The Collapse of the Wall.

Nothing could prevent the McDona'd building from being gutted, and the flames were bursting from the side and rear in a threatening manner.

At 11.30 just when it seemed as if the fire had been subdued, for the flames had died down, one of the side walls of the McDonald building gave way, almost without warning, and fell outward, just where there was a long line of firemen at work.

the other firemen turned their attention from the burning building to the ruins which covered so many of their comrades.

Death of the Eminent English Scientist—
An Outline of His Life.
London, June 30.—Prof. Huxley died at 3,45 pm, yesterday. The death of Prof.
Huxley was very peaceful and quiet, being perfectly in keeping with the retirement which he sought when he took up his residence near Eastbourne. Failing health first became noticeable about March ist. Bronchitis followed an attack of influensa. The lungs and kidneys were then affected, He rallied several times, but two weeks ago sustained a severe relapse, and since that time there was no hope for permanent improvement. His wife and daughter were present at his death-bed, but his son artived too late. During his dying moments Prof. Huxley displayed great fortitude and resignation. th of the Eminent English Scientis

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mr. Mills, on motion that the House again go into Committee of Supply, moved in amendment that "This House declares that "since 1880 the public expenditure has increased, is increasing, and ought to be diminished." The expenditure, he contended, was far out of proportion to the wealth and resources of the country. The public debt had grown from $60,040,000 in 1887 to $808,248,000 in the present year. The growth of taxastion had been excessive compared with the growth of population.

Mr. Daly likened the hon, gentleman to Rip Van Winkle. Some eixteen years ago the hon, gentleman had presided for a few months over the Department of the Interior, and concluded that the department had not progressed since then. The statements and arguments of the hon, gentleman contradicted the policy of the Government of which he was a member. In Ontario there were now only three Indian superintendents, whereas in the hon, gentleman's term of office there were five. In a like manner the number of other Indian officials in other provinces. non. gentleman's term were five. In a like man

Help from Sister Cities.

He wired across the bay to Oakland and Alameda, and each of the sister cities sent two engines.

They were located along the water-fromt, and used as pumps to supply water from the bay.

The Southern Pacific pumps had lines of hose connected, and did good service in bringing salt water to supply the fast weakening fresh water mains.

A strong wind was blowing from the west, and fanned the flames across the broad streets, sweeping everything in its path.

A Wall Stops the Sweep of Flames.

At 9.45 o'clock the fire was under control. The high brick wall of the deserted Southern Pacific offices at Fourth and Townsend streets acted as a barrier, over which the flames could not work.

The water furnished from the Bay by the Oakland engines and Southern Pacific pumps soon had the outer edge of the fire subdued.

Inspector of Stores.

Sir Adolphe Caron, in answer to Mr.
Mills (Bothwell), said Lieut. Col. John Gray was appointed inspector of stores by the order-in-Council of January 3ist, 1895.
He was appointed superintendent of stores in August 22nd, 1893. His duties as superintendent were to take charge of all military stores at the headquarters of his military district, being hald responsible for all re-sipts and issue of clothing and stores, and for the proper discharge of all duties assigned to the storemen and laborers under his control, and to make such returns as were called for from time to time by the department. His present salary was $1,200. He received also lodging allowance and $1, per diem.

Sugar Island.

Sugar Island.

Mr. Daly, in answer to Mr. Grieve, said Sugar Island, in the Thousand Islands, about six miles east of Gananoque, was sold on July 2th, 1894, to Alexander Ferugson for $900.

Bishop Gravel's Letter, Mr. Foster, in answer to Mr. Hughes, said the attention of the Government had not been drawn to the recently published communication of Bishop Gravel, of Nicolet. It was not the intention of the Nicolet. It was not the intention of the Canadian Government to direct the attention of the Government of Great Britain and Ireland to the communicatio, neither did the Government propose to ascertain how far Bishop Gravel, the Sacred Congregation for the Papagation of the Faith, and Cardinal Vaughan were successful in their endeavor to improperly influence the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council of Great Britain and Ireland.

RUN INTO BY A TRAIN.

The Occupants of an Electric Car Have a Narrow Escape—One Man May Die.

The lives of thirty people were miraculously saved at Pittsburg, Pa., on Friday last only by the remarkable stop of a fast freight train on the West Penn rails, way, near the Sharpsburg bridge. Five persons were injured and one may die.

The accident was caused by the freight train striking a trolley car of the Sharpsburg and Citzens' line on a crossing. The trollay pole dropped from the wire just as the car got fairly on the West Penn rails, leaving the ear in darkness and helpless. While Conductor Lindsay was endeavoring to replace the trolley pole the train approached at full speed. There was ascamble among the passengers, and meart, ly all got out. Engineer Black, of the freight, saw the car reversed his engine, making a remarkable stop, not, however, in the first of the processing the motorman, Daniel Nolan, and four passengers were injured.

St. Louis Case.

Mr. M'Mullen called attention to the postponement of the St. Louis case in the Exchequer Court, and asked whether this had been done at the instance of the Government.

Sir Charles H. Tup — said the case had probably been adjourned to enable the judge to keep other appointments on his circuit. The counsel tor the Crown had neither requested nor obtained special fratructions in the case.

Public Buildings.

On the item of $5,000 for the Marysville public building, Sir Richard Cartwright enquired what he amount was intended to make provision for.

Mr Oulmet said it was towards a building that would cost about $7,000.

Sir Richard Cartwright said there was no more useless waste of money than to stud these little "two-penny villages with public buildings."
