My New
Importation of

Clydesdales & Hackneys

Have just arrived in their own stables. I want to point out to the breeders of Ontario, Manitoba, British Columbia, that without doubt I have the best consignment of Clydesdales and Hackneys that I have ever handled. Compare the best lot ever brought by one importer to Canada. My Clydesdales consist of stallions aged 3, 4 and 5 years. Fillies aged 1, 2 and 3 years. Hackneys are 2, 4 and 5 years old. Many of them were prizewinners this year and last in some of the leading shows in Scotland and England. Parties wishing anything in my line will save money by seeing my stock and getting prices before buying elsewhere.

THE SALE-KILLER.

One of the meanest men in the livestock trade is the sale-killer. This fellow attends a public sale for the express purpose of taking buyers away from it to his own herd or flock, and he is always ready with derogatory remarks about the stock offered, tales of how much better stuff he has, its cheapness, etc. Many a good breeder who has advertised a sale, offered stock which was up to or exceeding his representations, gathered a crowd of prospective buyers, entertained them at considerable expense and trouble, has had to see some of them enticed away or kept from bidding by the sale-killer.

A man who will thus injure another to benefit himself is no better than a thief, for he virtually steals what the holder of the sale has paid for, his advertising and his prospective bidders. This is not written in the hope or expectation that it will have any effect on the sale-killer or anyone of like character. Such men are beyond the reach of everything except divine power to make them honorable. But it is written to put others on guard against such men as sale-killers. Don't pay any attention to them, and above all don't believe them or patronize them.

Men of this kind are not to be trusted, they are as likely to be dishonorable in one thing as another, and they lack the sense of honor which is the very foundation of the business of breeding pure-bred live stock. We have always admired a certain breeder who was asked to price some stock at a neighbor's sale and replied that he would not discuss that matter until after the sale; and he lost nothing in the end by his course. This may be an extreme instance; but it is an example worthy of imitation.—[National Stockman.]
