VON HINDENBURG

Field-Marshal Von Hindenburg, whom the Prussian junkers are trying to boom for president in the hope that in that office he might spring a coup d'etat and restore the monarchy, is still trying to galvanize the corpse of Prussian militarism. Addressing a delegation of students who serenaded him on the fifth anniversary of the Battle of Tannenberg in East Prussia, the victory of which was presented to him by the Czarina, Soukhomlinoff, Steurmeyer and their pro-German cabal at Petrograd, he urged them to renew the spirit of that day. "We must hold on," he said, "to this spirit in the sad days which are now overcoming us; we must not lose courage because the parliaments of society and the helots are our enemies. We must again become that which we once were, when in Versailles the new German Empire was proclaimed, I being among those permitted to join the first cheers for the Emperor."

Von Hindenburg's words are interesting because they reflect the mentality of those Prussians who still cherish the idea that what has happened and is happening to Germany is a form of nightmare which has not passed away. They have not grasped, and cannot grasp, what has taken place. To them the "sad days which are now overcoming us" have no relation to the hecatomb of German dead and the material and spiritual bankruptcy of what once was the German Empire, but mean the misfortune which transformed the German nation from the "parlours of society and the helots" into the enemies of the Prussian demi-god, Von Hindenburg, who sent hundreds of thousands of the flower of German manhood to slaughter and forced the adoption by Germany of unrestricted submarine warfare, deplores these unregenerate days because the temple of Prussianism is defiled by the awakened democracy of his country. Ebert rules at Weimar as president of a German republic; Hohenzollern is an exile in Holland and Potsdam no longer responds to the rattling of the sabre. The leaders of present-day Germany are in civilian garb and nobody cringes when a Kaiser officer arrogantly struts along the Wilhelmstrasse. Gone are the halcyon days when the "parlours of society and the helots" knew the places for which Heaven, through its self-styled deputy on the German imperial throne, had ordained them.

BRITISH EMPIRE FOR BRITISH

Roman pay $1 for German goods, made by the hands that had slain her husband, her son, her sweetheart or her brother, when the same article could be bought quite as cheaply and made within the British Empire? Rather than the indemnity should be paid by such means, Mr. Jones declared, that the Empire would do better to forego it altogether, and to let Germany grind and grind and sweat to find the money, as she had made Belgium and France grind and sweat. And then too, said Mr. Jones, the time had come to stop the too easy importation of foreigners into this and other parts of the Empire. The British Empire from this time forth should be British for the British, and if Canada would give a friendly hand to the thousands who would be seeking a new home here, in the near future, a vast amount of good would be accomplished. No less than 8 million of Britishers had emigrated to the United States during the past few decades, and what a country these people could have made of Canada could they have been induced to settle here instead.

At the conclusion of Mr. Jones' address a very hearty vote of thanks was tendered to him by the chairman on the motion of Mr. Rudd, and the singing of the National Anthem provided a most fitting termination to one of the most stirring patriotic addresses which have ever been delivered in Nanaimo.

CITY COUNCIL IN SESSION

made to the South Forks pipe line near the intake at an estimated cost of $250 was adopted on motion of Ald. Matthews, seconded by Ald. Rowan.

The application of James Scott for permission to install a gasoline tank and curb pump on Lot 11, Block 9, Haliburton street, was reported favourably upon by the Streets and Fire Warden Committees, the report being adopted by the Council.

Fire Chief Parkin reported three fires during the month of August, and Street Manager McKenzie reported an expenditure in wages during the week of $233.75; Water Works Manager Shepherd reporting an expenditure of $97.96.

Vancouver Passenger Rate. The communication from Mr. W. H. Brodie, general passenger agent of the C.P.R. regarding the weekend passenger rate between Nanaimo and Vancouver, was taken from the table for consideration.

Ald. McGuckie remarked Nanaimo was being discriminated against by the C. P. R., in the matter of weekend rates and expressed the opinion Mr. Brodie had evaded the question in his reply to the Council. He moved the communication be received and filed, and Mr. Brodie asked for an explanation of his statement that conditions were different in Nanaimo than in Vancouver, and called for a different rate.

Ald. Matthews thought Nanaimo should enjoy the same concessions

Concerning Your Fall Shoes

If you would secure service and satisfaction from your shoes this Fall, it is more than ever important that you should go to a reputable dealer in whom you have confidence, and see that the maker's trademark is on the shoes you buy. This for the reason that leather is now scarcer than at any time during the war, prices are higher, and some grades of leather are to-day almost unobtainable at any price.

Millions of pairs of shoes, millions of feet of leather, have been bought for the Nations of Europe whose stocks of footwear were entirely wiped out by the war. This has more than offset the reduction in demand for army shoes. And coming upon a supply of material which was already scarce, it has resulted in a situation which, for the time being, is serious.

Therefore, unless you have first-hand technical knowledge of shoes and leather, you must rely more closely than ever this Fall upon the reputation of the maker and of the retailer.

The retailer who has a reputation to sustain will not endanger it for the sake of a little extra profit. And no established manufacturer will stamp his trade mark upon goods which do not represent good value at a fair price.

The chances are that you do not feel any great interest in the leather market, or in the conditions which govern the manufacture and distribution of shoes. But you ARE interested—vitally interested—in securing for yourself and your family reliable footwear at fair prices. And the value which you receive for your hard-earned dollars is inexorably determined by those same conditions which govern what we call the shoe trade. You cannot control them, any more than we can. But you CAN control your method of buying, so as to get the greatest possible value for every dollar you spend.

So we think it only just and proper to tell you, at the commencement of each season, what the conditions really are, so that you may base your buying judgment upon them.

To Buy Wisely This Fall:

FIRST: Go to a reliable dealer whose reputation you know and whose judgment you can trust: and SECOND: Make sure that the trade mark of a manufacturer whose standing is known is stamped upon the shoes you buy.

Our booklet, "How to Buy Shoes," is gladly sent without charge to any address in Canada. Please address inquiries to our head office at Montreal.

some places ashes and tins and seemingly no person's business to remove them. Most of this matter has been thrown out by careless and indifferent people who seem to think the public streets are the best places to throw such things which if kept in their own premises would very soon become a nuisance and a menace to the public health.

I would particularly draw your attention to Commercial, Wallace and Haliburton streets, where papers, manure, spatum, etc., are all swept together and piled in heaps until removed by the waggon some days later, being exposed to the heat it is soon dried and should a wind arise it is blown all around, not only that, but flies breed more readily in manure than in any other substance and flies are great carriers of disease, especially typhoid fever and if we are to prevent a possible outbreak of typhoid this practice should be promptly discontinued.

My attention was drawn to Commercial street on Saturday which had not been swept for two days and a breeze began to blow the unswept matter over the sidewalks and into shops which is very harmful, especially to grocers. This might be avoided by sprinkling.

Vigorous application of Section 4 of the Sewer Bylaw (No. 28) would overcome the nuisances where a sewer exists.

Some years ago I recommended a system of collection and disposal of

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.
