

SHARP ATTACK REPULSED

Dangerous Condition Relieved Just in Time by "Fruit-a-lives"

MR. F. J. CAVEEN
632 Gerrard St. East, Toronto,
For two years, I was a victim of acute indigestion and gas in the stomach. It afterwards attacked my heart, and I had pains all over the body, so I could hardly move around. I tried all kinds of medicines but none of them did me any good. At last, acting on the advice of a friend, I decided to try "Fruit-a-lives". I bought the first box last June, and now I am well, after using only three boxes. I recommend "Fruit-a-lives" to anyone suffering from indigestion, no matter how acute". FRED J. CAVEEN.
Simple indigestion often leads to heart attacks, catarrh of the stomach and constant distress of mind and body. If you are bothered with any Stomach Trouble, and especially if Constipation troubles you, take "Fruit-a-lives". 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

Faith and Courage.

You that have faith to look with fearless eyes
Beyond the tragedy of a world of strife,
And trust that out of night and death shall rise
The dawn of ampler life.
Rejoice, whatever anguish rend your heart,
That God has given you, for a priceless dower,
To live in these great times and have your part
In Freedom's crowning hour.
That you may tell your sons who see the light
High up in heaven, their heritage to take:
"I saw the powers of darkness put to flight!
I saw the morning break!"

A Hundred Million.

A hundred million dollars is too much for the mind to grasp, and yet that is what the people of Canada paid for intoxicating liquors in 1914. A hundred million dollars would give every family, rich and poor, in Canada seventy dollars. Politicians have spent months of time and thousands of dollars squabbling over the expenditure of a little over a third of that sum to build a navy to defend our country. A hundred million—why, that would probably finance Canada's share in the great war. We talk about being hard up. Money is being borrowed in large sums to develop our resources and the national debt keeps piling up, and the money spent in drink would save all that and leave a balance to pay our debts. And that immense sum is spent for what? Even a liquor call is an "extraneous and a luxury."
But a hundred million is only one-half of the cost of drink. Wise men who have made a study of finance tell us that every dollar spent in drink causes a dollar's worth of loss and waste and damage to life and property.
So the cost of the liquor traffic to Canada in 1914 was nearer two hundred million. The immense drain on the finances of the country accounts for a good many things that are hard to understand.
What does the country get from the expenditure of that immense sum of money and the degradation and ruin of thousands every year? The aggregate Dominion, Provincial and Municipal revenues from this traffic is less than twenty million. That is, to get one dollar we spend ten and do untold damage to the people. No wonder Russia can finance this great war without distress to her people.
The fact is that nearly every one is poorer than he would otherwise be because of this traffic. I am quite satisfied that our taxes could be lowered from 30 to 50 per cent, if we were rid of this immense tax maker. I can give the names of a large number of towns and cities that have lowered their tax rate after prohibition. Kansas city saved three hundred thousand dollars a year by closing the drinking places.

Monsieur.—For 15 days in the month of January, I was suffering with pain of rheumatism in the foot. I tried all kinds of remedies but nothing did me any good. One person told me about MINARD'S LINIMENT, so soon as I tried it the Saturday night, the next morning I was feeling very good. I tell you this remedy is very good. I could give you a good certificate any time that you would like to have one. If any time I come to hear about any person sick of rheumatism, I could tell them about this remedy.
Yours truly,

Are You Happy?

How's your conscience? All right? Good! Then you're all right. Keep it right, and you'll keep up right. Keep it clear and you'll keep clear of unhappiness.
Don't mess about with the work let it be the accurate measure of right and wrong; a stern standard to measure conduct; a check; a brake.
Let your conscience have perfect freedom of speech. If it doesn't reproach you, you have nothing to reproach yourself with. Nor have others. A clear conscience means an open life.
What is conscience? No definition is needed. You may call it the inward monitor, the still small voice; the voice of God; what you will.
A nuisance if you like. It's there, and unless you feed it with excises, or kill it with neglect, it will tell you the truth, always. To be approved by conscience is praise indeed, and reward enough.
A working conscience is an asset, too. None of us want to do business with the man who we hear has "no conscience" do we? It means that he has no inward tribunal to pass judgment on his act. He's "conscienceless," and so a man to be afraid of.
A clear conscience is a precious possession, and beats a bank balance. It means that you can look back over your life and see that your life has been straight, and your actions devoid of crookedness. It doesn't mean that you haven't made mistakes, but that in life's battle you were a clean fighter.
That's everything, for a reward peace is better than wrong gotten prosperity and a conscience that gives you no peace. You see, it is quite permissible to pass other men, if you wish to "get on," but it's as just conscience to kick other men down. And if you get to the top by foul means you do not go alone. You've a troubled conscience to keep you company.
Give your conscience freedom to speak. It is quite possible to silence the still, small voice, but the loss is irreparable. With no conscience to check you, you are loose on the word like a beast with nothing to limit your law and your own interests. And neither of those is equal to the check of a good working conscience.
Cultivate your conscience, then. When it "pricks," halt. When it rubs, listen; and undo the wrong, the shabby trick, that you have done or thought of doing.
Be thankful that in the scheme of things as Providence has settled them, there is, quite apart from the laws of men, something mysterious, irrefutable, which instantly tells us when we are offending against the unwritten law, that which is right, is right, and that which is wrong is wrong. A good conscience lives in a good man, and has made him good in all the harsh and hurried judgments of the world there is one supreme consolation which keeps a man up—"a clear conscience."

Fell in a Faint.

Mrs. Edwin Martin, Ayer's Cliff, Que., writes: "Before using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I was in a terrible condition. Dizzy spells would come over me and I would fall to the floor. I could not sleep without fainting. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has so built up my system that I can wash and do my housework. Your medicine cured me when doctors had failed."

Useful Hints.

When making pancakes batter, use water instead of milk. You will find the cakes lighter and better than when made with milk.
Desiccated (dried) milk when properly prepared, has been shown to be a very useful adjunct to the various artificial foods for infants.
Paint marks on wood are often most unsightly, but they are endured because people are seldom aware how easy it is to remove them. To do so spread over the marks a thick paste of lime and soda mixed with water. Leave 24 hours, then wash off.
Do not suffer another day with itching, blood, or any other ailment. No artificial operations required, and as certainly cure you, in a few days, all forms of PILES, Hemorrhoids, etc. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose ten stamps to pay postage.

Italy has fallen into line with other countries at war in handling the liquor problem.

On August 22nd the authorities withdrew 1,300 licenses to sell alcoholic drinks, initiating a campaign against alcoholism. Many bars, inns, saloons and refreshment houses have closed.
Men live longer, work harder, and live more healthfully who do not drink alcohol in what is generally spoken of as moderation. William Carter, M. D., B.Sc., etc.

SHOULD BAD SERVANT HAVE REFERENCES?

Knotty Problem Confronts Well-meaning Housewives—Detailed Facts Are Best

A woman received a letter from another asking for information as to whether or not the maid who was leaving the recipient of the letter was honest, clean and obliging. As a matter of fact, the woman possessed all these qualifications, but was addicted to drinking alcohol. At times her manner was absolutely hilarious, although she had never been known to neglect her duties. The question arises: "Was the 'reference' justified in withholding from the prospective employer the woman's weakness?"
If the new place is one where the mistress is ever vigilant in looking after her home, the falling might not prove a stumbling block, but in any circumstances it would be best for the fresh employer to know, because then she could be on her guard in case of accidents. If, on the other hand, the girl is required in a household where there are young children or where certain responsibilities devolve upon her, then, to say nothing about her fondness for drink would be absolutely criminal. Perhaps the possibility of having to give a girl a reference is one of the strongest objections to letting her into the secrets of the home. I know many mistresses, says a woman writer, who have sent their former servants to a new mistress with the character of an angel, largely because they were afraid if they did not do so the girl might reveal some of the family secrets in sheer spite.
Hard to be Fair
True, a woman will often speak better of a girl than she deserves for fear a true character would prevent her from getting a fresh place, and from some points of view this is excusable and commendable, but in doing a great injustice to the new mistress. Still, we should be particularly careful before making mountains out of molehills, and transforming a human weakness into an actual fault, for with the best intention in the world it is difficult to eliminate personal prejudice between mistress and maid. "She's the most annoying girl I've ever had. It doesn't matter how we are rushed or what extra haste to be done, 'Mary' will go on in her own methodical way, cleaning every crevice and corner," is what I heard one lady say of a certain girl, who, after a while transferred her service to another of my friends who was of an entirely different temperament. This is what she said of "Mary": "The girl's a perfect treasure. No matter what I tell her to do I know it is done thoroughly. If the children, my husband, or even myself went on our bended knees for something, I don't think she would leave the work she was doing until it was completed. That's the kind of maid I like."

The Whole Truth

This, to me, is conclusive proof of the wisdom of giving a fairly detailed character. It would prevent much chopping and changing, which goes far towards ruining the reputations of mistresses and maids. "Tell me of her failings. They will not prejudice me against her; but if they are such as I can bear with patience I will try to guard against them." That is what a wise mistress will say in asking for a recommendation, and the woman who doesn't answer truthfully should be punished by the law.
It was only a few months back that a certain woman gave the girl who was leaving her an almost perfect recommendation. Yet she knew quite well that the girl was not what might be termed strictly honest. She had been found taking food home. This, however, the former mistress had overlooked, as she was essentially human. The girl tried the same thing on in her new place, and was prosecuted and sent to prison. The new mistress was harder in her judgment.

SEWING-ROOM SYSTEM

It Saves Time For the Busy Housewife—Some Pointers
System counts in the sewing room just as much as it does in any other department of house-keeping. The systematic house-keeper finishes each garment before it leaves the sewing room. Experience has taught her that it doesn't pay to put away half-finished undergarments or little dresses or household linens.
It's well for the seamstress to know that the warp of any goods is the threads that follow the selvage; this is stronger than the woof or weft. The woof is the loosely woven threads that are woven from side to side.
With all goods in which the nap or pile is prominent great care must be taken to cut the garment, so when worn the nap lies smoothly when being stroked from top to bottom. Garments thus made will not soil as readily as if the nap falls in the wrong direction.

For the GIRL WHO IS THIN

It is all very well for fleshy people to admire a slim figure, but no girl likes to be referred to as "thin as a match" or "flat as an ironing-board."
Thinness means that the tissues are not properly fed and nourished. It indicates a tendency towards anaemia, which must be overcome in its early stages. You may eat plenty of food, but you are losing weight, and with it reserve force. The blood has got thin and watery.
It is usually the nervously energetic girl or woman who wears herself down by worry and anxiety, until the nerves become irritable and the form emaciated.
This condition never rights itself, and for this reason you must seek external assistance, such as is found in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This treatment should not be confused with fattening, oil-cooped preparations. It is rather a true tonic, which sharpens the appetite, improves digestion and restores richness to the blood. Through the medium of the blood it feeds and nourishes the starved cells and tissues back to health.
Under this restorative, upbuilding treatment the angles disappear, and the form is rounded out to healthy proportions. The new tissues formed are strong and firm, and give to the body the buoyancy and vigor which makes you look well and feel well. Nervous headaches and indigestion disappear, and you feel again the joy of living. You can prove the benefit obtained by noting each week your increase in weight.
