The Smith of Ragenbach.

In the Principality of Hohenlohe, Taugenburg, is a village called Ragenbach, Barnes Notes on N. T. (Harpers), where about twenty years ago the following heart-rending but also heroic event took place. One afternoon in the early spring or autumn, my kind informant did not exactly know which, in the tavern-room of Ragenbach, several men and women having assembled from the village sat at their case, none anticipating what would happen on Bunsen (Chevaliers) Signs of the that eventful day. The smith formed one of the merry company, a strong vigorous Boatman's Daughter, man, with a resolute countenance and dar- Bunyan's Holy War, ing mean, but also with such a good natur- Boys' 2nd Help to Reading ed smile upon his lips that every one who Beauties of Modern Sacred Poetry, saw him admired him. Every evil disposed Bishop's Daughter, The person shunned him, for the valiant smith Book and its Story, would allow nothing wrong in his presence, Bonar's Truth and Error and it was not advisable to have anything to do with him except in a proper manner. His arms were like bars of iron, and his fists like forge hammers, so that few could equal his strength of body. The brave smith sat near the door chatting with one of his neighbors, I know not what: all at once the door aprang open, and a large dog came staggering into the room, a great strong powerful beast, with a ferocious, frightful aspect, his head was hanging down and his eyes bloodshot, his red colored tongue hanging half way out of his mouth, and his tail dropped between his Blatch's Historical Confirmation, legs. Thus the ferocious beast entered the Benevolent Character, room, out of which there was no escape but by one door. Scarcely had the smith's neighbor, who was bath-keeper of the place, seen the animal, when he became deathly pale, sprang up and exclaimed with a horrid voice, "Good Heaven, the dog is mad !"

Then rose an outcry! The room was Curiosities of Animal Life, full of men and women, and the foaming beast stood before the only entrance; no one could leave without passing him. He snapped savagely right and left and no one could leave without being bitten. This increased the horrible confusion. All sprang up Cruden's Concordance, (Kings,) izing countenances. Who should deliver them from him? The smith also stood among them, and as he saw the anguish of the people, it flashed across his mind how many of his happy and contented neighbors would be made miserable by a mad dog, and he formed a resolution the like of which Cottage do., is scarcely to be found in the history of the human race for high-mindedness and nobleness. Certainly his brown cheek paled a Charlotte Elizabeth's Works, 2 little, but his eyes sparkled with divine fire, and an elevated resolution shone from the Childhood,

Brief History of the Russia Salve.

About the year 1818, a Russian, who had served as a soldier in the Imperial army, during the disastrous cempaige of Napoleon, arrived in Boston from Cronstadt, and shortly got work at his trade, (a currier) in Charicstown mear Rodon. He was soon after taken set — and during his filines he was attended by a kind heart to ergoman of that town, who did at in his power for the relief of the poor Russian. Though the grew worse every day, the benevolent dergyman did not abate his kindness, but was more and more attentive; and at last, when the Russian Fit that he was soon to die, he motioned his benefactor to his bedsade, thansed him for his kindness, and as the only return he could make, presented him with the recipe of a remarkable Gintment, which had been used with great success by the surgenoss of the Russian army the clergyman prepared a small quantity, and was convinced of its great value, but dying soon after, his family disposed of the recipe to Mr. Redding, who gave it the name of "Ribbino's Russia Salve".

Such is the history of the introduction of Redding's Russia Salve to the American public. Its excellent home qualities in curing and healing where other remedies have failed—in no instance doing nigny, but always doing good—have won its way into public favor, until now, when the Proprietors can beast of the patronage of every community upon this continent—in short of every intelligent people who read a newspaper.

The first great and distinguishing feature of Redding's Russia Salve Unitment is its power to reduce Inflammation. It is vain to hope for relief, or for cure in any complaint, unless the inflammation attending it be conquered or cooled down. Nature will not give healing or healin to any part or function of the tody while throbbing of fret-Brief History of the Russia Salve.
