an' thin we was both wrong. I says they was twins, but Nora would 'ab it they was bats."—The Waterbury.

Senior Beavers' Letter Box.

Dear Puck and Beavers,—Oh, Puck, I was so overjoyed to see my letter printed, and the kind invitation to come again and tell about the history, etc., of Quebec, I thought the best thing to do was to send you a copy of an essay I wrote at school, for which I got first prize, which was a handsome picture of the Sacred Heart. Well, here it is:

NARRATIVE OF THE HISTORY OF QUEBEC FROM 1608-1914.

Quebec was founded by Samuel de Champlain, on July 3, 1608. It was so called because, as Champlain sailed up the St. Lawrence he noticed Cape Diamond penetrating into the water, and
